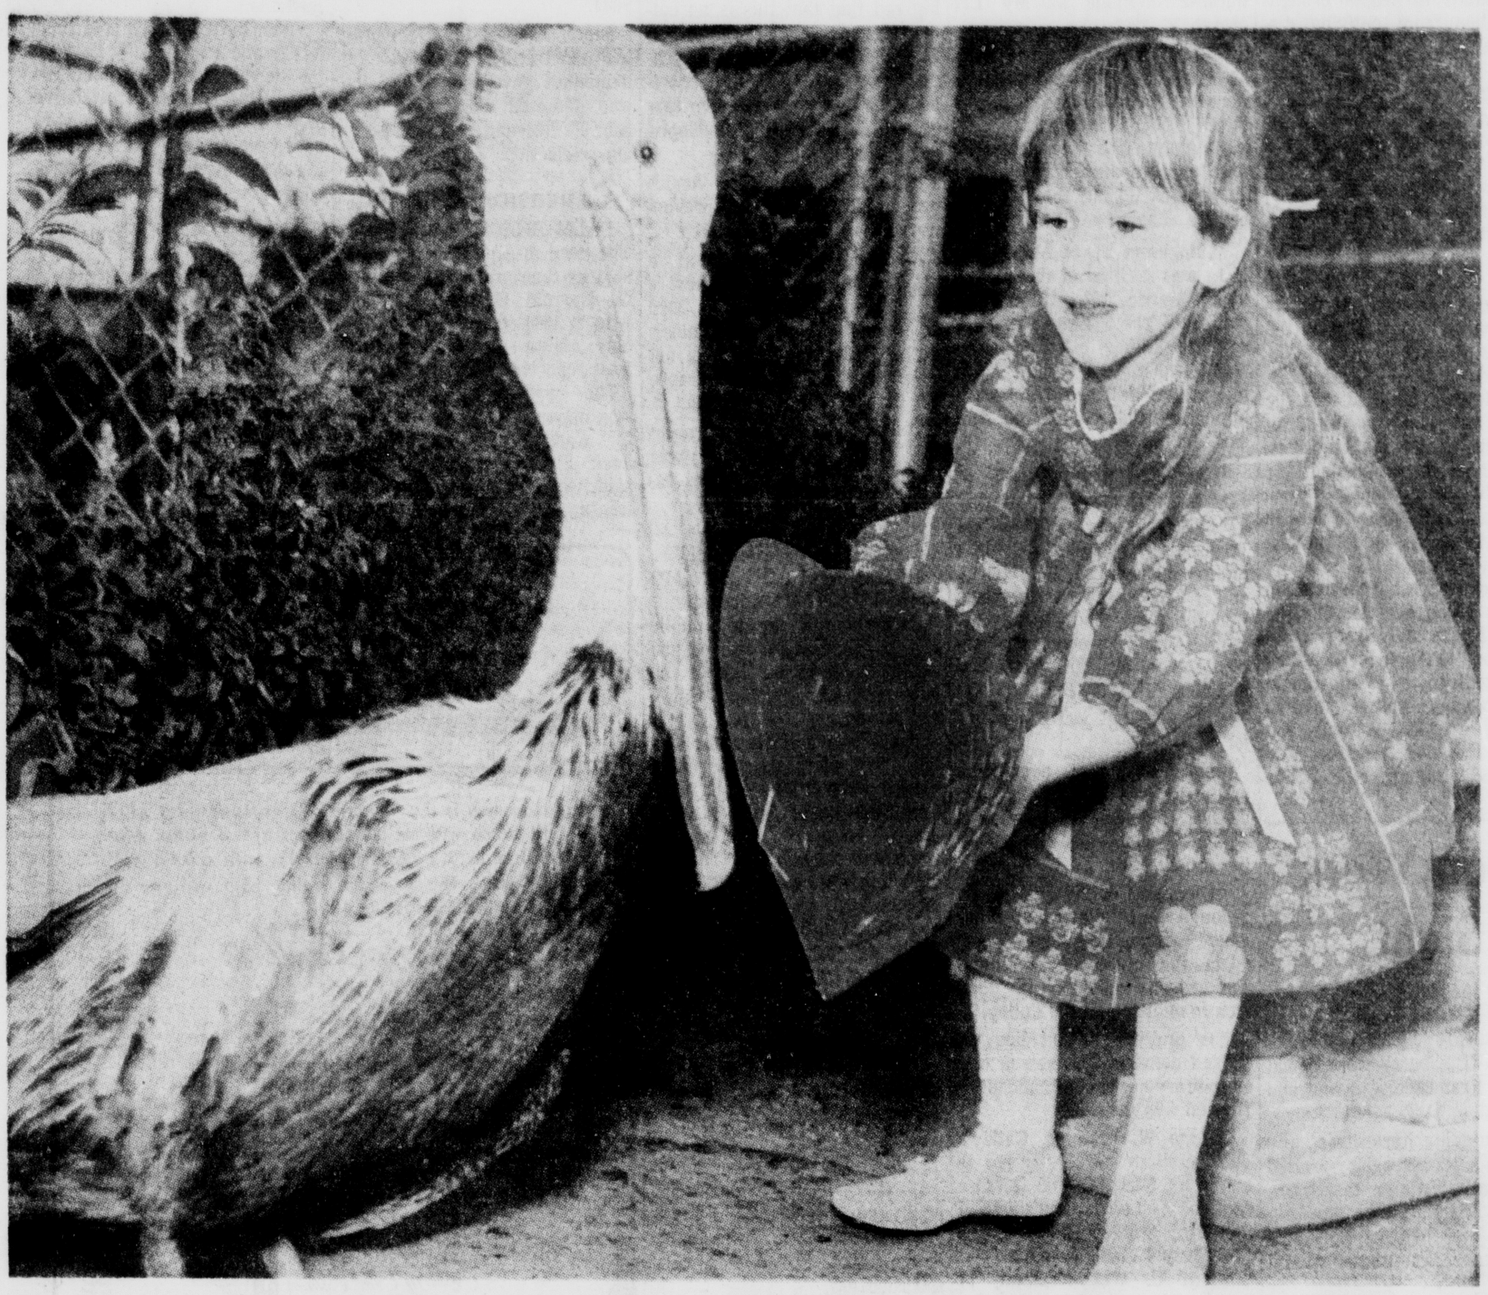
Tito-Rogers Chat Reported Fruitful



WILL YOU BE MY PELICANTINE?

Five-year-old Dorian Potter knows just how to make friends: give someone you'd like to know better a valentine. Pelican Ichabod seems to be saying Valentine's Day isn't till tomorrow, but any pretty girl knows the heart isn't ruled by the calendar. Dorian, daughter of the Harold Potters of 11 Hacienda Court, San Rafael, got together yesterday with Ichabod at the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum. He is recovering there from an injured wing repaired by surgery at the University of California at Davis.

GROWTH COMES QUICKLY

Marin City Bus Line Adds Runs

Marin County Transit Systems Inc., which inaugurated intra-county bus service two weeks ago on the Tiburon Peninsula, will expand operations on Monday to Mill Valley and start carrying school children.

The Marin City-based company's blue and gold buses will feed the Tiburon ferry throughout the day, starting at 6:30 a.m., along Almonte Boulevard, Miller Avenue, East Blithedale Avenue, Tiburon Boulevard, Trestle Glen Drive, and back to Tiburon Boulevard to the ferry.

Buses also will meet all ferries returning from San Francisco. Fare each way is 25 cents, and drivers carry no cash change.

The company's entry into school bus operations will be limited at first to carrying about 20 children from Strawberry to St. Hilary's School in Hawthorne Terrace. Parents of the children contracted for the service on their own initiative.

The service was the idea of Dr. Robert I. Branick of 440 East Strawberry Drive, who said it was to "solve the very painful headache of car pools." He arranged for the service with other parents in the neighborhood who also send children to the parochial school.

Fare for the children will be 15 cents each way.

Both the Mill Valley and St. Hilary's operations, said the bus company's president, Theophus Barron Jr., are part of the company's effort to show it can handle a modern bus system.

The company will provide "an integrated county-wide transportation system tailored to the needs of the people, whether school children, students, shoppers or commuters or whatever," Barron told the Independent-Journal. "We know we have the answer to this kind of transportation need," he said.

Barron outlined the following weekday "commuter special" schedule for the Mill Valley service to feed the Tiburon ferry departures at 7 a.m. and 8:20 a.m.: Rosemont Avenue and Almonte Boulevard, 6:30 and 7:50; Almonte and Miller, 6:31 and 7:51; Camino Alto and Miller, 6:33 and 7:53; Reed Street and Miller, 6:35 and 7:55; Lagoma Street and Miller, 6:37 and 7:57; Mill Valley Bus Depot, 6:39 and 7:59.

East Blithedale at Park School, 6:41 and 8:01; East Blithedale and Lomita Drive, 6:43 and 8:03; East Blithedale and Kipling Drive, 6:44 and 8:04; Tiburon Fire Station No. 2 at Trestle Glen and Paradise Drive, 6:47 and 8:07; arrive downtown Tiburon, 6:50 and 8:10.

Return runs from downtown Tiburon will depart 10 minutes after the arrival of each ferry from San Francisco, and the same stops will be made returning to Almonte and Rosemont.

Buses also will depart from Almonte and Rosemont, following the same stop sequence, at 9:30 a.m., noon, 1:20 p.m., 2:40 p.m., 4:10 p.m., 5:40 p.m., and 7:10 p.m.

Mideast Crisis Viewed

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — President Tito was "very highly impressed," with his discussion of the Middle East crisis with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, diplomatic sources reported today.

Rogers had asked for the 75-minute meeting in Addis Ababa mainly to convince the Yugoslav leader of the Nixon administration's sincere desire for a Middle East peace settlement.

Tito is now in Kenya, and continues his African tour next week to Sudan, Egypt and Libya.

American officials have been reluctant to disclose details of Tuesday's meeting. Tito told newsmen on arrival in Nairobi Thursday that during his talk with Rogers he urged the United States to put pressure on Israel to take a less intransigent attitude.

RECEIVE REPORTS

Foreign diplomats in the Ethiopian capital received confidential accounts from the Americans and the Yugoslavs on what was said at the meeting.

They said Tito obtained a much clearer understanding of the American position than he had before and intends to give President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt a full account of it.

Tito has Nasser's confidence, and the sources said that, although he is unlikely to endorse the American position, his explanation of it could go along way toward allaying Nasser's suspicions of American motives.

Rogers ended his two-day visit to Ethiopia and departed for Nairobi on the fourth leg of his 10-nation tour. Rogers' stay in Kenya will overlap Tito's, but American officials said there were no plans for the two to meet again there.

OFF TO KENYA

Before his departure, Rogers spent 90 minutes with Robert Gardiner, of Ghana, Secretary General of the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa. Rogers said he came away greatly impressed with the work of the commission.

Rogers told Gardiner the ECA was an example "of what can be done in a most practical way to help the people of Africa."

He said he would take information Gardiner gave him back to President Nixon with the hope that it would affect United States' support for the ECA in the future.

Rogers' talks with the Ethiopian leaders have been most friendly, as there are hardly any points of dissension between the two countries. But the Ethiopian government took exception to disclosures of some parts of Rogers' discussions with Emperor Haile Selassie.

The emperor was reported to have warned Rogers of increasing Communist infiltration in Sudan, Somalia, Southern Yemen and Tanzania. At the same time, the emperor asked for more American military aid, but Rogers expressed doubt this would be likely to get congressional approval.

Convicted Defense Firm Chiefs Sued

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A damage suit that could run into millions of dollars has been filed in U.S. District Court against 12 former officers of Alsco, Inc., a firm once involved in a multimillion-dollar fraud against the U.S. government.

Two of these named in the suit—Andrew L. Stone of St. Louis, former president of Alsco, and Francis N. Rosenbaum, a Washington lawyer—were sentenced Tuesday to 10 years in prison for their roles in a fraud involving $47 million in Navy defense contracts.

The suit was filed late Thursday by Harvard Industries, Inc., of Farmington, N.J., which bought Stone's controlling interest in Alsco for about $11 million a year ago. Five other firms also were named defendants in the suit.

Harvard Industries contended the defendants had concealed facts concerning Alsco's financial condition from Nov. 1, 1965, to Feb. 12, 1969, when Harvard purchased control of Alsco.

Harvard Industries entered a guilty plea on behalf of Alsco in federal court last December to one count of an indictment charging conspiracy to violate the Mutual Security Act by exporting rocket launchers to an arms firm in Belgium. The firm was fined $25,000.

In its damage suit, Harvard contended that because of charges filed against Alsco for actions that occurred before Harvard took control, damages to Harvard could run into millions of dollars.

Stone and Rosenbaum and two other individuals pleaded guilty in Washington to one or more counts of an indictment charging them with defrauding the Navy on the launchers and funneling more than $4 million in overcharges and kickback into secret Swiss bank accounts. Evelyn Price of St. Louis, Stone's executive secretary, and Robert B. Bergman, president of Bregman Electronics, Inc., of New York, were sentenced to five years for their parts in the fraud.

Stone and Mrs. Price are awaiting sentencing in St. Louis Federal Court on their guilty pleas to conspiring to make illegal rocket shipments to the Belgium firm.

Unions Seek Mass Rally Against I-J

Bay Area AFL-CIO unions announced plans yesterday to bring thousands of their members to San Rafael tomorrow for a mass demonstration around the Independent-Journal Building.

The demonstration would be in support of a strike by San Francisco Typographical Union 21, which struck the newspaper Jan. 7.

The typographical union today attempted to get an injunction against the newspaper forbidding guards employed at the building from making physical contact with pickets.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court refused to issue such an injunction without first hearing testimony and taking evidence. He set a hearing on the request for next Wednesday at 10 a.m. before Judge Thomas F. Keating.

Judge Keating earlier issued a preliminary injunction against the union limiting the number of pickets to two at each entrance to the building and restraining them from blocking entrances.

Allegations that guards employed by the newspaper company have chased pickets, hit them with clubs, and threatened them with guns were made at a news conference in San Francisco yesterday by labor union representatives. Television stations were invited to the conference, but press wire services were not.

At it, Jack Goldberger, president of Periodical Drivers Local 921 of the Teamsters Union was quoted as saying there might be

Bandits Bomb Police Station, Hold Up Bank

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — Two men bombed the Danbury police station today, robbed and bombed a bank, and set off another bomb in a shopping center parking lot, injuring an estimated total of 25 persons.

About 20 of the persons injured were in the police station when a powerful blast occurred near the front entrance of the building. It smashed out all the front windows, blew a hole in the wall, ruptured water pipes, and sent rubble spewing onto Main Street.

A short time later, two armed men invaded the Union Savings Bank and robbed it of an undetermined amount of money, making the employes and customers lie on the floor. A bomb exploded in the bank shortly after the robbers left, injuring several persons.

A third blast demolished a car in the parking lot at the Danbury mall, damaged half a dozen other parked cars, and broke the front window of the Grandways Store.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said one of the two bombers was carrying a machine gun.

A bulletin was put out for two men in a white station-wagon with New York license plates.

The seriousness of the injuries suffered in the explosions was not immediately determined. Most of the injuries were reportedly cuts caused by flying glass.

Police blocked off several streets downtown because of rubble and glass and the fear of additional bombs. The blasts apparently were responsible for a temporary disruption of telephone service.

A short time after the three blasts, someone set off a bomb scare at St. Joseph's grammar school that forced evacuation of the students. No bomb was found in the building.

All off-duty police and firemen were called in by Mayor Gino J. Arconti. Because of the condition of the police station, Arconti moved police operations to the War Memorial Building, where the town's Civil Defense office is located.

Span Board's $2 Million Shifted To Transit Uses

An additional $2 million for transit was voted today by Golden Gate Bridge District directors.

The $2 million had been earmarked for repayment to the six counties in the district to cover property taxes paid to the district in early 1930s.

The payment, however, was ruled unconstitutional last week by the California Court of Appeal.

Today's unanimous action by the district board was to accept the court's decision, and not to appeal to the Supreme Court.

The district's attorney, Jerome B. White, ruled that the board's decision not to appeal, automatically meant the $2 million was added to the $6,211,000 previously earmarked for all types of transit.

The $2 million will be subject to the same restrictions under a 1969 state law that limited the district to spending 50 per cent of its net surplus on buses, 30 per cent on ferryboats and 20 per cent on drawing a long-range master plan on transit.

The board vote was after White advised there was virtually no chance of a successful appeal.

In other business White was asked to study whether tolls for pedestrians and bicyclists could be dropped. White, to report the result of his study in two weeks, noted there was a good chance that tolls could be dropped.

Grounded Tanker Fouls Florida Port

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A partially loaded Greek tanker slashed its hull running aground today in Tampa Bay in heavy fog and released fuel oil that rapidly covered a half-mile stretch of water between Tampa and St. Petersburg, port authorities said.

Cmdr. Anthony F. Fugaro, captain of the Port of Tampa, said the 619-foot tanker Delian Apollon was refloated an hour after it struck.

"We are not quite sure how bad the slick is, but we hope to be able to contain it," Fugaro said. "The tanker has been refloated and is proceeding to its destination, so it can't be too bad."

The Coast Guard said the fuel oil spilling from the hull spread over a half-mile long path about 300 yards wide.

Fugaro said the tanker, en route to a power plant, was about one mile from St. Petersburg "when it must have missed a turn in the channel" and ran aground.

Port officials were preparing a "slick bar"—styrofoam sections that dip two feet deep into the water — at the mooring to hold back any flow of oil from the tanker after she docked. Another bar was being dispatched to the mouth of Tampa Bay for use in containing the slick already on the water.

Fugaro said the tanker's load had not been determined.

Meanwhile, mopping up operations began today along the shores of Chedacuto Bay, Nova Scotia, 10 days after the Liberian tanker Arrow went aground and broke apart at the entrance to Nova Scotia Bay.

The Arrow was carrying 3,380,000 gallons of oil when she hit the rocks Feb. 4 but there has been no estimate of oil spilled. Oil patches now cover the north shore from Cape Auget, westward to Janvrin Island and the south shore for 11 miles east of Canso. There are also blotches on a 15-mile section of the Nova Scotia mainland near the entrance to Canso Strait.

Apollo 12 Crew Going On Tour

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon announced today the three Apollo 12 astronauts and their wives will leave Monday on a 40-day global goodwill tour.

First stop for Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon and Alan L. Bean will be Caracas, Venezuela. Other countries on the itinerary include Peru, Chile, Panama, Portugal, Luxembourg, Denmark, Finland, Romania, Autsria, Morocco, Tunisia, the Ivory Coast, Tanzania, Malagasy Republic, Ceylon Burma, Indonesia, Nationalist China and Japan.

"ARE YOU RECEPTIVE TO CHANGE?"
Does the phenomenal change taking place in our society today leave you with a sense of insecurity and uncertainty about the future? Is there confusion on moral and spiritual issues? It would seem that outstanding advances in some areas of human thought have left other areas far behind.

Laird Tells Saigon Be Cool On Bombings

SAIGON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird issued a cautious warning today to North Vietnam not to violate the understanding which resulted in the Nov. 1, 1968, bombing halt.

At an airport news conference after a three-day inspection trip to the war zone, Laird was asked if the U.S. policy of striking back at enemy forces that attack from sanctuaries outside Vietnam included the right to make air strikes on antiaircraft positions which could fire on U.S. reconnaissance planes.

The secretary replied, "If the North Vietnamese violate the supposed understanding of more than a year ago, the consequences of their violation as it relates to the theory of protective reaction is something that they should bear in mind."

Laird refused to be more specific, and later an aide explained that U.S. officials never disclose so-called "rules of engagement" outlining military action to be taken in given circumstances.

The U.S. version of the "understanding" with North Vietnam is that Washington made clear American reconnaissance flights over the North would continue to check on possible enemy buildups. Hanoi denies there was any understanding and says American reconnaissance planes are violators of its air space and liable to be shot down.

Laird said the policy of protective reaction gives "primary emphasis" to "the safety and security of American forces."

The question was prompted by recent American air attacks on antiaircraft positions inside North Vietnam which the U.S. Command said fired on American reconnaissance planes and their armed escorts.

Laird said earlier that "solid progress" in Vietnamization of the war will permit more American troop withdrawals despite a continuing enemy threat and lack of progress in the Paris peace talks. He warned, however, that "the road to Vietnamization will not be free of hard knocks and some disappointments."

Laird termed his tour to see how President Nixon's Vietnamization program is working "profitable." He said he had "informative and meaningful" talks with President Nguyen Van Thieu and other top South Vietnamese and U.S. officials.

Cairo Residents Demand Revenge

CAIRO (AP) — Thousands of Egyptians took to the streets of Cairo today to denounce what they called American-Israeli collaboration and demanding revenge for an Israeli air attack which reportedly killed 70 civilian workers.

Crowds lined the six-mile route between President Gamal Abdel Nasser's suburban residence and the Al Azhar Mosque where visiting Libyan and Sudanese leaders were attending prayers.

"We will avenge the blood of the martyrs," "down with American - Israeli collaboration," roared the demonstrators. Banners lauded Arab unity and vowed to fight to liberate Arab lands occupied by Israel.

The Israeli raid on a scrap metal factory 16 miles north of Cairo Thursday apparently resulted in the highest civilian death toll in any single incident of Arab-Israeli violence since the end of the 1967 six-day war.

"The crime is an American crime because it was committed with American aircraft," protested Al Gomhouriya and other government-controlled newspapers. "The Arab peoples and the whole world hold the United States responsible for the shedding of innocent blood," said Al Akhbar.

Police estimated half a million persons thronged the streets for what Cairo Radio described as "a massive demonstration of solidarity and faith in the leadership."

Thousands of people brought in by bus from outlying districts, including El Khanko, declared target of the Israeli bombing, carried banners denouncing the United States "the enemy of the Arab people" and vowed "We will liberate our land in a sea of blood."

A confident of Nasser claimed that Israeli and U.S. policy makers are collaborating in "a 100-day blitz plan" to exert maximum pressure on Egypt with a view toward ousting the Egyptian President.

The editor of Al Ahram, Hassanein Heikal, claimed that the United States, in a series of recent "close coordination meetings" with Israeli officials, gave Tel Aviv the go-ahead to use American-built Phantom jets in deep penetration raids against Egypt according to a mutually arranged progressive timetable.

It was because of this that the United States moved up from September to April the deadline for the delivery of 50 supersonic fighter-bombers and rerouted to the Middle East Phantoms originally intended for the Far East and Vietnam, the editor said.

Another Is Charged In My Lai Case

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A military judge has ruled that the Army has jurisdiction to try Lt. William L. Calley Jr. on charges of murdering 102 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai March 16, 1968.

Soon after Calley's trial was set Thursday for May 18, Pentagon sources disclosed that another officer, Capt. Thomas K. Willingham, has been charged with unpremeditated murder of 20 persons during the ame operation nearly two years ago.

Willingham, 25, of Allenhurst, N.J., was notified of the charge at Ft. Meade, Md., where he is stationed. The Pentagon sources said the killings cited occurred about two miles from the hamlet where alleged massacre blamed on Calley occurred, and on the same day.

REJECTS MOTION

At a pretrial hearing for Calley here Thursday, Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy rejected a defense motion to dismiss the charge and end the case on the grounds that the Army had illegally retained Calley beyond his scheduled Sept. 6 discharge date and had no right to try him.

Still pending were motions for:

—Disclosure of documents and messages that might have passed between Saigon and Washington officials concerning the Calley case.

—Dismissal of the charges on grounds that "command influence" from President Nixon down the chain of command was brought to bear on the decision to charge and try Calley.

The Supreme Court has reversed convictions when in other military cases commanded influence was proved.

George W. Latimer, Calley's chief civilian lawyer, wants to subpoena Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and the Army's chief of staff, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, to testify on the command influence issue.

Kennedy has denied the request for subpoenas until the defense has a chance to interview Laird, Resor and Westmoreland to find out whether they would have any testimony relevant to the issue.

Kennedy delayed argument on the command influence motion until March 9.

Student Calls Cuban Work Trip Just 'Out Of Sight'

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (AP) — "The trip was well worth while," an American student returning from Cuba told a group of replacement Americans boarding a freighter to harvest sugar cane for Fidel Castro.

"I'm looking forward to getting back to the states, but it was a great two months," the student said. He was one of 200 who disembarked from the Cuban freighter Thursday as about 600 other Americans waited to board.

"How was it?" one of the students on the pier shouted.

""Beautiful, beautiful, out of sight," came the reply from the freighter.

Another returnee shouted: "If there are any of you who'd like to change places, we'd like to go back!"

One of those boarding, Carol Brightman, a former teacher at Southeastern Massachusetts University, said she was going because "it's an opportunity to become part of the Cuban movement by participating in the harvest, which is viewed in Cuba as a second revolution."

Newsmen were not permitted aboard the freighter, and most of the youngsters were uncommunicative and kept to themselves.

Three chartered buses carrying 127 of the returning youths crossed the border at Calais, Maine. Thursday night and were quickly cleared through customs. The buses were bound for San Francisco, Chicago and Washington, D.C.

The outgoing harvesters, who traveled across the United States in midwinter to assemble at Boston, were warmly dressed and heavily burdened with knapsacks and sleeping bags.

But the returning travelers, lightly clad for their work in Cuba's warm climate, shivered in New Brunswick's cold. They said the freighter, the Luis Arcos Bergnes, rode out a heavy sleet and snowstorm on its way into Saint John.

TB Tests Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Up to 150,00 Capitol Hill employes are expected to take tuberculosis tests in the wake of seven TB cases—two of them fatal—in the past six months.

"We don't want to raise any big red flag that this is an epidemic, because it's not," said a U.S. Public Health Service official after it was recently reported 144 of 500 persons given tuberculin skin tests had developed positive reactions.

"But it's a serious health problem," he said, "and preventive measures must be taken."

Medical authorities said a positive reaction to a skin test is an indicator a person has been in contact with tuberculosis germs. But they said it is not proof positive he has the disease nor that he will ever contract it.

Congressional officials report there has been on undue panic because of the seven cases reported so far.

85th Birthday

INDEPDNDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Bess Truman is 85 today.

So far as any outward, public sign is concerned it will be just another day in the life of the wife of former President Harry S. Truman.

There was a firm, but pleasant "no pictures; no interviews" word from the big white Victorian house on Delaware Street.

Persons close to the Trumans say there will be only a few variations from the normal daily household routine. The chief one likely will be a telephone call from New York from daughter Margaret—Mrs. Clifton Daniel —and a chat with the four Truman grandsons.

Any other observance will be impromptu and strictly a private, family affair.

Eyes Governorship

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Robert E. Short, owner of the Washington Senators baseball team and a former national treasurer of the Democratic party, says he probably will run for governor of Minnesota this year.

Short, 52, was the Democratic-Farmer-Labor candidate for lieutenant governor in 1966 but was defeated along with Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag, who was seeking re-election.

Caucasian Clause

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The deed to a piece of property sold by Supreme Court nominee G. Harrold Carswell and his wife in 1966 contained a whites-only clause, the Palm Beach Post reported today.

The anti-Negro restriction was apparently first established by Carswell's brother-in-law, Jack Simmons Jr., the Post said, when he obtained 38 acres fronting on Ochlocknee Bay in 1963. It said Carswell's wife Virginia acquired part of the land from her brother the same year.

"Ownership, occupancy and use shall be restricted to members of the Caucasian race," said a convenant written into the deed recorded at the Wakulla County courthouse in Crawfordville.

When the Carswells sold their lot for about $4,800 July 12, 1966, the deed specifically made the sale subject to the restrictive convenants in force three yars arlier when Mrs. Carswell got the property, the Post said in a copyright story.

Disclosure Bill Called 'Murderous'

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Chico city councilman put it bluntly to California lawmakers he'd quit the council rather than have to disclose his financial holdings down to the last dime. "This is really murderous, particularly in a small town," Councilman Eric Bathen told an Assembly committee Thursday.

The Governmental Organization Committee held a hearing on a bill sponsored by Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan to overhaul the 1969 conflict of interest law before it even is fully operational.

Meanwhile, the legislature was moving to delay for 60 days, until April 6, enforcement of the 1969 law which was sponsored by Asembly Democratics Leader Jesse M. Unruh.

The Unruh act requires all officials in California to make public, in detail, their financial holdings of over $10,000. Thousands of officials like Bathen have said it isn't worth it, that they'd quit rather than bother to do that. There are conflicting opinions as to just how far-reaching the law would be, such as whether it applies to the volunteer member of a local library board.

The State Supreme Court has been asked for its interpretation.

The Assembly voted 59-10 Thursday to send the delay bill to the Senate. The new filing deadline, April 6, would come one week before a number of municipal elections.

Worker Hurt In Roof Fall

A Petaluma man was injured yesterday at 8:45 a.m. when he fell from the roof of a home under construction on Albert Way, Petaluma.

Edward W. Miller, 60, of 103 Jefferson Street, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for back and neck injuries and was transferred to the emergency observation room at Kaiser Foundation Hospital, San Rafael. No report on his condition was available.

Miller is employed in construction for Young America Homes Inc.

Officers Elected

Walton Scheduled As Final Speaker

Sydney K. Walton Jr., principal of Martin Luther King School in Sausalito, will speak Sunday at the final program in the Marin Art and Culture Club's annual Black History Week.

The program will be presented at 3 p.m. at the First Missionary Baptist Church, 502 Drake Avenue, Marin City, according to Mrs. Eloise Brown, club president.

Highway Fund Vote Trims North's Split

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly Transportation Committee has agreed on a two-step attempt to increase Southern California's share of state gasoline tax revenues.

The committee approved a bill Thursday to increase Southern California's share of the highway fund from 55 to 60 per cent. A bill to abolish the formala entirely and allocate highway fund by need was held in committee to see how the Senate acts on the increased ratio.

Bills to increase Southern California's share to 60 per cent have passed the Assembly the past two years only to die in the Senate Transportation Committee.

Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes, R-San Diego, author of the bill to shift percentages, said it was a logical extension of the one-man, one-vote philosophy.

Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, said 61 per cent of the registered vehicles in the state are located in the 13 southern counties while 39 per cent are in the 45 northern counties.

"This is simply adjustment of a formula that is obsolete," he said.

Assemblyman Peter F. Schabarum, R-Covina, complained that the gasoline tax has taken a billion dollars more out of Los Angeles than was spent on that county's highways during the last 10 years.

'People's Park' Victims Sue

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two young men who claim they were wounded by a shotgun blast fired by a sheriff's deputy during the "People's Park" disturbances in Berkeley last May have filed personal injury suits totaling $1.6 million.

The almost identically worded suits were filed in U.S. District Court Thursday by Donovan Rundle, 18, and David Moore, 22.

Named as defendants were the Alameda County Sheriff's Department and former deputy Lawrence L. Riche, whom the plaintiffs claim did the shooting.

Reagan Calls Tax Reforms Good Thing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan says that his tax reform package is a good one and that any politician who tries to block it will do so "to his eventual regret."

Reagan, addressing a Lincoln Day crowd of nearly 700 Sacramento County Republicans Thursday night, declared that he began an early push for tax reform even though he was counseled by some advisers to avoid controversy until after the November election, in which he is favored to win a second term.

"Maybe that is what politicians would do," Reagan said, "but we have all worked very hard to keep from being politicians these past three years."

Reagan said it would have been "more cozy" politically for him to have withheld his tax reform proposals until after election day.

He also restated his position on withholding state income tax from paychecks, the system of tax collection he had long opposed, but which he now advocates.

The Republican governor said he was forced to change his mind by the state's need for a continuous flow of income.

DRIVE HOME WITH SOMETHING NICE
YOU'VE PICKED OUT
FROM WARDS.

...like a new Chevy Nova, Chevelle, Camaro, Impala or Chevy van or pickup.

Surprised to find that now you can rent a new Chevy from your neighborly Montgomery Ward, for as little as $6.00 a day plus mileage? You shouldn't be. When we promise you the unexpected, we deliver. In fact, we pick up and deliver, free.

Sure, there are more car rental companies around than you can shake a stick shift at.

So you can bet that we wouldn't be doing it unless we could give you more, and charge you less.

And we do.

Ask the man down the street who rented a new Chevelle from us for his daughter to practice driving and take her driver's license test. Cost? Just $7.00 a day plus mileage.

Ask that young college man whose folks are visiting him. He's showing them around town in one of our beautiful Chevy Impalas.

Then there's the big businessman who just blew in from out of town with an unlimited expense account. Him don't ask. He'd rather rent from the giants and pay giant prices.

We'd much rather do business with friends from right here. Like you.

That's why, for one low economy rate, you get complete insurance protection with gas and oil included. And your Wards Charg-all or other major credit card wraps up the package nicely—just one more to add to the other nice packages you're bringing home from Wards.

Newsprint Pier Pickets Lose Another Round

SAN FRANCISCO—Judge Lloyd Burke of U. S. District Court today granted a temporary injunction ordering San Francisco Typographical Union 21 to cease picketing Pier 46-A in San Francisco to prevent movement of newsprint to the Independent-Journal in San Rafael.

Judge Burke said the injunction will remain in effect until the National Labor Relations Board reaches a decision in a complaint involving secondary boycott charges. The injunction was asked by the NLRB.

Roy Hoffman, NLRB regional director, said the typographical union solicited Gardin City Transportation Co. drivers to refuse to transport the newsprint, consigned by Powell River-Alberni Sales Ltd. of Canada, and placed pickets on the pier.

The injunction followed a hearing today on a temporary restraining order issued by Judge Burke yesterday, also banning soliciting drivers or other employees not to handle the newsprint.

McNamara Asks Marriage End

Stephen McNamara, editor and publisher of the Pacific Sun, today filed a petition asking dissolution of his 10-year marriage.

The petition filed in Marin Superior Court cited irreconcilable differences between McNamara and his wife Hanne.

The McNamaras were married March 21, 1958, in Cophenhagen, Denmark. They have three children, Lise, 8, Natalie, 6, and Kevin, 5. The petition asks that custody of the children be given to Mrs. McNamara, as well as reasonable support.

An undisclosed amount of community property owned by the couple has already been divided by agreement, the petition said.

Berkeley Bombs Hurt Two Police Reserves

BERKELEY (UPI) — Two reserve policemen were injured when two explosions rocked a parking lot between City Hall and the local courthouse about midnight. Three cars were damaged by the blasts.

Injured were Paul Morgan, 24, Moraga, son of the head of the local chamber of commerce, and Allen Hamm, 34, Berkeley. Morgan underwent surgery on his injured arm while Hamm suffered a minor leg wound.

An unmarked police car was almost demolished while two other vehicles belonging to unidentified owners suffered minor damage. Windows in the courthouse and in an adjoining apartment house were broken by the force of the blast.

The victims told fellow officers after the blast they had seen a blue satchel under the car prior to the blast. Berkeley police received an anonymous telephone threat of a third bomb about 45 minutes later and cordoned off a block. They carried shotguns and searched in and around all the cars in the area.

Al Juke, vendor of the underground newspaper Berkeley Barb, was one of the first persons on the scene after the first blast at about 12:01 a.m.

"I heard this 'boom' about a block away, and I started running toward it. About 30 seconds later, there was another 'boom.'

"Two cars were burning right next to each other. There were about 50 cars on the lot and it was shift-changing time. I couldn't tell if anyone was hurt, but one cop said there was.

"One of the horns was stuck on one of the cars and it kept going about three-four minutes. There was a lot of smoke.

"About 400 people gathered outside the lot. some were yelling 'Viva, la Revolucion,' but others yelled 'cool it.' A guy started playing taps on the harmonica."

Police immediately sealed off the area.

Earlier this week, the city hall was the scene of a wild council meeting at which was discussed the issue of whether local police should be permitted the use of a helicopter.

Corte Madera Mother Files

Patricia Friend, a housewife and mother of five children, has returned nomination papers as a candidate for the April 14 Corte Madera town council election.

Mrs. Friend, a native of San Francisco, has lived in Corte Madera 16 years. She and her family live at 25 Rocklyn Court.

She spent eight years on the Twin Cities Little League board, served as recording secretary and hospitality chairman of the Neil Cummins Parent-Teacher Association, was an assistant Brownie leader and an assistant Cub Scout den mother.

Two other candidates have also filed for the three council seats, Mayor Edward W. Colthurst and incumbent Holmes S. (Pete) Norville.

Suspect Booked On Vandalism

A 30-year old San Rafael man was booked into Marin County Jail today on suspicion of breaking windows in a construction office trailer and stealing a coat, San Rafael police reported.

Donald Richard Storken of 830 B Street, was held to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Storken was arrested at 3:05 a.m. by two employees of Murphy Pacific Enterprises who reported he broke two windows and took a coat from the firm's office trailer parked at Second and Irwin streets, police said.

Medical Students Clash With Police

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — About 500 medical students in the university here today clashed with police during a downtown demonstration protesting plans for study.

violence at tomorrow's rally if guards harass pickets.

In his appearance before Judge Wilson today, Gary T. Giacomini, attorney for the newspaper, said the typographical union was seeking the injunction so that strike sympathizer, appearing for the demonstration tomorrow would believe guards could not prevent them from entering the building.

Citing the call for union members from throughout the Bay Area to attend, he said "they hope to overpower law officers and break into the building and do damage."

The union's attorney claimed pickets had been threatened and assaulted by Nor-Cal Security Service guards employed at the building. Giacomini, contradicting this, said the Marin County district attorney is preparing to file criminal charges against five union members or pickets.

Judge Wilson said that such an injunction as sought by the union was too broad to grant without a hearing.

The unions' plan for the demonstration tomorrow was accompanied by a step-up in a "War of nerves" between the typographical union and the newspaper owners and managers.

Two longtime employees of the I-J classified advertising department reported they were told by pickets as they left work yesterday that "you won't live long if you keep working there."

A Mill Valley woman reported receiving a telephone call from a person who asked her to cancel her subscription to the newspaper and warned, "You'd better not have it on your front porch!"

Three States Enter Desegregation Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) —U.S. District Court Judge Manuel Real today gave three Deep South states to intervene as friends of the court in the Pasadena school desegregation case.

The attorneys general from Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi met with the judge behind closed doors for nearly an hour before emerging to file their briefs in the case.

Mayor Files First In Cotati

Cotati Mayor Frank J. Dolinsek has become the first candidate for the April 14 city council election.

The term of Councilman John Rasmussen will also expire.

Dolinsek, who was appointed to the council in 1966, will be seeking his first full four-year term. He has operated Dolinsek's Begonia Gardens in Cotati since 1954 and moved from Santa Rosa to 7964 Gravenstein Highway, Cotati, in 1964. Dolinsek has a son.

Marine Boss Will Probe Pendleton Racial Uproar

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — A formal investigation of a 1½-hour racial disturbance begins today at this big Marine base as the commandant of the Marine Corps arrives on the West Coast to tour Marine installations.

Maj. Gen. Donn J. Robertson, base commander, ordered convening of a board of inquiry into a disturbance Wednesday night in which 30 to 35 black Marines stormed a barracks.

They attacked black and white Marines quartered in the barracks, using broom handles to "hit everyone who was in their way," a spokesman said.

Thirty Marines, about half of them black, were treated for minor cuts and bruises suffered in what a Marine colonel called a disturbance planned by off-base organizations.

Col. Ross R. Miner, commanding officer of Staging Battalion, which processes Marines for overseas assignment, said Thursday that the violence may be connected with the visit of Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., Marine commandant.

Chapman is scheduled to visit Camp Pendleton Monday, after arrival today in nearby San Diego.

The outbreak was influenced by such dissident groups as the Black Panthers, Students for a Democratic Soceity and Movement for a Democratic Military, Miner said. He based his belief on interviews with the men involved.

The barracks was cordoned off by 60 military police and Marine guards and no force was used, officials said.

Minor said the disturbance stopped when he told the men "to behave like Marines and start cleaning up the mess."

He said Marines who instigated the riot complained they were harassed by a corporal and they protested being marched to the mess hall.

"Those aren't the type of complaints that would provoke such a disturbance," Miner said. Some of the men, he said, were perhaps under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

No arrests were made immediately, he said, because further disturbances were feared.

Marines involved will be formally charged with destroying government property or attacking other Marines after the investigation, Miner said.

Is Mentally Retarded Program Big Misfit?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California schools are reviewing the rolls of mentally retarded classes in an effort to weed out improperly placed youngsters.

The number of students in special classes has been reduced by 4,000 from a high of 58,000 under the "crash program," a specialist told the State Board of Education Thursday.

A disproportionate number of students classified as mentally retarded are Spanish-speaking youngsters whose intelligence was tested inaccurately by tests administered in English, said Dr. Joseph P. Rice, but a higher ratio is found among black students.

Dr. Rice, chief of the Division of Special Education in the Bureau for the Mentally Except-Child, reported 3.26 per cent of all black students in California schools were classed as Educable Mentally Retarded.

The figure for Spanish-speaking students is 2.14 per cent, for other white students. 71 per cent, and for oriental students .36 per cent.

A federal judge recently ordered intelligence tests be readministered to Spanish-speaking students classed as mentally retarded to weed out those improperly placed.

Dr. John Ford, a board member, urged that black students in this category also be given a second consideration.

He noted that the intelligence tests, although given in English, fail to take into consideration the "language of the ghetto."

Heritage Of Music Cited Key To Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's civil rights chief suggests racial tension in the military might be relieved if white servicemen learned to sing spirituals and blacks, country-western tunes.

L. Howard Bennett also recommends group dancing in which "Negroes could learn the polkas and schottisches and whites the Charleston and the cakewalk."

Bennett, acting deputy assistant secretary of defense, lists these ideas in an 11-page report on "reducing tensions and unrest through group activity."

The report recommends to military commanders a wide range of measures for "avoiding racial conflict and maintaining harmony, unity and strength in the armed forces."

Bennett calls for vigorous leadership in improving relations between black and white servicemen.

Among other steps, he urges:

—"Education in human relations" from officer and noncommissioned officer schools down through basic training of recruits.

—Encouragement of panels and roundtable discussions at military installations and aboard ships "so as to dispel misunderstanding, resolve irritating issues, and achieve, whenever possible, understanding and consensus" among the diverse groups in the armd forces.

FBI Agents Get Lecture On Conduct In Courtroom

Three FBI agents were lectured on decorum and cited for contempt by U.S. District Judge William T. Sweigert Thursday after they arrested a man in his courtroom.

The agents apologized for what they called a mistake and the judge withdrew the contempt ruling after explanations were made.

"I don't know what's going on here," said the judge as the three agents hauled out the Rev. Robert L. Kimball, who had been sitting in the spectator section as Bishop Robert Skillman was being arraigned on a charge of assaulting a postal employe.

"Tell them to come back here," he instructed a deputy U.S. marshal.

Skillman, who heads his own church and who had pleaded innocent to the charge, had shouted to the judge that the FBI men were taking his archdeacon, Kimball, away.

Back in court, FBI agent Wiley Davey explained that he and agents Joseph Dushek and Duane Franklin had hoped to get Kimball to leave the court and then arrest him for alleged draft evasion.

But Kimball went limp, so they carried him out.

"We had been trying to locate Kimball and were in the courtroom on the chance he would be on hand," said Davey. "We have a great deal of difficulty both (Kimball and Skillman) over the past two years."

"But we did act impulsively and it was my fault. All the others told me it was wrong, but I thought it was the best way."

The judge had Kimball seated again, and when he left the court he was duly arrested and taken before U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith, who released Kimball on his own recognizance.

Judge Sweigert told the FBI agents that the day's action indicated "disrespect for the court... it violated the sanctuary of the courtroom where no violence or any intimation of violence should occur except when ordered by the court to preserve order and decorum."

INSPECTS ELECTRIC CAR

John A Volpe (right), transportation secretary in Nixon's cabinet, got a close look yesterday at Ford Motor's experimental Comuta electric car during a tour of Ford's emission control laboratory in Dearborn, Mich. He was accompanied by Lee A. Iacocca, president of Ford's North American Automotive Operations. The tour was part of Volpe's two-day schedule with automakers concerning the problem of pollution.

Nixon Stand Argued In Busing Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) Southern senators said today chances for adoption of their school desegregation riders had been improved by President Nixon's statement of his views on the subject.

But Senate civil rights advocates, trying to defeat the Southern amendments to a $35 billion federal aid to education bill, said the statement had only muddied the waters.

The White House said Thursday that Nixon believed that school desegregation policies should be applied equally throughout the nation.

Initial reaction at the Capitol was that this was likely to pick up votes for a rider of Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., which would declare it is national policy to have uniform enforcement of desegregation in all parts of the United States.

However, White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler declined to say the President was endorsing this specific amendment.

Stennis himself said he was "greatly encouraged" by the President's position, adding:

"Of course, the President's position will lend strength to my amendments and is consistent with what he has said in the past."

In this comment, the Mississippian referred not only to his national policy proposal but also to his amendment on which the Southerners have placed the most emphasis—a freedom of choice rider.

It is the latter which now is pending before the Senate, which is to begin voting on the civil rights school issues next Tuesday.

The freedom of choice amendment would ban assignment of a pupil to any schools because of race, creed, color or national origin and for the purpose of achieving equality in attendance unless the local school board approved it.

Southern senators say that adoption of such a prohibition would halt the busing of students in many counties in their region in compliance with federal court orders to end the dual school systems there.

However, civil rights advocates remained confident that this amendment would be rejected. Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa. the Republican leader, plans to try to kill it with a tabling motion.

But these senators were not so confident on the national policy amendment which Stennis has said he will call up next.

One Northern liberal, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., already has announced support of this second rider. And Nixon's statement appears to give it another push.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., a leader in the opposition to this amendment, has said nobody knows what its effect will be.

It might well accomplish nothing in the North but simply lead to a slowdown of desegregation efforts in the South, he has contended.

Budget Bureau Rapped On Waste

WASHINGTON (AP) — Billions of taxpayers' dollars are wasted each year to government failure to analyze the cost and value of federal programs, a congressional subcommittee has charged.

A report by the economy in government subcommittee Thursday charged specifically that the Bureau of the Budget has not provided Congress with background on bureau decisions.

Subcommittee chairman Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said, however nondefense programs that produce an economic or human result are the vocational education programs that showed a $6 return to the economy for each $1 spent.

Thai Helicopters Set To Chase Guerrillas

BANGKOK (AP) — The Thai government has sent a force of helicopters to the Thai-Malaysian border region, indicating preparations for a big offensive against several hundred Communist terrorists operating there.

The armed forces chief of staff, Air Chief Marshal Dawee Chullasapya, disclosed the dispatch of the aircraft to Songkla, the regional headquarters for operations against the terrorist bands. He did not say how many were sent, but other sources said the number was about 20.

Agnew Attacks Policy On College Admissions

CHICAGO (AP) —Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says colleges and universities should take in students and teachers on the basis of their ability and that the quota systems of admissions is "some strange madness."

Agnew addressed a $100-a-plate Lincoln Day Republican fund-raising dinner Thursday night, and much of his speech was aimed at campus dissenters, both student and faculty. But his sharpest remarks were leveled at school admissions policies.

"For those who think that there should be ethnic quotas or race quotas, or socio-economic class quotas in the admissions to colleges or universities," he said, "I would address this question: When next you are sick, do you wish to be attended by a physican who entered medical school to fill a quota or because his medical aptitude was high?"

"By some strange madness," he added, "we find the thought seriously entertained among men in responsible positions in the academy itself . . . that the untrained should help choose those to be trained and that membership, whether as students or teachers, in institutions of higher learning should be determined fundamentally by considerations other than aptitude . . .

"Of course, the criterion of competence has in the past sometimes been honored more in the breach than in the observance. But surely that is no reason to abandon it, as happens when the concept of what is erroneously called 'open admissions' makes its way among some of our supercilious sophisitcates."

The vice president said "dissidents and dissenters" on the campuses make it impossible for "the many fine students" to engage in a free exchange of information.

The loudest applause from the 2,100 diners came when Agnew declared that "it is not right that the unqualified should sit on boards of admission to decide who is qualified to receive instruction in institutions of higher and professional learning."

This apparently referred to demands by students and minority groups that they be given a voice in school administration.

Marcos Delays All Executions

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand Marcos has stopped all executions in the national penitentiary until a study on whether to abolish the death penalty is completed.

There have been 60 executions since the country began using the electric chair in 1924, three of them in the past two weeks. There are 339 prisoners awaiting execution.

Sentiment is growing in favor of removing the death penalty from what Prisons Director Alejo Santos called "our primitive penal code."

"We are a Christian country and as Christians we should follow the tenets of Christianity," said Santos.

Dock Strike Ends; Pact Is Accepted

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UPI)—British Columbia's 3,200 longshoremen planned to reopen the province's six ports today following the acceptance late Thursday of a new labor contract.

The dock workers voted 55 per cent in favor of the three-year pact—the fourth offered by the British Columbia Maritime Employers' Association (BCMEA) in the nine-month-old labor dispute.

Bob Peebles, Canadian area president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU) said 1,590 dockers voted for ratification and 1,240 were against.

NEW PACT

The new agreement gives the longshoremen:

—A $1.15 an hour pay increase spread over 36 months.

—A 40 cent hike retroactive to Aug. 1 of last year; five cents more from Feb. 1, 1970 to Feb. 1, 1971; anothre 45 cent boost to Feb. 1 1972 and a final 25 cent raise until the expiring date on July 31, 1972.

—A guaranteed work opportunity calling for 130 days over a a 26-week period.

—Two additional paid holidays, Easter Monday and Boxing Day.

—A $13,000 retirement settlement for qualifying members at age 65, with disability and early retirement provisions and a substantial increase in the industry pension plan.

AT THE TOP

The immediate 45 cent an hour pay raise lifts their new base rate to $4.33 hourly—the highest in North America. It compares with $4.08 in Seattle and $4.25 in both New York and Montreal.

"This is a good contract, it will greatly benefit our members and will allow our older members to retire with dignity," said Peebles.

Edward Strang, president and chief negotiator for the BCMEA,-said earlier the new contract is expected to cost the employers $24 million.

The terms of the old contract, which expired last July 31, are to remain in effect until Feb. 23 when the new terms are expected to be implemented.

Pilferage On Docks Held Big Key To High Consumer Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of theft and pilferage on the nation's docks is running into the tens of millions of dollars a year and adding to the price consumers pay for many imported products.

"It's accepted by all on the docks," claims Richard Maxwell, chairman of the transportation committee for the American Importers Association.

"Pilferage is something of a fringe benefit, to some longshoremen," commented Gregory W. Halpin, deputy director of the Maryland Port Authority.

TRYING CURBS

Officials of dockworkers unions say they do everything possible to keep pilferage to a minimum. They point out that under contract terms a longshoreman can lose his job "with the theft of a 10-cent article."

Said one union official in Seattle: "We're rougher than any court, federal or local, on a longshoreman caught stealing."

Importers, who own the goods that are stolen, feel the brunt of the financial load. They seldom complain out loud, however.

"There are two primary reasons you don't get backing from importers," said Maxwell. "They fear retaliation from dockworkers and an increase in their insurance premiums"—and maybe of being dropped as an account by an insurance company if losses are continually reported.

HARD TO DETERMINE

It is this failure to report stolen items that makes it difficult to determine the exact dollar loss annually through pilferage and theft.

The American Institute of Marine Underwriters estimated that in 1968 theft and pilferage in international commerce cost U.S. industry $59 million and has been spiraling each year.

Spokesmen for most agencies in the shipping industry, however, think that the $59 million figure represents only the value of goods actually reported stolen—a small part of the actual losses through theft and pilferage.

To cut the losses he incurs, an importer may add to the price of an item, thus making the ultimate consumer help pay for the thievery.

Using large containers to ship merchandise has cut pilferage, but as one waterfront investigator here said, "Instead of taking a couple of bottles of whisky, they take the whole container, making it theft." It just takes more organization.

South Vietnam government officials have been ordered to stop smoking foreign made cigarettes.

"The pattern of thefts on the waterfront has indicated that container loads are not stolen unless the thieves have sound knowledge of the commodity or product, and have means for an immediate disposal of the stolen goods," said Carl E. McDowell, executive vice president of the American Institute of Marine Underwriters.

"It is generally agreed that crimes of this nature cannot occur without the cooperation of pier guards, longshoremen, checks, laborers and truck drivers," he added.

"Not landed" is a favorite catch-all phrase used frequently to hide the fact that the goods were stolen. Strictly defined, it means that the merchandise has not arrived at the port of destination, but in effect means that the goods many times have arrived and have been stolen.

Waterfront commission investigators in New York, posing as receivers and sellers of stolen goods recently uncovered a $250,000 cache of stolen dock items. Only one bale of woolen goods, valued at about $2,000, had previously been reported as stolen. The rest of the stolen cargo was reported as "not landed."

In Seattle, a member of the police burglary and theft division said of pilferage arrests: "If they catch two, they miss 100."

In Chicago, where port officials now insist "there's virtually no pilferage," a spokesman for the Mazzetti Candy Co. of Sweden, told a state Senate committee investigating the problem that his firm stopped shipping directly to Chicago in mid-1968 because of excessive thefts.

Group To Push Senior Housing Ballot

A special citizens committee agreed last night to sidestep the tricky problem of possible discrimination in the allocation of low cost housing and concentrate on getting passage of a June 2 ballot providing more such housing in Marin. The committee, which met last night at the Venetia Oaks Housing Project in Santa Venetia was formed last week to campaign for passage of the ballot measure to provide 600 housing units. The 30 members represent Marin's 11 cities and various organizations throughout the county.

As proposed, the housing would be both in cities and unincorporated areas, but there is a provision that units won't be located within a city "without the consent of its council."

This brought up the matter of cities setting residency requirements as some have for leased housing, a move that has been labeled discriminatory by Marin City residents.

Elizabeth B. Johnson, a representative of the Marin County Public Housing Tenants Union, wanted assurance that Marin City residents would be able to move into the proposed new public housing.

Housing Authority Chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said the authority had no restrictions that would block them, but it would be within a city's power to require city residency for admission to units in that city.

The housing authority Tuesday approved a new system for filling housing vacancies, under which the applicant at the top of the list will be offered available housing wherever it may be in Marin.

Thus, an applicant from Novato could be offered a vacancy in Marin City or vice versa. If he turned it down, he would be moved to the bottom of the waiting list.

(The system, however, does not overcome city residency requirements.)

One committee member suggested that the matter of possible restrictions be "cleared up" before the measure went to the voters. John F. West, observer from San Anselmo, suggested the housing authority take the position that no housing would be provided in cities that have residency requirements.

Authority director Vera L. Schultz said she regretted that cities had tied residency requirements and percentage limitations to their acceptance of leased housing. "This is inappropriate and wrong," she said.

She advocated, however, that committee efforts now be aimed toward successful passage of a low-cost housing measure.

The problem of residency requirements, if they arose, could be tackled later, Mrs. Schultz said.

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director of the Housing Authority, explained the only way to have housing Marin City residents can transfer to is "to have the ballot passed so we can build homes."

One member asked if the ballot wording could include, "not discriminatory by residency requirement," but there was no follow-up on his comment.

Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen commented, "If three or four cities don't have any residency requirement and others do, at least it's a start. We don't get any if we don't get it passed."

The committee named the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Edward Boessnecker, finance; Louis Della Valle and Carroll A. Snyker, community organizations; William A. Lewis, speakers bureau, and Frank Edlund, publicity.

Edward T. Ryken, executive director of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, was named vice chairman. The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Feb. 26 at the Venetia Oaks project.

Dodge Slashes Price Of Dart

DETROIT (AP) — In a surprise move, Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. announced today across-the-board price cuts for all of its compact Dart models.

The price cuts, which range from $155 to $190, were billed by Dodge as an attempt "to become more competitive in a price-conscious market."

Under the new price list, the least expensive Dart will sell for $2,172, $155 below the price at 1970 model-introduction time last fall. The prices are lower than those posted for 1969 models when they were introduced in the fall of 1968.

Canadian Blaze Fatal To Seven

MONTREAL (AP) — A family of six and a fireman perished in a two-alarm fire that swept a two-story brick house in zero temperatures early this morning in suburban St. Henri.

Dead are Mr. and Mrs. Noel Belanger and their four children, Roger, 4, Carol, 2, Lucie, 1, and Francine, 8 months.

Albert Papodekz, 50, a member of the city fire department, died in hospital of a heart attack after collapsing while attempting to effect a rescue.

Police reported that the Belanger family, which moved into the house last October, was trapped on the second floor of the building.

Stranded Tourists Leave Avalanche Area

By JOHN A. CALLCOTT

VAL D'ISERE, France (UPI) —Thousands of tourists stranded since Tuesday's avalanche disaster streamed out of this alpine ski resort today over the only cleared road.

Officials said perhaps 2,000 of the 6,000 skiers at the resort managed to leave Thursday before a series of new avalanches sent thousands of tons of snow over route 202 to Bourg St. Maurice.

The new avalanches claimed the life of an 8-month-old girl, hit an auto convoy of departing tourists and smashed six chalets. Several persons in the convoy were injured. The infant was found beneath four feet of snow.

Officials said temperatures had dropped to below freezing, greatly lessening the chance of more avalanches. The one Tuesday killed 39 people in a youth hostel.

One of the slides Thursday piled into a column of automobiles wending their way to Bourg St. Maurice.

"The wind and snow knocked the cars all over the road, hurling them off to the side and blowing them at least 100 yards down the road," said Edward Classen of Lake Forest, Ill.

Thousands of tourists, some as many as four days late for work, were ready to leave when Mayor Noel Machet called off further departures because of Thursday's slides. The tourists unpacked, moved back into the resort and spent the night.

Before dawn today, police and hotel officials moved through the village awakening tourists and notifying them the road was again clear for the drive to Bourg St. Maurice.

All ski runs at Val D'Isere have been closed since the wall of snow thundered down and smashed into two hotels Tuesday. But officials said perhaps 2,500 persons were waiting for conditions to improve enough so they could resume skiing.

Weed Test Case Filed By Werber

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Frank Werber, entertainment impresario charged with possessing and growing marijuana, is asking an appellate court to overturn a ruling that drug cannot be considered a legally protected religious sacrament.

Werber, former manager of the Limelighters musical group, filed his appeal of the ruling Thursday with the First District Court of Appeal.

His trial in Marin County Superior Court has been recessed pending the appeal court decision.

Judge E. Warren McGuire had instructed jurors at the trial to ignore Werber's testimony that he used marijuana solely for religious purposes. The judge said there was no such religion as "marijuana ' ism."

Werber contends the U.S. Constitution protects him from prosecution if marijuana is used solely for religious purposes.

Airlines, Charter Fleets Battle Over Nixon Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two jet-age competitors, the scheduled airlines and the charter supplementals, are locked in a bitter struggle over proposed Nixon administration policy on international aviation.

"We of the scheduled airline industry cannot live with this proposed policy," declares the Air Transportation Association —ATA, predicting it would lead to an end of regular flights to many cities around the world.

"We are extremely pleased with the draft policy paper on international air policy," responds the National Air Carrier Association—NACA—on behalf of the supplemental airlines.

Charter airlines endorse the policy recommendations released Jan. 15 because they would encourage further develop-mnt of the supplementals and reduction in competitive advantages for scheduled airlines.

However, James E. Landry, ATA vice president-international, complains the policy would give preferential treatment to the supplementals, "staking out for them new markets and giving new roles under which in some instances they would supplant rather than supplement scheduled air service."

The ATA said that if the proposed policy goes into effect, the deliberately designed and regulated global route pattern of today could not survive.

"The Pittsburghs, the Clevelands, the St. Louises, the Portlands, the Houstons, and in time even larger points will disappear from the air map and a troubled world will be the sorrier for it," the ATA said.

A committee headed by Paul Cherington, assistant secretary of transportation, made the recommendations after President Nixon ordered a comprehensive review of policies which had not been examined thoroughly since large jets started service in the early 1960s.

Regarding charter operations, the committee suggested:

—Charter services should be encouraged since they can open new markets and provide cheaper transportation.

—Both scheduled and supplemental lines should have a fair chance to compete in the bulk transportation market, including passengers now traveling at group rates on scheduled airlines.

SCENE OF RESCUE — Wendell J. Groves of Novato and Peter Caraway of Marshall look over the pier into the water of Tomales Bay where the boy nearly drowned last September.

Novatan Gets Medal For Rescue

A Novato man today was given the National Safety Council's presidential medal, its highest award, for saving the life of a small boy last fall at Marshall.

Wendell J. Groves, a civilian employee at Hamilton Air Force Base, was given the citation by Col. Lee A. Sarter, base commander in ceremonies at the base.

Last Sept. 20, Groves of 837 Atherton Avenue, was driving down Shoreline Highway in Marshall when he saw a crowd on a pier. In the water was a small child, apparently lifeless After an unidentified person waded in and handed the small boy to those on the pier, Groves applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, reviving the child.

Saved was 30-month-old Peter Caraway, son of Mrs. Susan D. Caraway of Marshall.

Chicago Riot Trial Finally Nears Jury

CHICAGO (AP) — After five months, the marathon trial of seven men charged with conspiracy to incite rioting at the Democratic National Convention in 1968 is headed for the jury.

William M. Kunstler, a defense lawyer, was to conclude his final argument today, followed by Thomas A. Foran, the U.S. district attorney, who had been alloted two hours for rebuttal.

After that it remained for Judge Julius J. Hoffman of U.S. District Court to instruct the jury of 10 women and 2 men and have them locked up to deliberate.

If convicted, each of the seven men could be sentenced to a maximum of 10 years in prison and fined $20,000.

During 90 minutes of closing argument Thursday, Kunstler cited rebellious deeds of the American Revolutionary period and quoted from a summation by famous criminal lawyer cy case 50 years ago.

"New ideas," Kunstler quoted Darrow as saying, "come from despised rebels who dare to think new ideas . . . If this jury should make it harder to be a rebel, then you are serving the damnation of the human race."

Kunstler sought to identify the trial in which Darrow had given the speech but the government objected and was sustained by the judge.

The Fairfax Community Church — United Church of Christ 2398 Sir Frances Drake Boulevard, was looted of $30 worth of stamps between 11 p.m. Wednesday and 9 a.m. yesterday, Fairfax police reported today.

Fire extinguishers in the church were emptied and outside flood lights were removed.

BART Voltage Brings Warning

OAKLAND (AP) — "Electric Third Rail. Danger. Keep away."

Signs with this warning, in English and Spanish, were being installed today along 22 miles of Bay Area Rapid Transit tracks between Hayward and Oakland.

The rails, which will power BART cars, will be energized with 1,000 volts so technicians can check circuits.

Anyone touching the electric rail could be killed.

BART has installed seven foot-high chain link fence, topped by barbed wire, along the entire right of way.

The State Public Utilities Commission requires a curve safety cover over the third rail but they have been delayed by production problems.

Overdose Treated

William Fearn, 21, of 18 Prospect Drive, San Rafael was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for an overdose of pills, police reported today.

Reed Trustees Face Fiscal Task

The opening round of discussion on a 1970-71 budget will be held Tuesday by the Reed School District board.

Supt. Robert B. Gaw said the spending program has been prepared in the expectation of no substantial increase in revenue, but with room for funds to open the financially troubled Reedland Woods School and cover the cost of salary increases.

The board, meeting at 8 p.m. in Bel Aire School, also will consider a change order in construction of Reedland Woods School.

A closed meeting will be held at 7 p.m. to hear charges against a teacher aide.

The board will also meet at 8 p.m. Monday at Bel Aire to hear a report on a research report on Granada School, a cluster facility.

Fall Victim Mends

Reeder N. Nelson Jr., 19, of Vallejo was released from Kaiser Foundation Hospital yesterday following treatment for head injuries sustained in a fall Wednesday from a second-story construction site at 239 Picnic Avenue, San Rafael, the hospital reported.

Tires Vandalized

Robert J. Biseheri of 310 Paloma Street, San Rafael reported two tires on his car, parked at his home were punctured with a knife blade yesterday between 7 a.m. and noon, police reported today.

Berlin Envoy Sees Kosygin

MOSCOW (AP) — West German Chancellor Willy Brandt's special envoy for negotiations with the Soviet Union, State Secretary Egon Bahr, met for the first time today with Premier Alexei Kosygin. They talked for 90 minutes, and Bahr said they covered "problems of mutual interest."

He would not elaborate but said the meeting took place in a "businesslike atmosphere."

Since his arrival Jan. 28, Bahr has had four meetings with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, discussing a proposed mutual declaration renouncing the use of force against each other, West German recognition of East Germany, the Bonn government's moves toward detente with other East European Communist governments and other factors in Soviet-West German relations.

Law Cited In Refusal Of Ambulance

An ambulance crew which refused Wednesday to carry a dead or dying man to the hospital was violating no law, county officials said today.

In fact, the crew might have broken the law if it had taken Emilio F. Maschio to the hospital as requested by San Anselmo police.

Maschio suffered a heart attack Wednesday morning. On arriving, the ambulance attendant felt for his pulse and said he was dead. Police and firemen, uncertain whether Maschio was still alive, asked the crew to take him to the hospital but the ambulance attendants refused.

The difficulty, Coroner's Investigator Keith C. Craig said, is that there is no state or county law that says who can declare someone dead. Craig pronounced Maschio dead at 9:10 a.m., half an hour after the ambulance crew arrived.

There is a law, however, that prohibits ambulances from transporting the dead, except under specific orders from the coroner's office. If Maschio were dead, it would have been a technical violation of the law to take his body to the hospital.

"There is a potential for liability on the part of the ambulance company," deputy County Counsel Thomas Hendricks said, "but no statutory requirement."

Bay Cities withheld comment this morning but said the company president would be in Marin later today and a statement would be issued.

Craig said the coroner's office has no control over ambulances for a seemingly paradozical reason. If the victim is alive, the coroner's office is not involved; if he is dead, the ambulance company is not allowed to transport the body.

TV Set Stolen

A $185 television set, and linens, a blanket and towels valued at $32 were stolen from a room last night at the Bermuda Palms Motel, 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael police reported today. The room's occupant, Danny L. Temple, reported five shirts valued at $35 were also missing, police said.

Moonlight Bargains Keep Markets Busy

It looked like the crowd for a championship football game at each of three Mayfair stores in Marin last night as cars overflowed parking lots with customers for a five-hour "Moonlight ale."

The stores offered such bargains as bacon at 49 cents a pound, large eggs at 49 cents a dozen, and bread at a dime a loaf, with coupons published in an Independent-Journal advertisement.

Ernest Pacioni, manager of the Mayfair store in San Rafael's West End, reproted the store was "mobbed" until nearly 11 p.m. before the crowd thinned out. "We are very, very pleased," he said.

Dick Martin, manager of the Third and Union streets store, called the turnout "fantastic — just fantastic!" He and Pacioni both said it exceeded expectations.

"A tremendous turnout" at the Novato store was reported by manager Ted Zambukos, who said the store was "mobbed until about 10:30 p.m."

Mayfair declined to disclose any figure on the number of customers, to avoid giving information to competitors. But one who was present throughout the sale at the West End store estimated nearly 1,500 shoppers passed through the checkout aisles during the five hours.

Married Woman, 16, Reports Motel Attack

A 16-year-old married woman was raped yesterday in her bed at the Bermuda Palms Motel by a bald, heavy set man in his mid 30s, San Rafael police reported today.

The woman told police she discovered the man in her room at the motel at 737 Francisco Boulevard when whe awakened at 8 a.m. He threatened to harm her if she did not submit, police said. She was treated at Marin General Hospital, police said.

Salt Lake City Developer Exhibits Magetti Ranch Pact

G. J. Garlick of Salt Lake City said today he and a group of associates have purchased the former Magetti ranch in Novato, of which he offered to sell 425 acres to the City of Novato for park use, under a contract of sale.

Garlick exhibited a contract of sale executed by Western Title Guaranty Co. of San Rafael as evidence that he and his associates have purchased the land and are in position to dispose of it. The transfer of title has not yet been recorded.

Wayne Womack, Novato city councilman, said his investigation after Garlick offered the land to the city for $500,000 showed Garlick "at the present time holds only a contract for purchase" and "it seems very unlikely that he could convey a clear title."

Womack made his statement after a story in the Independent-Journal related how the City of San Anselmo purchased the former Sorich dairy ranch for a park by leasing the whole property and buying it in parcels, one each year.

Garlick said a similar arrangement with Novato might be possible if the city were interested in acquiring the 425 acres he offered it.

Theft Of License Plates Reported

License plates were stolen from two cars parked in San Rafael during the last three days, police reported today.

Charles R. May of 258 D Street reported his Colorado plates AH707 were taken from his car parked in the Mayfair parking lot at Third and Union streets at 5:45 p.m.

A witness reported seeing a thief take plates from a car owned by Nancy Jane Lang, of 1000 C, Tuesday at 9:30 p.m., police said. The car was parked in a lot at 1016 C Street.

Ad Hoc Panel To Help Pick College Chief

An ad hoc committee to assist in the selection of a new president for Sonoma State College was approved yesterday by the college academic senate.

Chairman A. S. Pickett said a 10-member committee will consider applicants for the position and will make a recommendation to the "rainbow" selection committee of the chancellor's office, so named because it is supposed to represent the entire spectrum of opinion.

The ad hoc committe ewill include five faculty members, three students and two staff members. Pickett said the representatives will be elected by their respective groups and should be formed by Feb. 27.

Th rainbow selection committee of Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke will include several members of the State College Board of Trustees, the chancellor's office, Sonoma State advisory board, state college presidents and representatives of the college.

Pickett said the local representatives to the panel will be selected by the ad hoc committee.

The committees will seek a replacement for President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. who will leave his post in June to join the college's chemistry department as an instructor.

Driver Is Treated

Stephen R. Williams, 21, of 364 Sunset Parkway, Novato, was treated Wednesday at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for minor cuts and cruises after his car collided with another at the intersection of Irwin Street and Fifth Avenue at 8:42 p.m., San Rafael police reported today.

Williams's car collided with one driven by Richard J. Curry, [illegible] Kent Avenue, Fairfax, police said. Curry's wife, Patricia, 26, told police she would see her own physician for injuries received in the crash.

Purchasers Of Courthouse Seek Help For Planning

Developers of downtown San Rafael's Courthouse Square yesterday appealed to interested businessmen and citizens to help them finance and plan "a dynamic commerical center" for the site.

The call was issued by Ernest N. Kettenhofen, former Marin County supervisor, and Robert A. Roumiguiere, a San Rafael real estate broker, on Kettenhoffen's "Forum" program on KTIM.

The two men, together with Independent-Journal publisher-Wishard Brown, are principals in the group whose $767,000 bid for the property was accepted Tuesday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

"We have no set ideas on what should be built there," said Roumiguiere. "We have open minds and would like to hear from all parties so we can make the commercial center dynamic and aesthetically pleasing—a showcase of Marin County."

Because of the high cost of remodeling the courhouse to bring it up to modern building standards as required by law Roumiguiere said it probably would be demolished.

Kettenhofen pointed out that downtown San Rafael needs a strong commercial complex to generate increased sales taxes. "Downtown areas in many cities have become slums. While this isn't the case in San Rafael, a commercial center is needed to keep the city healthy."

Kettenhofen added that he objected to a reference to him as a "land developer" in Wednesday's Independent-Journal.

"I haven't developed land for resale in 15 years," he said. "Any land I buy I intend to keep."

The plan for some sort of commercial enterprise on the site was criticized by one listener, who said that "this would throw away the only historical building in San Rafael."

The caller suggested retaining the present courthouse, but Roumiguiere said that "it would be economically impossible to bring it up to date."

Other suggestions from listeners included building shops inside the present Courthouse shell, and devoting a part of the new center to a museum for Marin County history.

Marijuana, Siphon Leads To Arrest

The circumstantial evidence against Richard Nicklos Pariani, 22, was pretty strong when he was arrested last night, Larkspur police reported.

Police said they found Pariani, of 41 Walnut Avenue, Mill Valley, inside a garage at the Greenbrae boarwalk at 10:45 p.m. Nearby, a rubber siphon was still sticking out of a car's gas tank, with a gasoline can beside it. Pariani's car was parked next to the car being siphoned.

Police said they then found a marijuana cigarette in Pariani's shirt, and several marijuana cigarette butts in his car's ashtray.

Pariani was booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of possessing marijuana, petty theft and vehicle tampering. He was held to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Eskimos Changing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Many Eskimos have abandoned the long-familiar igloo for a comfortable frame house, and select their clothing from mail order catalogues, says the National Geographic Society.

Jackie Note Seller's Identity Is Revealed

NEW YORK (AP) — The lawyer who offered for sale four letters written by Jacqueline Onassis to a former Defense undersecretary, Roswell Gilpatric, was identified today as Theodore B. Donson, a former law associate of Gilpatric's.

Donson, now with the Wall Street investment firm of Cogan, Berlind, Weill and Levitt, was not available for comment on reports identifying him as the would-be seller of the letters.

However, Charles Hamilton, autograph dealer who had planned to sell the letters, before he learned that Gilpatric said the letters were stolen, said Donson was the man who came to him some time ago with the letters and got a $500 advance.

Hamilton, who had expected the letters to bring several thousand dollars at auction, got the $500 back from Donson this week and Gilpatric turned the matter over to the district attorney.

The district attorney's office has not disclosed whether it has traced the identity of the man who reportedly mailed the letters to Donson and told Donson he was a night stenographer in Gilpatric's office and had found the letters in a wastebasket.

Hamilton quoted Donson as saying he tried to reach the person who mailed the letters to him, was unable to do so and to suspect he had been duped.

Meanwhile Mrs. Onassis, iceskating at Rockefeller Center Thursday with her son, John F. Kennedy Jr., shrugged off reporters' questions about the letters.

New Tomales School Already Overflowing

The new Tomales High School which opened last September already is too small to accommodate the students, according to principal Robert R. Reeder.

Shoreline Unified School District trustees Wednesday night approved an agreement with Compass Container Co. of Richmond for three portable classrooms totaling 3,820 square feet, according to administrative assistant Anthony Matulich.

This will be a lease-purchase agreement and the district will own them in seven years paying $11,485 per year, he said.

Reeder said that the increased enrollment in the school and large curriculum made it necessary. The school was designed for 200 students and now has 270, he said.

The board approved a course in homemaking for the first time. The present art and business education rooms will be given to that, he said. The new portable classrooms will house the business education, drafting and art classes, according to Reeder.

The Shoreline Unified School District board also:

The Shoreline School District Board Also:

PORTABLE—Also authorized an agreement with Compass Container Co. for 3,820 square feet of portable classroom space at $1,485 per year for seven years for vocational classrooms at omales High School.

OCEANOGRAPHY — Heard a principal Ralph Nixon of Tomales Elementary School report that he was working with the University of Pacfic marine station at Dillon gbeach on an oceanography and marine life program.

PROJECT—Heard a report from Hollis Moore of the coumy superintendent's office that the joint project of the Shoreline and Mill Valley Elementary districts for educational professional development act funds had been approved, but the exact amount of these funds was not known at this time. These will provide funds to help teachers perform at a more professional level.

CALENDAR—Changed the closing date of school from June 16 to June 17 because the district has lost several days during the rains.

HIGH SCHOOL—Heard a report from Matulich that of the original 87 items on the list of minor items to be completed at Tomales High, all would be completed the first of next week.

RESIGNATION—Accepted the resignation of Carol Porter, third grade teacher at Tomales Elementary as of June 30.

COMMITTEE—Named a citizens' committee to study future building needs of the district. Panelists are: David Burbank, Alice Redding, Herbert Angress, Walton Burbank, Earl Carpenter, Fred Rodoni, James Spaletta, Sue Baty, Harold Ames Jr. and Richard Irwin. Board members named are: Louise Passalacqua, Roy Parks and Robert Giacomini.

Lower Vote Age Drive Is Planned

Marin County Youth Commission members will meet at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday in Room 254 of the new Hall of Justice to drum up support for lowering the voting age to 18.

The youth commissioners are circulating petitions to put the voting age question on the November ballot. Youth commissioners will map final plans for a petition drive set for Feb. 23.

Gwen M. Monroe, youth coordinator, said other items on the agenda for Feb. 19 include pollution of environment, problems in the educational system, youth recreation needs, and juvenile rights.

Sewer Connect Hike Is Asked

Ross Valley Sanitary District has decided it needs a $75 increase to $150 for installation of sewer connections, retroactive as far as possible, Peter A. Ribar, board president, reported yesterday.

The board Wednesday referred to the Marin County counsel the question of legality of such retroactive charges, according to Ribar, who said the board did not know what degree of retroactivity, if any, will be possible.

Ribar said the county counsel will also study an ordinance change to provide "pop-off" valves in new sewer-lines to prevent back flow into homes during wet weather.

Ribar said with the rate increase, the district would still have a low charge compared with other county districts, which are charging $200 or more.

Redwood Students Set Tree Plantings

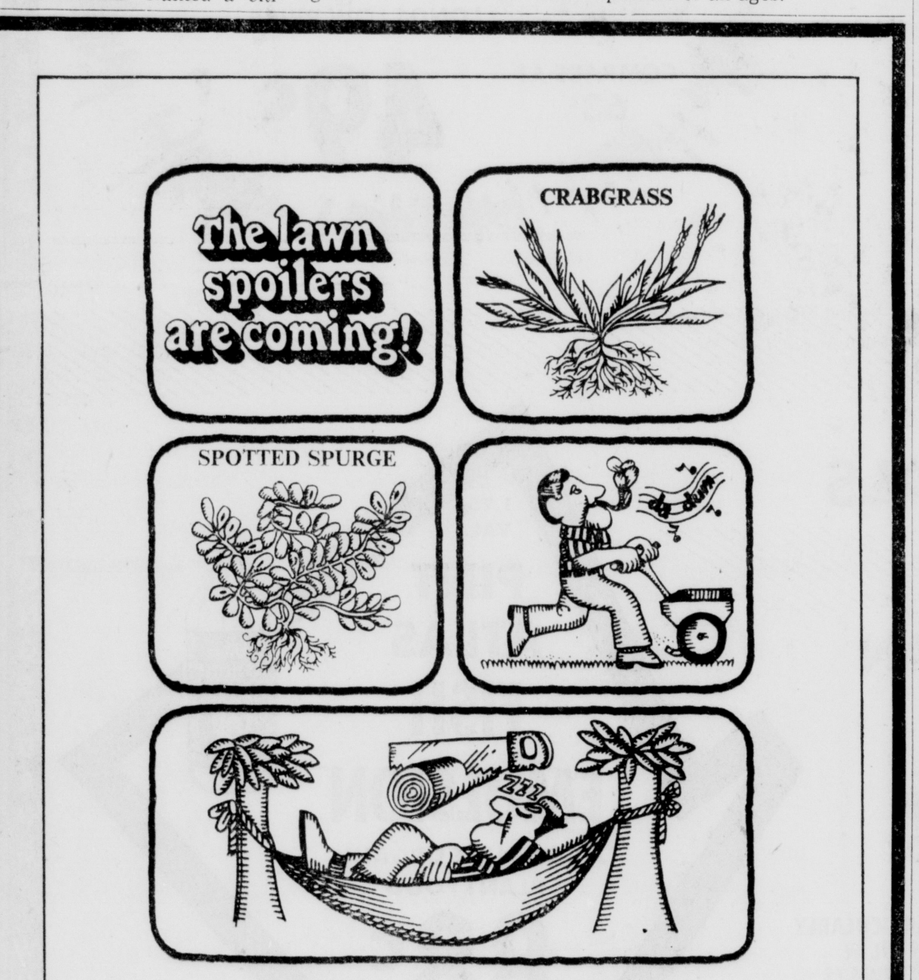
Students at Redwood High School will hold a plant-a-tree day Wednesday to improve the environment and community relations, according to student organizer Chris Martin.

The students plan to purchase the trees at a discount at Egger and Son Nursery and plant them in the school's back parking lot starting at 12:30 p.m.

Chinese Exercise Classes Scheduled

A class in T'ai Chi Chu'an, a Chinese system of exercise, will be presented at the Sausalito Arts Center at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 26.

Sessions will be held Thursdays for four months with Cecile Cutler and Thomas Brayne as teachers. The class is open to persons of all ages.



...and this is the only time of the whole year you can prevent them

Not now, but come spring with its warming sun, those two notorious lawn spoilers—crabgrass and spotted spurge—will start growing from the thousands of seeds left behind by last year's crop.

If yours is a dichondra lawn. Neither spoiler need see the light of day in your 1970 dichondra lawn. You simply spreader-apply Super Bonus before mid-February, and repeat in 8 weeks. It sets up a barrier that chokes both crabgrass and spotted spurge as they sprout. (It also delays revival of bermuda.)

If yours is a grass lawn or grass mixed with dichondra. You can stop crabgrass before it ever starts by using Super Halts Plus. (Note: Super Halts Plus does not prevent spotted spurge.) One spreader application does it, as long as it's on by mid-March.

Fertilizes lawn too. Both Super Bonus and Super Halts Plus also provide prolonged Scotts feeding—so your lawn automatically gets the fertilizing it needs at this time of year. And since both products work through the soil, you get the full benefit no matter how many inches of rain follow application.

Was There Ever A 'Stewardess Type?'

By ROBERT BUCKHORN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An airline stewardess is:

—A glorified cocktail waitress.

—A hard-working, underpaid airline employee.

—A husband-hunting homewrecker.

—The girl next door.

It all depends on your point of view which answer you choose.

EVER SINCE the first stewardess — Ellen Church — stepped into a United Airlines plane in 1930, airline passengers have been praising and criticizing stewardessess — and trying to fit them into some neat category.

It can't be done. If there ever was a recognizable "stewardess type" it has disappeared under sheer impact of numbers.

There now are over 32,000 stewardesses working for scheduled U.S. airlines. United, the nation's biggest airline, employs over 5,000. Trans World is next with 4,500 ,followed by Pan American with about 4,000.

But the big boom in stewardess employment is just beginning. The reason: the arrival of the 400-passenger jumbo jetliner, which may use as many as 10 stewardesses on every flight.

Trans World alone expects to hire 3,000 stewardesses in 1970 to offset the demand created by the jumbo jetliners, the first of which, the Boeing 747, will start flying regularly soon.

WHAT IS THE attraction for girls? Usually two things — they want to travel, and the job still retains a certain air of glamour when compared to nine-to-five office work.

But it has its drawbacks — mainly dealing with "problem" airline passengers. A University of Southern California psychologist Chaytor D. Mason describes the "problem passenger" this way: "He looks grown up, but in many ways acts as irrational as a child."

According to Mason, most problem passengers are simply afraid of flying. Some use different ways to cover up the fear — they complain, they try to romance the stewardess or they revert to a child-like state of dependency. But in each case, Mason says, they are really using the ploy to hide their fear of flying.

Most airlines get very specific about the type of girl they want — at least when it comes to size. One airline wants its girl to be no smaller than five-foot-two and no taller than five-foot-nine. It also adds a warning to girls who may be prone to overindulge in bonbons: "Reporting overweight can result in immediate dismissal from training."

ON THE AVERAGE, the major airlines put their recruits through five weeks of training, ranging from the use of fire extinguishers to "oshi-bori" — that's the hot towel service at the end of a flight. For their work, the girls are paid a basic minimum of about $376 a month. This rises to about $580 after several years. But if the salary is not high, there is an added fringe benefit — the company pays all expenses when the girls travel. Despite this, the average stewardess stays on the job only about 18 months, then quits to get married.

With the combination of increased speed and size in planes, stewardesses have a new lament — they don't have enough time to do their job.

According to one stewardess, "you need roller skates to serve drinks and dinner to 200 persons on a two-and-one-half hour flight from New York to Miami." Short trips are even worse. It is not unusual for two stewardesses to be expected to serve dinner and drinks to 70 persons on a one-hour flight.

THE RESULT IS inevitable: Complaints from passengers. There have been stories of passengers who never got fed because the stewardess never reached their seat before the plane started its landing approach.

But there are other stories, too. In a survivable crash, the stewardess can hold the key to life for some passengers. She is the one the airlines count on to hold down panic, set up emergency exit chutes, and follow the last-to-leave-the-ship tradition.

That is asking a lot from girls whose average age is 21. But the Federal Aviation Administration standards require that an airplane must be able to evacuate its passengers in 90 seconds. Added to this is a new and growing problem — coping with airline hijackers, who have used stewardesses as prime targets for hostages.

But some airline observers claim the stewardess record is not good enough. One key area of failure, they claim, is the safety lecture given to the passengers at the start of each flight.

THIS IS DELIVERED in wooden tones by some girls who appear uninterested in whether or not the passenger knows how to tie a lifejacket or use an oxygen mask.

Since the stewardess isn't interested, the passenger tends to ignore the instructions which could save his life, runs the argument.

To prove the point, the critics cite examples of where oxygen masks were accidentally dropped into a passenger's lap from the overhead container, but were ignored.

Despite critics and boosters, the girls seem able to maintain their poise and patience. One airline official tells the true story of a stewardess who was cooped up in a plane for hours with an impossible-to-please passenger.

HIS STEAK WAS burned, he complained. The plane was late. The stewardess was incompetent. He was going to write a letter to the airline president, etc., etc.

When the flight landed the stewardess was at the door saying goodbye to the deplaning passengers. When the complainer passed, he got in one last growl: "I'll never ride this airline again."

"Promise?" said the stewardess, sweetly.

REFLECTING THE past, airline stewardess Shirley Ross looks at herself as she would have appeared had she been a stewardess 30 years ago. In 1930 there was one stewardess, and the number has zoomed to over 32,000. With the advent of the jumbo jet this year the number will go still higher.

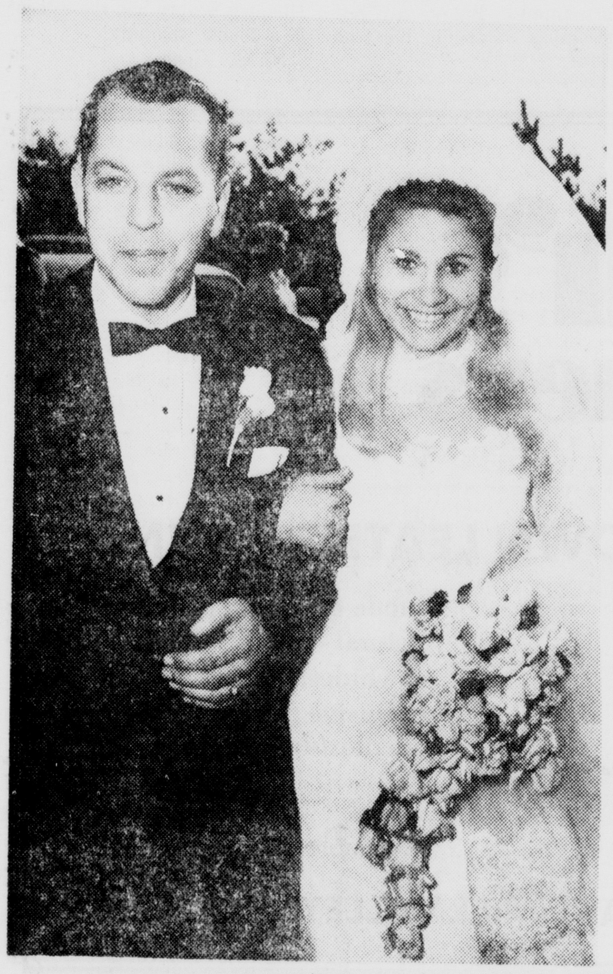
Gail Jernigan Becomes The Bride Of John Allen Roach



MR. AND MRS. JOHN ALLEN ROACH
(Arthur Odell photo)

Gail Anne Jernigan became the bride of John Allen Roach Saturday at High Street Presbyterian Church in Oakland.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Van Horn of Oakland and chose her sister, Jan Jernigan of Oakland, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Doreen Hering, Diane Pressler and Mrs. Donald Brown, Gail's sister, all of Oakland.

Richard Gasper of San Mateo was the best man, and ushers were John Sheo Roach, Jeff Love and Steven Patterson, all of San Rafael.

Gail, a graduate of Skyline High School in Oakland, attended Merritt College in Oakland and is employed by Small World Travel Agency in Mill Valley. Mrs. Edna Field of Oakland is her grandmother.

The bridegroom, son of John A. Roach of San Rafael and the late Mrs. Roach, is a graduate of George Washington High School in San Francisco and attended the College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland. He is employed in San Rafael by Arden-Mayfair, Inc. Mrs. Herbert Britt of Petaluma is his grandmother.

The couple will live in Novato.

Courreges Sticks To His Famous Short, Constructed, Belted Look

By ANN HENCKEN
Associated Press

Courreges arrived Tuesday for the opening of his spring-summer couture future collection, prices from $250 to $495. He still stuck to above-the-knee hemlines on dresses with a constructed look: trimmed, buttoned, belted and patch-pocketed.

Pucci, on the other hand, is going to greater lengths.

"I'M NOT against the midi," Courreges said. "But it's for young girls. My aim is to make a woman look younger. Long skirts make her look older.

"At the speed we're going, in 10 years we'll be back to corsets. But my girls won't be like that."

However, he says he's already thinking of going to new lengths for fall, although he's not sure what they will be.

The funniest part of his new collection were the bathing suits. With a backdrop of flashing lights Courreges models "swam" out in bright, shiny two-piece swim suit outfits, complete with flippers, caps, snorkels and goggles-all part of a set. The suits are priced at around $125. The opening was hosted by William Fine, president of Bonwit Teller.

PUCCI SEES THE longer lengths as "an evident desire our sphere of action." Women are justified in wanting many looks to wear, he says.

He considers the miniskirt young and fresh-one visual expression of a permissive society.

"The only argument I have is against vulgarity," he says. For example, a fat woman should not dress with a maximum of exposure.

Pucci's prints started as a status symbol for the well-to-do, but have expanded to areas such as underfashions, purses, perfumes, ski clothes — and soon, home furnishings.

PUCCI HAS even designed a structure for a new kind of city "which should be in the works by 1975," he says.

I am a creator of ideas," says Pucci. Once a designer has a concept of what life is all about, that concept can be expressed in many concretes, from telephones to clothing, he says.

Monsterous Grammar Outlasts Television's Violent Monsters

DEAR HELEN:

I find it frustrating, while trying to teach my children correct grammar, to have them constantly confronted with "Them ain't so bad," and "He don't do nuthin'" etc., in television cartoons.

I'm thankful we're rid of the cartoon monsters and violence, but now I wonder if we could have the monsterous grammar problem corrected?

Anyone care to join my lament? — M. M. B.

DEAR M:

Alas, poor television. No matter how it cleans up, calms down and dodges sideways to avoid criticism, the boob tube gets nuthin' but brickbats. Ain't it sad? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I know I put my foot not only in my mouth but down my throat, but I couldn't help popping off. Tell me if I was wrong.

Our daughter was asked to be a flower girl at the wedding of a not-too-close relative. I spend about $30 on her dress, shoes, gloves, etc. So okay. She was thrilled. Next we bought a nice wedding present, plus a shower gift.

So what happens? I'm informed by the bride's mother that the wedding party is arranging a catered shower, and my share will be $15.00. That's when I expressed myself.

What happened to the good old days when friends met for cookies and coffee and chit-chat at an informal shower for the bride? — IN DUTCH

DEAR IN:

The good old days (emphasis on good) also labled a bride's mother pushy if she planned a shower for her daughter. You have a right to complain. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Suddenly I've developed two problems: I have to have closet and cupboard doors ajar. I can't stand it when they're completely closed. And I can't stand noise. Even the television drives me up the wall.

My husband and I just separated. I wasn't this way before. Could our troubles have something to do with these oddities? — WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:

I could guess the traumas of separation have a great deal to do with these sudden personality changes — but I'm only guessing. Consult your doctor while they're still new enough to conquer. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We moved here about a month ago. We went into debt to find a house, and then we borrowed to pay my maternity bills.

When I had a terribly difficult time having the baby, I guess it was just too much for my husband. He wasn't there when the hospital called to tell him I could come home.

I haven't seen him since. I know he loves me and our two babies. He was always so good to us. But something just must have snapped.

I don't want to go on welfare, but is there anything else for a mother of two young children who can't even find a baby sitter, much less a job? — DESERTED AND WAITING

DEAR DESERTED:

Sign up at the State Employment Agency, but don't feel badly about accepting Welfare checks for a while. After all, your taxes helped provide them. — H.

Yacht Club Auxiliary Elects Mrs. John DeWitt President

Sailing with her family, tennis and gardening are some interests of Mrs. John H. DeWitt III of San Rafael, who has been elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of San Francisco Yacht Club.

Karen plans to promote women's sailing and encourage comraderie among yachtsmen's wives. She has scheduled spring and fall Women's Sailing Training Programs for beginning and advanced women sailors, including all aspects of sailing from basic rigging and sailing to spinnaker work and racing. Some members will take the program to improve their techniques when crewing for their husbands. Others, more advanced, will be preparing to compete in the Women's North American Sailing Championship.

The auxiliary plans social events including luncheons, holiday parties, children's parties, a museum tour and special interest programs. They will assist with the club's social activities as requested by the men's board.

Membership in the auxiliary is limited to the wife of a yacht club member, women junior adult members and women's associate members.

The new president has lived in Marin seven years and has been a club member for five year, serving as secretary for two years and vice president last year. Her husband is a Boeing 707 pilot for World Airways. They have a daughter, 10, Margaret Elise.

Karen was graduated from Universtiy of Oregon and completed one year of graduate work in foreign languages at the American Institute for Foreign Trade in Phoenix, Arizona. She attends St. Paul's Episcipal Church in San Rafael. She is leader of her daughter's Junior Girl Scout Troop.

Patti Dildine's Engagement To Robert L. Hills Is Told

Patti Ann Dildine of San Rafael, the daughter of Mrs. Patricia Dildine of Los Angeles, is engaged to wed Robert L. Hills of San Rafael.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hills of San Rafael and the brother of Mrs. Keith Conroy of San Rafael.

Patti is the sister of Jan Marie and Don C. Dildine, both of Los Angeles. She is a graduate of Terra Linda High School and is employed as a cashier-hostess in a San Rafael restaurant. She also attended College of Marin.

Robert is also a Terra Linda High School graduate. He served in the Navy and plans to attend college in the fall.

A late summer wedding is planned.

HER AMERICA

A Black Woman's Beauty

Sandra Haggerty today looks at the changes that have come about in standards for the black woman.

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

For a long time we Americans have been humming the television commercial "Is it true blondes have more fun?" And golden-tressed women, either naturally or via the peroxide bottle, have led the feminine masses to the pinnacle of beauty.

This attention on the blonde group has posed a real problem for the black female. With few exceptions, we are not blonde. Even to make the trip via the perioxide route "we got a long way to go." And there's just something incongruous about a blonde-headed black woman.

But as all women wanting to be attractive to the men in their lives, we have tried all the beauty assists that have come out in the market, ranging from skin-bleaching creams to hair straighteners. We have spent much time, money and energy in attempting to approximate the white standard of beauty. Though many of us have come up as fantastic carbon copies, something has been missing.

HAPPILY, our contemporary "black awareness" has caused the black female to re-examine herself. Instead of reacting to the establishd standard of beauty, she is now acting on her own, building and creating a new image based upon her natural assets. She now accepts her blackness and illuminates and accentuates it rather than hiding and minimizing it.

In addition to special make-up and clothing the biggest change has come in the area of hair styles.

An interesting thing about these fantastically attractive "natural" hair-dos is that it takes a certain mental readiness to wear one, a quality that somehow radiates from the wearer, giving her a special glow.

Many white brunettes say they feel more beautiful as blonds. "Natural" - coiffured black women say they feel beautiful, too—many for the first time. Said one girl, "I'm not hiding 'bad' hair any more. I'm me. And it came as a real shock that the real me is beautiful."

Should all black women wear a "natural"? Certainly not. For one thing, not all black women have the grade of hair that the "natural" complements, and black women, as all women, should wear their hair in a style attractive for them.

"Naturals" are important because they are truly beautiful on many black women and because they are visually symbolic of the black woman's break from the white standard of beauty. They are a creation of her own.

Within our black society we are now appreciating the wide range of types of women. From the subtle Creole types to the striking black beauties, ours is a fantastic collection of women.

FOR MANY generations there have been jokes within our society about the black woman. The "gal with the skinny legs" is the star of many an ethnic song or poem. Today, with a higher standard of living and better nutrition, the black female is physically healthier. The "gal with the skinny legs" is no longer the standard among black females.

Here's another common saying: "Black woman, you sho' is evil!" I have often wondered about this statement, which I have heard spoken bitterly and in belief as well as in jest or tenderness.

We are neither inherently evil, nor have we had the full opportunity to be the women we are capable of being. Historically, we've been slaves, cooks, maids, mistresses, welfare check recipients and, most of all, mothers. We come from a long line of professional mammies. But we are just becoming women in the true sense.

Without a doubt, the biggest element in the rebirth of the black woman is how the black male now views her. Traditionally, the white woman has set all the standards for feminine beauty, and under those circumstances the black female could compete only to a limited degree. At best, we were carbon copies: plastic wear instead of china, artificial flowers instead of fresh roses.

Today our men are looking at us and seeing us—really seeing us—for the first time. They see us not as poor or good replicas of white women, but as black women, beautiful in our own right. And, as all females, we are now blossoming in the presence of our men—men who love us and appreciate us as persons of beauty and value.

As another television commercial states "We've come a long way, Baby." When one thinks how the black woman has survived, generation after generation, it is not surprising that seeing her emerge as a stunning beauty has the effect of a double whammy!

NEXT, Goals.

Sleek Hair Styles

Fashions coming up for spring and summer insist that it is important to keep your head when it comes to hair styles. Hair is getting sleeker by the minute, whether worn short or long. To make up for it, there are scarves and kerchiefs to match your favorite pour-le-sport outfits, and big, drippy, dangling earrings for any style or time of day.

Coming this Saturday in Marin Magazine

Special features you'll enjoy:

There's been a "band boom" at San Rafael High School that has nothing to do with the sound of the big brass drum. It is concerned instead with the number of teen-agers who are participating in band, with their morale and with their musicianship. Key figure in this resurgence is Terry Summa, the band's director. And Marin Magazine editor Don Keown reports on this new interest in the band in tomorrow's issue of the I-J's weekend supplement.

Do you know what decoupage is? Freelance writer Gil Pearson frankly was uncertain when he set out to do a piece on this art-craft. But he soon found out. And you can, too, by reading his piece in tomorrow's Marin Magazine. Your guide will be Mary Schroeder, an artistically-gifted San Rafael housewife who will show you how she goes about decoupage and also display some of the fine pieces she has produced.

ON THE AGENDA

'Crises Throughout Life' Lecture Series To Begin In Belvedere

St. Stephen's Guild of the St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere will sponsor a series of four lectures at Whittaker Hall on crises throughout life delivered by speakers from the Marin Association for Mental Health.

Dr. James Blevins, psychiatrist, will speak on "Marriage and the Young Family" on Monday at 9:30 a.m. Topics of the other three talks will be: "Adolescence", Feb. 25; "Drug Abuse" March 2; and "Retirement", March 9.

The public is invited to the free programs, according to chairman Mrs. Doty Edouarde of Tiburon. Mrs. John Bowen of Tiburon plans coffee after the programs.

MEMBERS OF the League of Women Voters of Southern Marin will serve as volunteer registrars through Thursday, the final date for Marin County voters to register for the April 14 municipal elections.

Mrs. Warren Hansen, voters' service chairman for the league, announces that voters who are eligible but not yet registered will find volunteers ready to register them mornings at the Sausalito and Mill Valley Post Offices, the Big G Super Market in Sausalito, Safeway in Strawberry and the Mill Valley Greyhound Bus Station.

Marin residents may also register at any time at the Court House in San Rafael, County Clerk's office in the Center, or with the city clerk in their local city hall.

The deadline for registering for the primary elections of June 2 is April 9, and the League of Women Voters of Southern Marin plans another registration drive prior to that date.

THE ROHNERT Park Garden Club will again sponsor a spring class in flower arranging to be conducted by Mrs. Lowry L. Williams of Santa Rosa. The six-week-course will begin on Tuesday at the Rohnert Park Community Center. Time schedules will be set after registration is completed. Morning and afternoon classes are under consideration, depending upon the number enrolled.

Mrs. Williams, who conducted a similar class for the club last year, is an experienced flower arranger and teacher and instructs in the subject for the Santa Rosa Parks and Recreation Department and several garden clubs. Pupils will be beginners as well as those who have had some training in flower arranging.

Mrs. R. L. Rignor of Rohnert Park may be contacted for further information.

MEMBERS OF THE Ladies Auxiliary of World War I, Barracks I of Petaluma, and their husbands will hold a potluck luncheon on Monday at noon at the Petaluma Veterans Memorial. A business meeting to follow the luncheon, will be conducted by Mrs. Vida Alexander, auxiliary president, and John Haley, post commander.

THE SONOMA County Legal Secretaries Association will host its annual "bosses night" Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Black Forest Inn in Santa Rosa.

A RARE opportunity to tour the Icehouse, a showcase of home and non-residential furnishings for wholesale buyers, is offered Sunday from noon to 5 p.m. Proceeds will benefit the sponsors, the Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training.

Tickets may be purchased at the Icehouse, located at 1300 Sansome Street in San Francisco, or from the ORT Office at 40 First Street, also in San Francisco.

VOLUNTEERS ARE needed by Marin Aid To Retarded Children to staff the organization's non-profit bargain shop at 1533 Fourth Street in San Rafael.

Profits from the shop, which exists by the sale of used donated merchandise, are used by MARC in its many projects aiding retarded persons. The shop is open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Further information can be obtained from Mrs. George Kerson of Belvedere.

SCHOLARSHIPS ARE available to eligible high school students planning to enter the nursing profession.

They are being offered by the Woman's Auxiliary to the Marin Medical Society. Mrs. Daniel A. Phillips of San Rafael, chairman of the health career program, will provide additional information on the scholarships.

MRS. REED BROCKBANK of Kentfield and Mrs. Louis King of Greenbrae were given the honorary service award for outstanding community service by the Redwood High School Parent-teacher Association.The $25 award will be donated to the state P-TA to be used in its revolving fund for student loans, scholarships or fellowships.

Elaine Brockbank has been active in the exchange student program; was P-TA president of Redwood this year and last; has been P-TA international relations chairman; and started the current paper drive to benefit the exchange student program.

Dorothy King also has been active for several years in all phases of the exchange student program; has been P-TA parent education Chairman; and gave much time to last year's bond drive.

Bersaglieri-Daniels Vows Are Said

Donna M. Daniels became the bride of Ronald Bersaglieri Saturday at St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Daniels of Pasadena and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bersaglieri of San Anselmo.

The bride's sisters were her attendents. Debra of Pasadena was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Ginny of Novato, Denise and Lynn of Pasadena.

The bridegroom's brothers were his attendents. Best man was LeRoy of Moraga and ushers were Allen of Arcada, Jerry of San Anselmo, and Richard of San Francisco.

A reception was held at the Sausalito Women's Club and the couple went on a wedding trip to Coronado and Mission Bay. They will return to live in San Francisco where the bridegroom is employed by Harris, Kerr, Foster and Co., an accounting firm.

Donna is a graduate of San Gabriel Mission High School, Pasadena City College and the University of California Medical Center. She is employed by Dr. Harold I. Tokazy in San Francisco. Dick, Dennis, Dean, Darrell and Drew Daniels of Pasadena are her brothers.

Ronald is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School, the College of Marin and San Francisco State College.

Hunter College

New York City's Hunter College held its first classes in 1870. It was then called the Female Normal School.

Nancy Waldeck Becomes Bride Of James Heaton In Sausalito Church

Nancy Jo Waldeck of San Francisco, a second grade teacher at Park School in Mill Valley, became the bride of James Michael Heaton Saturday in a 4:30 p.m. candlelight ceremony at the Presbyterian Church in Sausalito.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Waldeck of Los Angeles, had as her matron of honor Mrs. Colin Covey, and maid of honor was Sarah Ann Krill.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dean Heaton of Burlingame, was served as best man by his brother, William Dean Heaton of Menlo Park.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the bride's home. On their return from a wedding trip to Sun Valley, Ida., the couple will live in San Francisco.

The bride is a graduate of the University of California at Santa Barbara. She is the sister of Dr. Kenneth H. Waldeck, who with his wife is spending a year in London, England.

A graduate of the University of Idaho, the bridegroom is a Duplex Products, Inc., sales representative in San Francisco. He has another brother, Thomas D. Heaton of Burlingame.

Beer Hair Set

Stale beer is a good solution for setting hair since it gives the hair "body." Just dampen the hair and roll. The hair will not retain the beer odor when dry. Another hair trick is to fill a spray bottle with water and spray your hair as you pin it up.

Jacqueline Smith Engaged To Wed

A November wedding is being planned by Jacqueline Dawn Smith, whose engagement to Raymond C. White has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smith of San Rafael. Mr. and Mrs. Henry White of San Anselmo are the future bridegroom's parents.

Jacqueline is the sister of Mrs. Richard D. Saylors of San Rafael. She was graduated from Terra Linda High School and attended Bethany Bible College. The future bride is employed by Holt Howard Import Co. in San Rafael.

Raymond is the brother of Galeyn and Kenneth White of San Anselmo. He is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin. The future bridegroom is in the Air Force, stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base.

FAMILY

"Computer Wore Tennis Shoes"—Zany comedy about a none-too-bright student who by misconnecting wires in a computer is shocked into becoming a whiz kid. Amusing and attractively done.

"Funny Girl"—Partly fictionalized biography details Fanny Brice's rise to fame. Big musical is lavishly mounted.

"Italian Job"—A wildly satirical comedy about a gang of thieves who hijack a shipment of gold with an assist from a computer. Imaginative nonsense.

"Oliver!"—A musical spectacular with superb settings and acting. Vividness of some of the violence of story may be frightening to very young children.

"2001: Space Odyssey"—A long epic space adventure that is a fantastic and overwhelming experience. The ending is subject to any interpretation the viewer may put on it.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid"—True story of two bandits told in farcical tone but documentary in presentation. Film does not deny the violence attendant on their lives and deaths.

"Cactus Flower" — Middle-aged playboy dentist drafts his nurse to masquerade as his estranged wife and rescue him from a complicated situation with his current mistress.

"Down Hill Racer"—A brilliant study of the development of a ski champion. Action sequences are complimented by an equally absorbing story about the dynamics of sports competition.

"Me, Natalie"—Sensitive portrayal of all the pain, confusion and comic absurdity of growing up. A plain looking girl moves to Greenwich Village where she has her first lesson in love with a married man. Frankness of the situation and dialouge makes film out of bounds for the young.

"The Reivers"—In 1905 a mischievous livery hand and young son of his employer borrow the family car and set off for a four day adventure in the big city. Photography great, comedy crude, scene in brothel distasteful. Last scene worth admission price.

"Topaz"—Title is code name for a Russian spy ring operating within the French government. Events are historically true. Hitchcock's craftsmanship is superb as usual, acting is perfect. A valid point about the futility of violence is made.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Flare Up"—Dreary, poorly acted suspense thriller about a go-go dancer stalked by an insane killer in a melodramatic chase from Las Vegas to Los Angeles with a fiery ending.

"Marlowe"—"Fast, tough murder mystery cooly and casually solved by Phillip Marlowe, ace dectective. Murder, blackmail, sadistic karate plus explicit sex included in generous portions.

"Prime of Miss Jean Brodie"—Superb drama about unethical and uninhibited conduct of a teacher in a private school for girls. She lives vicariously and indoctrinates her students with her political philosophy. Film needs thoughful adult evaluation to uncover the sham of its sick characters.

ADULTS ONLY

"Easy Rider"—Far-out corss country trip of two hippy motorcyclists creates a vision of America that is by turn beautiful and horrifying. Poetically photographed but has overlong LSD sequence.

"Midnight Cowboy"—Off-beat hardhitting story of a male prostitute and a crippled hustler who meet in New York. Sordidness is tempered by skill and compassion, told in an uncompromising way.

Grad Student Wounds Profs, Kills Himself

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A graduate student described as a loner under stress, shot and wounded two University of Pennsylvania mathematics professors at a seminar Wednesday and then killed himself, witnesses told police.

The student Robert H. Cantor, 33, burst in on the seminar attended by about 25 professors and students and opened fire with a .45 caliber pistol, witnesses said.

Dr. Walter Koppelman, 40, a former adviser to Cantor, was in serious condition after the outburst with bullet wounds of the arm and chest.

Dr. Oscar Goldman, 45, chairman of the math department at the time Cantor's doctoral thesis was rejected about a year ago suffered superficial wounds of the arms, a leg and a foot.

Cantor had been a math instructor at Temple University for a year ending last spring, but was in economic difficulty since then and unable to find a job, police said.

Construction Site Equipment Stolen

Thieves causing $12 damage stole $1,185 worth of equipment Tuesday or early yesterday from the construction site of the Hillside Apartments, 239 Picnic Avenue, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

The equipment including a $718 spray gun, a $43 nozzle, $124 extension ladder and a $250 chain saw, is owned by the Horst Hanf Construction Co., 138 Jacoby Street, San Rafael, police said.

Shoreline Schools Set All-Out War On Drugs

A three part drug abuse education program has been approved by the Shoreline Unified School District board, administrative assistant Anthony Matulich reported yesterday.

The program presented to the board Wednesday night had its beginning last December after it was found that marijuana was being used at Tomales High School. Residents of the area met with the school board Dec. 17 and called for an attack on the problem. The board asked the staff to prepare an antidrug use education plan.

The education program is divided into parent education, teacher in-service training and student education.

The parent education program will be taught by authorities in the drug field and social workers who have dealt with the drug abuse problems.

All meetings will be at 8 p.m. in Tomales High School. Dates and subjects to be covered are: Feb. 26, parents, youth and drugs; March 5, law, justice and drug abuse; March 12, generation gap trap; March 19, psychology of drug abuse related to family life; April 2, achieving love in an alienated society; and April 9, our drug scene, past, present and future.

Teacher in-service training will be held on minimum days from 2:45 to 4:15 p.m. on Feb. 25 and 26, and March 3, 5, 10 and 11.

To be covered are a history of drug abuse, specific information on various drugs, sociological effects of drug abuse, civil laws and techniques of drug education.

The high school student education will be during the social studies and English periods from March 9 through 13. It will include the history of drug abuse, specific information on all drugs, sociological effect of drugs abuse and civil laws regarding the use of drugs.

Elementary school classes will follow a similar outline.

The average U.S. citizen ate 47.1 pounds of chicken in 1968, an increase of nearly 12 pounds when compared with 10 years ago.

Candidate Cites Public's Fear Of Crime Dangers

Raymond H. Shone of Nicasio, candidate for the Republican nomination in the Fourth Senatorial District, has declared that most citizens "now realize that their persons and their property are no longer safe."

Shone, speaking at a reception at Peacock Gap Country Club, said that "until our families and friends can go anywhere in the U.S., day or night, with freedom from fear, nothing else is truly worthwhile.

"We know that small groups of individuals, militants and troublemakers have attempted for years to make people in law enforcement scapegoats, and this is not right," Shone said.

"Law enforcement officers are our vanguard, and they have the support of overwhelming numbers of our society," he said.

"We can reverse this curr trend of lawlessness," he sa "if there is legislation of t proper type and enough feeli exhibited by the people."

MUSIC REVIEW

Dominican Series Proves Its Worth

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

The high value of the Dominican College Music Associates series, which has among its objectives giving young artists of professional caliber an opportunity to be heard, was well demonstrated last night in a chamber music concert in Caleruega Hall.

Major performers were soprano Kay Collette and flutist Judith Phillips with Kenneth Ziegenfuss featured in one piano solo and providing a continuou with cellist Geraldine Maxwell for the flute and voice in three opening baroque numbers.

It was rather unusual to hear a program begun with numbers severely testing technical skill, as was the case in the Scarlatti Cantata for Soprano, Flute and Continuo, the J. S. Bach "Ich Folge Dir Gleichfalls Mit Freudigen Schritten" and Handel's "Machtigallenarie."

Miss Collette, whose lyric soprano had a lovely, clear quality, sang this tastefully ornamented group with admirable facility in the melismatic passages, including shakes which were evenly controlled.

As for Miss Phillips, she played the flute, particularly the "Nachtigallenarie," with such pure silvery tone and flawless technique that I wondered why I had never heard her before. She is one of the best young flutists I have encountered.

From his first few measures in the continuo it was evident that Ziegenfuss was a pianist of rare sensitivity, and he more than fulfilled this promise in his solo, Six Variations on an Original Theme in F Major by Beethoven. Each note was a perfectly shaped, distinct entity, yet the result was a smoothly flowing continuity.

Miss Maxwell did not play loud enough to be a full partner in the continuo until the end of the baroque group.

In strong contrast to the baroque selections was the second contemporary group composed of "The Blackbird" by the French composer Oliver Messiaen and a ballade by the Swiss composer Frank Martin.

Dry and astringent, "The Blackbird" was of the raucous kind, as far as I was concerned, with the only interest centering in a new sound on the flute, a fluttering, whispery burr, expressive but not particularly attractive.

The ballade, that had elements of jazz in it, was more interesting. Both pieces were well played, with Miss Phillips continuing to demonstrate her virtuoso capacities.

In the group of simple, brief songs by American composer Samuel Barber, "With Rue My Heart is Laden," "The Daisies," and "A Nun Takes the Veil" Miss Collette confirmed the impression that she has poise, good diction and ability to communicate emotion and meaning. Further experience may bring greater depth and power.

The concert concluded with Martin's three charming Chants de Noel performed by soprano, flute and piano.

San Domenico Given U.N. Role As Cubans

A five-student delegation from San Domenico School in San Anselmo will represent Cuba at the Model United Nation at the University of California at Berkeley next week.

Members of the delegation ar: Deborah Brooke of Chowchilla, Madera County, Sarah Bassett of Tiburon, Carolyn Knox of San Anselmo, and Ann O'Reilly and Nancy Upham, both of Mill Valley.

$4,000 Grant

The Marin Child Development Center has been awarded a $40,000 grant by the San Francisco Foundation for an 18-month extension of psychiatric and social work in its medical-educational therapeutic program, the center has announced.

Symphony Sets Series In Marin

First concert in the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra's new three-concert Marin series will be presented on March 7 at 8:15 p.m. in the Terra Linda High School gymnasium. The other concerts will be performed at the same time and place on April 11 and May 9.

The San Francisco Symphony Association, which is now taking orders on series subscription, announced that series holders will be given preferential seating.

Concert programs are chosen from the regular series at the San Francisco Opera House, with Seiji Ozawa conducting the first two and Josef Krips the third.

Brochures may be obtained by writing the San Francisco Symphony Association office at 107 War Memorial Veterans Building, San Francisco, 94102.

Little Won't Be On Ballot; Flays Souza

Stanley W. Little, twice a candidate for the Fairfax City Council, has said he will not be a candidate for the council this year, because the man he would like to defeat is running.

Little, who lives at 34 Olema Drive, in a press release wrote: "I refuse to enter into a battle with Councilman Robert Souza, who has announced his candidacy for reelection."

"His actions in the last two elections, what with last minute campaign letters which were untrue, yet too late to refute, and his community dividing activities since he has been in office are such that I will not subject my family or myself to his brand of humiliation."

Little said he also feels there are three qualified candidates running who will decently represent the people.

"These are fine people who will not campaign maliciously and will present the people with the issue," he added.

He said he was referring to Adelaide P. Wilson, Frank J. Egger and Albert E. Gately.

FLYING SCHOOLROOM

A fleet of 94 T-29 "Flying Classrooms" provides flying training. Above is a T-29 C, equipped with the latest navigational aids.

Learning to use the periscopic sextant.

Mather Air Force Base, Calif., is the home of all United States Air Force navigator training, the Air Force's one such navigation school. Here at Mather, Air Training Command's 3535th Navigator Training Wing provides the Air Force with its navigators, navigator-bombardiers and electronic warfare officers.

A formal flying training course in each of these three navigator specialities makes up the "hard core" of the wing's curriculum. Such training is conducted only at Mather AFB—therefore this operation is of unique importance in the structure of the Department of Defense. The school is a keystone in the nation's capability for global military airlift and strategic and tactical air operations.

The wing also provides related, specialized academic courses in a number of weapons delivery systems, and electronic reconnaissance and defense systems. Over the past two years the curriculum has been branching out, with innovations which reflect the increasing complexity of weaponry and the development of special tactics for the operations in Southeast Asia.

Total enrollment in the courses is now more than 1,000. Undergraduate Navigator Training is a 38-week course in the fundamentals of navigation. For graduates there is then the 30-week Electronic Warfare Officer Training course, or the 28-week Navigator-Bombardier Training course, as well as other shorter, specialized courses.

Mather Air Force Base was first opened in 1918 as a training school for World War I pilots; it also functioned as a flying school during World War II. In 1947 a specialized program of navigator training was instituted and has led to Mather's becoming the home of all U.S. training in that field.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Two Marin Restaurants Make Reopening Bows This Week

This has been a busy week for two major restaurants making their opening debuts.

Wednesday the Edgewater Inn Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge reopened under the proprietorship of the Gene Compton Corp. after closing the week before under the old Bob's of Marin regime which had been going on for something like 13 years.

George Loizos, who has been manager of the Compton operated Pepperwood in San Anselmo, is now resident manager of the Edgewater. Frits Verburg, former owner of L'Europe Restaurant on the San Rafael Miracle Mile, is executive chef.

Edgewater is open seven days a week, with the coffee shop serving breakfast, lunch and dinner from 6:30 a.m. to midnight. The dining room serves lunches from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on an a la carte menu featuring sandwiches, salads, grill and broiler items, seafoods and a daily special which may range from sirloin tips to veal curry to seafood newburg or filet of sole.

Dinners are definitely family style and served from 4:30 to 10 p.m. (Sundays from 3:30). These include relish, soup (with the bowl left on the table), salad, paste and entree. Regular daily entree choices, which determine the price of the dinner, are roast chicken ($3.75), roast sirloin of beef ($4.25) and T-bone steak ($5).

There also are daily specials, with abalone and filet of sole as choices on Fridays, and duck l'Orange on Sundays. Children are welcome and there is a complete $2 dinner for them

A house wine is included with the full dinner and I can testify that it is a good one, having just happened by while several were being tested and chosen.

THE NEW Ancient Mariner Restaurant in Strawberry Town and Country Village opened to the public last night.

Quite a bit of remodeling has been done here since the days this location was occupied by Inn Marin and before that Cherish Inn. Menu is a la carte and entrees are limited to those which seem to be preferred by many American palates—top sirloin steak, a teriyaki top sirloin, beef kebab, New York steak, a seafood combination, shrimp teriyaki, lobster and swordfish. Prices of $3.25 to $6.25 include salad, bread and coffee and tea. This is a standard seven-days-a-week menu served at other Ancient Mariner Restaurants in Southern California.

The bar and cocktail lounge opens every day at 3 p.m. Dinners are served from 4:30 p.m. And I'm told that lunches will probably be served starting in March.

YOU MIGHT CALL Fred Cherry's Cafe Bon Vin the restaurant that refuses to die, though from now on it may appear in somewhat different exterior form anywhere rom Marin County to Southern California. Just about anyplace, that is, except at its original San Anselmo location. The latter is now a winery - and can't be two separate operations on the same license. Nor can there even be two separate licensse.

So, Cafe Bon Vin has gone mobile, functioning for special groups anywhere they want to go as long as they are willing to pay the tariff, which may be either high or low, depending upon exact location and circumstances.

This is the way it operates: Working with competent caterers, hotels, restaurants, wherever they may be and using their facilities, Fred plans and executes a combination wine and food repast, selecting foods which harmonize with his wines and vice versa, just as he used to do before he turned vintner. The group then makes its own travel arrangements by cars or bus.

Opening appearance of Cafe Bon Vin takes place next weekend at the historic ghost town of Sheep Ranch in the Mother Lode Country. Ten Bay Area couples will show up at the old Pioneer Hotel (owned by Frederick Baker, Michael Dufficy and Tro Cutter, all of Marin) for one of Fred's 10-course dinners. Other similar affairs are in the making.

One thing - you have to form your own group and agree on a location with Fred. He takes it from there.

IT IS SAID that the classic English dinner table omits water glasses on the grounds that it is not polite to wash one's hands in the progress of the meal - and the stuff is too dangerous to drink.

BIAGIO'S in Tiburon will be moving across the street (from 10 Main Street to 15 Main Street) around the first of March. New location is not any larger but is considered better laid out for this type of restaurant operation.

RAMBLIN' JACK ELLIOTT, one of the originals in the folk music field, returns to the Lion's Share in San Anselmo tonight and tomorrow night. On the bill with him is the folk duo, Lambert and Nattycomb.

Elliott, a friend and companion to the late Woody Guthrie, is very much in the Guthrie tradition but still manages to be his own man. His name appears in any book on folk music.

Other Lion's Den bookings are the Ofoedian Den on Sunday and the Joy of Cooking Thursday and Friday. Wednesday is free audition night.

RUBINI'S in Fairfax has completed its new banquet room and is taking group reservations. This also will help in accommodating small parties of eight, 12 and 16 people, which were difficult to service on busy nights before. But reservations still should be made in advance, even for these small groups.

The banquet room continues the window wall overlooking the creek.

GOURMET CLUB discount books, with participation by several leading Marin restaurants are available exclusively through high school students in the county for $5 each and help in the various schools' fund raising.

Participating restaurants are La Petite Auberge, Bill and Adolph's West End Villa, Rubini's, Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant, the Old Viking, Nero's Restaurant, Le Chalet Basque, Fleur de France and Spiros' Red Vest. Coupons must be used before Sept. 20.

Inquire at Radio KTIM on how to get one.

MUSEE D'ART INTERNATIONAL at Dominic's in San Rafael next week starts presenting new acquisitions of paintings and graphics of a number of artists well known in Europe but new to this gallery. Among them are Gabriel Vie, Louis Parrens, Marcel Favre, Alain Dequet and Edmond Daynes.

IF YOU HAVEN'T HEARD THEM, Doug Karr on the banjo and Warren Lubitch on the piano make a terrific musical team at Pinky's Pizza, San Rafael Friday and Saturday nights from 9 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.

Oregon's Dope Cure Plan Attracting Californians

SALEM, Ore. (UPI)—Oregon's program of providing a substitute—methadone—to drug addicts is so successful that some California addicts are coming here to try it, the governor's office said today.

Gov. Tom McCall doesn't think that's right, and has written California Gov. Ronald Reagan urging him to promote such a program.

McCall said of the estimated 400 addicts in Oregon, about half are being treated through the alcohol and drug section of the Mental Health Division.

The treatment consists of supplying addicts with methadone, which is not harmful, costs only pennies, yet satisfies an addict's needs.

Oregon should not be penalized by having an influx of addicts from elsewhere, McCall said. Only two other large methadone programs exist in the West—in Vancouver, B.C., and Albuquerque, N.M.

McCall said Oregon has set a residency requirement of two years to help screen out those who come from other states.

"But the humane thing would be," McCall wrote, "to encourage Californians to adopt this well-proven method of treatment as soon as possible."

In California, use of methadone is restricted by law to hospital patients. When the addict is discharged, doctors are forbidden to prescribe methadone for him—unless he is one of a few dozen addicts in the entire state involved in three tiny experimental projects for outpatients.

Luehring Sets Commuter Talk

Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge District, will speak on commute plans for Marin at Wednesday's annual meeting of the Greenbrae Property Owners Association.

The association will meet at 8 p.m. at Greenbrae School. Officers for 1970 will be elected, and the group will discuss a proposal to take over maintenance of Greenbrae's public areas from the Schultz Building Co.

The pedestrian guard rail on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, street lighting and underground utilities also will be discussed, Secretary Beth Reilly said.

U.S. Income Tax Aid Available In Marin

Information and assistance on federal income tax returns is available to Marin taxpayers at the Federal Building, Third and D streets, San Rafael, the Internal Revenue Service has announced.

The office is open Monday through Friday.

UNESCO Officials To Visit Granada School

A group of officials from the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) will visit Granada School in Corte Madera Tuesday as part of a Bay Area tour of educational facilities.

Principal James Justeson said the group will represent the educational buildings section of UNESCO. The section, based in Paris, is headed by John Beynon of the United States, who will be among the group.

They will be accompanied by John R. Boice, director of the systems division-school planning laboratory at Stanford University. Justeson said Granada was selected because of its good relationship between the building plant and curriculum.

Granada, in the Reed School District, features individulaized instruction in a cluster setting.

The tour group, which will stop at two other schools in the Bay Area, is made up of, besides Beynon, directors and research architects from the three regional centers of the educational buildings section in Mexico City; Khartoum, Sudan, and Colombo, Ceylon.

Mariner Cove Sets Its Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Mariner Cove Improvement Association will be held April 24 in the multi-purpose room of San Clemente School.

Association directors last night discussed plans for the meeting, at which 1970 officers will be elected. Dinner will be catered by restaurant owner Joseph Romano, director Heber C. Leney reported. Entertainmnt plans are still being prepared.

OF CHOCOLATE CHIPS AND CUSTOMERS

Christopher Bryan, a kindergarten student at Tamalpais Valley School, finds out the hard way the lemonade and cookie business is suffering the same slump plaguing Wall Street. Chris, son of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Bryan of Mill Valley, sat for four hours in on-again-off-again rain yesterday waiting for the customers to flock to his stand in front of his house at 406 Marin Avenue, but ended up eating the profits himself. If the trend continues he may be the first 6-year-old Californian to file for bankruptcy. His two dogs, Barney (left and Mimi, shared their master's gloom but not his cookies.

Legal Abortion Rate Increasing

BERKELEY (AP) — During the first eight months of 1969 there were 9,169 legal abortions in California, nearly double the number for all of 1968, the State Department of Public Health reports.

In a report Thursday to the legislature, the department estimated the legal abortions were 12 per cent of all those performed in the state, compared with 6 per cent in 1968.

In 1969, 63 per cent of all legal California abortions were in the San Francisco Bay Area, the report continued, while 18 per cent were in the Los Angeles area.

California's 1967 therapeutic abortion law permits a pregnancy termination if the mother's physical or mental health is in great danger.

Of the 16,065 applications since the law went into effect, 92 per cent were approved. Impariment of the mother's mental health was given as the reason on 90 per cent of the applications.

Sennett Enters Race For Tiburon Council

Albert H. Sennett, 41-year-old attorney and city planning commissioner, has declared his candidacy for the Tiburon City Council.

Sennett will seek one of three seats being contested at the April 14 election. The seats are held by Mayor Branwell D. Fanning and Councilmen William R. Bremer and Thomas E. Drohan.

Sennett, of 26 Sutter Court, has lived in Tiburon since 1962 and practices law in San Francisco. He is a 1952 graduate of Harvard Law School.

Sennett was appointed to the planning commission last April He is an original member of the Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee and served on its board of directors in 1967-68 and as chairman in 1968-69. He also is former chairman (1965-66) and board member of the Little Reed Heights Association.

Sennett belongs to the Save the Bay Association, Audoubon Society and other conservation groups.

"It is essentail to achieve continuity in city government," he said. "What has been started by one council must be understood and completed by the next. My consistent interest in Tiburon . . . and my service as a planning commissioner has allowed me to become familiar with city problems and examine many of the suggested solutions.

"For these reasons, I believe I am qualified to exercise the duties and responsibilities of councilman, if elected, I will foster a vigorous and positive program to enhance this unique environment in which we all live."

Sennett joins Donald L. Batten, president of the Belveron Homeowners Association, in the race. Drohan has announced he will not seek reelection and neither Fanning nor Bremer has filed candidacy papers.

Colthurst Returns Nomination Papers

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst today returned nomination papers to become a candidate for reelection in the April 14 Larkspur city council election.

Colthurst, 60, has served 12 years on the council and has served nine terms as mayor, one year in 1960-61 and then continuously since 1962.

Before being elected in 1958, he served three years on the planning commission.

A native of San Francisco, he has lived in Corte Madera since 1948. He is a vice president of Mipro Corporation of South San Francisco.

Colthurst and his wife Ivy have two children. He is a World War II veteran, serving as an infantry captain in the European theater.

He represents the town on the Association of Bay Area Governments, and is on the Ross Valley Flood Control Advisory Board. He is a member of the Corte Madera Lions Club, has served on the Main Transit District board, is a former president of the Corte Madera Volunteer Firemen, and a former member of the San Francisco Bay Area Joint Apprenticeship Council.

Colthurst is the third to file for the council race. Incumbent Holmes S. (Pete) Norville and Patricia Friend returned nomination papers earlier. The terms of Colthurst, Norville and Harold B. Wagstaff are expiring this year.

First Filings For April 14 Ballot In Rohnert Park

Incumbent Councilman Arthur N. Roberts and civic leader Billy C. Ayers filed candidacy papers today for the April 14 Rohnert Park City Council election.

The terms of Mayor James W. Rogers and Roberts will be up for election. Roberts and Ayers are the first to file.

Roberts, 39, first won election in 1966. A pharmicist, he owns and operates the Rohnert Park Pharmacy and lives at 5300 Burton Avenue. He and his wife, Reba, have a son and a daughter.

Ayers, 35, lives at 7124 Brenda Way, and is a sheet metal worker. He has been president of the Rohnert Park Homeowners Association and men's golf club.

A veteran of the Korean war, Ayers is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He and his wife, Wanda, have five daughters.

Candidates may file through noon Thursday at the city hall or Sonoma County board of elections, Santa Rosa.

Another Round On Development

The Mill Valley City Council will conduct the third in a series of public hearings Monday night on the city development plan prepared by Sedway and Cooke of San Francisco.

The council, which previously covered general development policies and downtown development proposals under the plan, will concentrate on upper and lower Miller Avenue land uses Monday. The council meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in city hall.

In other matters, the council is scheduled to resume a public hearing on the controversial Fern Canyon assessment district introduce an ordinance fixing rules for use of park and recreation facilities and discuss budget appropriations.

New Birch Group Is Being Formed

Organization of a Marin committee of the Movement To Restore Decency was announced today by Mrs. James Reed of Ross, who has been named chairman.

The local committee is a unit of a nationwide organization sponsored by the John Birch Society. Its purpose, said Mrs. Reed is to strike at "the causes of the growing indecency, immorality, and irresponsibility in American life."

As its first public activity, the committee has scheduled a showing of film strips on sex education and sensitivity training for 8 p.m. next Monday at the home of John Beddow at 10 Laverne Avenue, Mill Valley.

This is in line with committee's first specific undertaking, described by Mrs. Reed as to "expose and counter the present widespread effort to introduce sex education into our schools in every class from kindergarten through the 12th grade." Members of the group believe sex education is the right and responsibility of parents, she said.

The committee also plans to expose "a strong relationship between rock music and the alarming increase in drug addiction and sexual promiscuity," said Mrs. Reed. "Many of today's popular songs are nothing less than invitations to try dope, experiment with sex, and participate in revolutionary activity."

The newly organized committee has 60 members, she reported. Officers, besides Mrs. Reed, are Mrs. Elizabeth Woodward of Larkspur, co-chairman; Marie Woelfl of San Rafael, secretary; Mrs. Alan L. Hoover of Greenbrae, treasurer.

Driver's Injuries Minor In Accident

A 51-year-old Oakland woman was treated for muscle strain and bruises yesterday at Novato General Hospital after her car crashed on northbound Highway 101, just south of Novato.

The California Highway Patrol said the auto, driven by Juanita B. Sagan, hit a slick spot on the rain-soaked highway, went into a ditch and struck a utility pole at 8:05 a.m.

Church-State Cases Multiply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifty-five court cases that test relations between church and state are currently pending across the country, the American Jewish Congress has reported.

The record number of cases includes 20 dealing with government aid to religious schools, 21 challenging other forms of government support of religion and 14 dealing with claims of interference with religious freedom. Three of the cases are in the U.S. Supreme Court.

"In the fusion of two very emotional issues—education and religion—the fallout of litigation is heavy," Joseph N. Robison, general counsel of the AJC, said Thursday.

National Product Rise Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The private, non-profit Business Council has predicted the 1970 Gross National Product will rise to $985 billion this year, the same figure used by President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers.

The 1969 GNP, the market value of all goods and services sold, was $932 billion.

The Business Council, a prestigious group of business and financial leaders, also forecast the economy would show almost no real growth—one per cent at the most—while prices would go up 4¼ per cent.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Salt, Potassium Both Needed To Maintain Bodily Health

Salt (sodium chloride) is essential for human and animal growth. The average adult in the United States consumes about a quarter of an ounce each day. Since too much salt is as bad as too little, the balance is maintained in the body by the action of the kidneys and adrenal glands.

In this regard, the body utilizes what it needs and eliminates the excess.

HEALTHY INDIVIDUALS need not be concerned about their salt intake. Approximately half the intake comes in the food as purchased, while the other half is added during cooking and at the table.

Some people use more salt than do others, and as a result the exact amount consumed varies considerably.

PERSONS WITH KIDNEY trouble are less fortunate because the excess sodium may not be eliminated. A certain amount of water is needed to hold it in the tissues, and since water is heavy, the individual's weight increases.

A somewhat similar situation exists in some women prior to menstruation, when a gain of three to five pounds is not unusual. The elimination of salt by the kidneys also is reduced in persons with dropsy due to heart trouble.

Others retain salt for no apparent reason. They awaken five pounds heavier than on the previous morning. Everything, including the hat, fits too snugly.

This situation often follows a cocktail party and stems from salty hors d'oeuvres, peanuts, and pretzels.

SALT MA Y ALSO increase blood pressure in those predisposed to or with hypertension. These individuals should avoid this seasoning or use salt substitutes. Thiazide diuretics lower blood pressure because they increase the output of sodium.

But when the kidneys eliminate more sodium, they also eliminate potassium. Too little of the latter causes weakness and irritability of the muscles and heart.

AN EVEN MIXTURE of sodium and potassium chloride tastes like table salt and may solve the problem. The extra potassium may lower the blood pressure and improve the action of the heart.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

PLUGGED ARTERY

P. N. writes: How does a person know when he has an obstructed coronary artery?

REPLY

The majority of victims develop pain and a sense of burning or pressure beneath the breastbone. Distress may radiate into the neck and arms. In some instances, the sufferer collapses and goes into shock. Some individuals have an attack that is so mild it is not recognized; this is known as a silent coronary.

EAT MORE

M. R. writes: I've lost quite a bit of weight since my doctor put me on a strict gallbladder diet. The diet has warded off further attacks but I'd like to gain some weight without going off the diet. Please advise.

REPLY

Double the portions of food that you are allowed to eat.

PIGEON CHEST

H. H. writes: How is pigeon chest treated?

REPLY

In this condition, the breastbone bulges forward like the keel of a ship. As a rule, treatment is unnecessary because the deformity seldom alters heart function or respiration.

THE STAPH BUG

Miss E. writes: What is a staff infection?

REPLY

Infection due to staphylococci and not the office staff.

Car Smog Curbs Costs Expected

DETROIT (AP) — The type of exhaust system needed to meet 1975 federal antipollution goals may boost a car's retail cost by $200 to $300 a Chrysler Corp. engineer says.

Charles Heinen, chief engineer of emissions control and chemical development of Chrysler, said Wednesday Chrysler is only in the experimental stage of developing a system to meet the goals announced by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The only device Chrysler has that comes close to meeting the antipollution goals is a manifold-reactor type of afterburner, involving exhaust recirculation.

"This also requires a rich mixture and a fuel penalty of 10 to 15 per cent," Heinen said.

New federal goals call for eliminating almost 95 per cent of hydrocarbons in fuel, about 85 per cent of carbon monoxide, and control of nitrogen oxides, Heinen said.

Richard Adams Pulls Out Of Race For Senate

An uncontested Democratic primary election in the Fourth Senatorial District appeared certain today with the withdrawal of Richard Adams of Belvedere.

Michael Peevey of San Rafael, coordinator of community programs of the University of California at Berkeley, is the only other candidate for the seat held by John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael. McCarthy has announced he will retire after 20 years.

Adams said that he decided to pull out of the race because "it's a different horse race now from the one I started in several months ago." He entered the race before McCarthy announced his retirement.

MCarthy's retirement automatically "ensures a better representation" Adams said.

Dunlap Declines Senate Campaign

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman John F. Dunlap, D-Vallejo, often mentioned as a potiential candidate for the Senate seat held by John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, yesterday foreclosed a race for the upper house by declaring his candidacy for re-election.

Dunlap said he had decided against seeking the Senate seat because his 1970 legislative program was "of prime importance to the future of the entire state of California. It would be difficult to do justice to these important legislative needs while seeking a Senate seat in a new and larger district."

Dunlap is trying again this year to pass legislation to preserve the coastline and to ensure public access to it.

South Marin College Class Needs Eyed

Plans for College of Marin extension classes in southern Marin will be discussed at a special meeting with southern Marin residents Monday, assistant dean of instruction Berkeley Johnson has announced.

The extension proposal comes on the heels of a recommendation by an accrediting team, which visited the college last year, that more off-campus courses be offered in parts of the county remote from the Kentfield campus.

Courses may be offered in Marin City, Sausalito, Mill Valley or all three, Johnson said. If Marin City residents want college courses there, they might be scheduled by next fall, he said. Offerings might include black studies as well as general courses.

Monday's meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in Room 141 of the instructional building, a portable building on College Avenue.

Johnson, assistant dean of community education Eugene A. Farrar and counselor Charles Sizemore will attend for the college.

Also expected to attend are Rev. J.P. Henry of Marin City; Anthony Medrano, Joyce Bailey, Willie Mae Howard, Mary Brooks and Horace White of the Marin County Human Rights commission; Lanny Berry, director of Operation Breakthrough for Tamalpais High School District; Gabe Jackson of the Sausalito School District; Charles Bulloc, College of Marin student and Sausalito School District aide, and Walter Turner, former College of Marin student.

Juniper Plant Worm Warning Being Sounded

Juniper webworm, which is highly destructive to juniper plants, may have entered Marin via Hayward, Marin Agricultural Commissioner R. Allan Ballard warned today.

Anyone who purchased Irish juniper or spiny Greek juniper in the Hayward area since last September should call his civic center office, Ballard said.

A Hayward nursery noticed webbing on juniper plants imported from Oregon and called the Alameda County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas Shoemaker, who found tiny worms on the plants. These were identified as juniper webworm.

Shoemaker investigated and recovered all but 34 of the Oregon grown junipers. Worms in these plants will turn to moths in early spring, said Ballard. "It is essential that all of the suspected plants be treated before that happens."

French Girl Wins Slalom; U. S. Skier Takes Second

Silver For Miss Cochran

VAL GARDENA, Italy (AP) — France's Ingrid Laffor_ue gave France a second gold medal today by scoring two perfect first places in the two heats of the women's special slalom of the World Alpine Skiing Championhips.

The 21-year-old from Luchon in the French Pyrenees was clocked in 40.07 and 51.37 seconds in the heats for a total of 100.44.

FIRST SILVER

Barbara Cochran of Richmond, Vt., gave the United States its first silver medal of the games, by finishing fifth in the first run and second in the second. She was clocked in 50.45 and 51.70 for a total of 102.15 seconds.

France's Michele Jacot made it a French-dominated final by taking third in 50.37 and 51.83 for a total of 102.20.

The tough course created an avalanche of victims, with 17 of the 55 competitors disqualified in the first run, and top favorites like Austria's Anne Marie Proell and France's Annie Famose dropping out in the second.

480 METERS

The first run curled through 59 gates with 60 gates on the second. Both tracks were 480 meters long with a 160-meter drop.

Austria's Gertrud Gabl, defending World Cup champion, placed fourth with 49.88 and 52.38 for a total of 102.26.

Judy Nagel of Enumclaw Wash., made it a generally good American showing by taking fifth for a total of 102.93, while Marilyn Cochran, Barbara's sister, was sixth in 103.34.

Kiki Cutter of Bend, Ore., was disqualified in the second heat for missing a gate after placing 10th in the first heat.

More To Prep Basketball Than Winning; There's 2nd

Somewhere in the Marin County Athletic League basketball season, there's still a race going on but you have to look past first place to find it.

Most of the action of any real importance (like who will finish second) will center in Mill Valley tonight when surprising Terra Linda and Tamalpais, who are tied for second along with San Rafael with 6-3 won-lost records, meet to make some breathing room in that log-jam.

Redwood (9-0) hasn't clinched the title yet, simply because there are too many games left, but the Giants are close. They'll meet San Marin in Larkspur, and their only problem there will be how to stop lanky Dana LaFerriere, the league's leading scorer with a 26.1 points per game average in loop action.

DRAKE UNPREDICTABLE

In other games, Marin Catholic will try to make it two over unpredictable Drake in San Anselmo and Novato, alone in the cellar, visits San Rafael in a game that could be close, since the Bulldogs still don't have 6-foot-8 Don Duryee, out with a bad knee.

In the league scoring race, Marin Catholic's Bill Donellan moved up from 15th to ninth, with a two-game splurge of 55 points in his last two games.

There are still four fellows averging 20 points or better in league play, headed by LaFerriere, Duryee (23.8 for seven games), Bill Secor of Tamalpais (20.5) and Jeff Meeker of Drake (20.4).

JIM GILMARTIN

It's Woman's World In Marin Sports Scene

I hate to shock you raunchy jockos out of your soiled sweat booties, but your masculine sports world is getting frillier and frillier.

It's getting so you got to watcher l a n g w i d g e. S t r o n g e s t sporting expletives from now on will be goodness gracious, heavens-to-Betsy, golly and gee willikers.

No more dirty jokes around the locker room because dainty ears may be offended.

And when you gorillas prance up and down the field of battle I don't want to see anyone spit--er, I mean expectorate--and if it gets hot you may perspire, but don't dare sweat.

Put down that Right Guard, Rocky, and get a whiff of this Jean Nate' body slop. Woo, woo.

Vitalis may stamp out greasy kids but Helene Curtis spray net is the coming thing in athletic endorsements.

I tell ya', the sports world is getting so sugary 'n' spicy that if a ref blows a whistle nowadays he's liable to get his fresh face slapped.

They Even Played With Dolls

If you think I'm exaggerating, consider that Marin County's two most honored athletes of the past five months wear Mary Janes, developed some of their coordination in the violent sport of hop scotch, played with dolls not too long ago, have high-pitched voices, say "how DARLING" at the sight of a new outfit, notice boys, probably (and typically) complain they don't have a THING to wear and can go to a beauty parlor instead of a court of law to get stylishly coiffed. Also, you can call them sissies without getting a knuckle sandwich.

And besides that, they're cute, long hair and all.

Um,hm, our mighty champions are c u p c a k e s! F l o w e r s! Twists 'n' Twirls! Get it, man, they're GIRLS!

To further antagonize those of you who insist that sports is a man's world is the fact that Juli Marie McKinstry and Sharon Walsh, both of San Rafael, are just on the threshold of bigger and better accomplishments. You'll be reading of their accomplishments for some time. Squirm, you brutes.

Could Be International Champ

Juli, who earlier this month won a United States figure skating crown, is only 13 and has been labelled by many experts as a potential international champ.

Sharon, who will turn 18 Feb. 24, won her first national tennis championship last August and is approaching her peak. She'll be in the news all summer.

Each girl has benefitted from a certain amount of natural talent, but both have combined it with excellent coaching and Spartanic dedication, the key ingredients to athletic success.

Unless our male athletes get off their rusty cans and start flexing those muscles, we're going to have to start bordering our sports pages in lace and using nothing but italic type.

Either that, or give our national champs some new nicknames.

Folks, meet Rocky McKinstry and Spike Walsh.

Boxers Vie In Russia

Two Hamilton Air Force Base boxers, airmen first class Juan Ruiz and Jesse Valdez, are members of the National Amateur Athletic Union boxing team that is competing in Russia this week by virtue of winning their elimination bouts recently in Trenton, N.J.

In the eliminations, Ruiz, a lightweight, decisioned N e w York City,s Ed Santora, and Valdez, a light middleweight, middleweight, decisioned t h e Marines' Larry Carlisle, who was last year's national AAU champion in that class.

The AAU team will compete twice in Russia, in contests which will be rematches of the U.S.-Russia match held last Oct. 25 in Las Vegas, Nev. The Russians won that contest, 6-5. The team boxed in Moscow Wednesday and will compete again in Leningrad tomorrow.

Ruiz was the national AAU lightweight champion last year and was the inter-service champion. As a member of the U.S. team which competed against the Russians in Las Vegas, he defeated his Russian opponent.

Valdez was last year's inter-s e r v i c e light middleweight chamption and is a former AAU champion.

G.G. Fields Has New Official

ALBANY (UPI)— Golden Gate Fields, left in managerial confusion the past several weeks, has made another attempt to stabilize its administration as an 80-day thoroughbred meeting nears.

Donald A. Voorhees Thursday was named general manager of the Pacific Racing Association and Tanforan Racing Association. He becomes the third general manager of Golden Gate Fields in the past week.

IMMEDIATELY

The presidents of the two companies say Voorhees will assume responsibility immediately and will oversee preparations for the Feb. 24 thoroughbred meeting at the Albany track.

Voorhees replaces Philip J. Dunn, who was named to the top operational post for the two Northern California associations last October. But Dunn resigned several days ago and Bob Gunderson has filled in the last few days as interim general manager.

Gunderson, who is vice president and general manager of the California Jockey Club which operates Bay Meadows, will serve Voorhees in an advisory capacity.

NEGOTIATIONS

It is Gunderson who has been handling the bulk of negotiations with the Horsemen's Benevolent Association. The horsemen are demanding t wo maiden races daily at Golden gate Fields, plus an increase in the pari-mutuel "take-out."

"We hope we have resolved the situation," said Gunderson, "but it will be up to the horsemen association's members to ratify any agreement."

Voorhees steps into the Golden Gate Fields picture after 12 years with the Hollywood Park Turf Club. He is 49.

Pocket Billiards Showdown Looms

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Richie Florence, Torrance, Calif., and Luther Lassiter, Elizabeth City, N.C., edged closer to a showdown as they scored victories Thursday in the World Pocket Billiards Championships.

Florence defeated Jimmy Moore, Albuquerque, N.M. 15-50, to climb to a 7-1 mark in the 23-day, $19,500 tournament, right behind leader Irving Crane, Rochester, N.Y., undefeated with a 7-0 record.

Former champion Lassiter came from far behind, overcoming an 81-4 deficit to whip Johnny Ervolino.

Laver Tops The Indoor Tennis Card

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Stan Smith, winner of the National Indoor title in Salisbury last year, has been seeded No. 1 among domestic players for the first U.S. National Indoor Open Tennis Championships.

Rod Laver of Australia, who won $121,000 as a pro last year, is seeded first among the foreign entries in the $50,000 tournament which gets under way Sunday.

A 48-man draw which includes 12 national champions, the top 10 ranking U.S. players and 11 pros will be battling for a top singles prize of $7,200. The winning doubles team will split a $2,000 prize.

Laver, a 31-year-old left-hander, is the top-ranked player in the world following his grand slam last year by winning open titles at Wimbledon, and the U.S., Australian and French championships.

Tony Roche, a fellow Aussie, is seeded second, followed by Tom Okker of the Netherlands and Roy Emerson of Australia.

Behind Smith in the domestic seedings are Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Texas, Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Clark Graebner of New York.

Seals Vs. Eastern Leaders

OAKLAND (AP) — The New York Rangers, nursing a slim lead in the National Hockey League's East Division, try to extend a pair of five-game winning streaks when they visit the Oakland Seals tonight, at 8 o'clock in the Oakland Arena.

The Rangers, who lead the Boston Bruins by two points, have beaten the Seals in their previous five meetings this season, most recently taking a 2-1 victory here two weeks ago. New York has also won its past five games.

The Seals, who won the opener of a five-game home stand 2-1 over the Minnesota North Stars Wednesday night, opened up a little breathing room in their drive for a West Division post-season playoff spot.

Oakland is now in fourth place, three points ahead of the fifth-place North Stars and four points behind the Philadelphia Flyers.

Oakland expects to have young goalie Gary Smith back in the nets tonight. A virus infection kept him out of the Minnesota game. Veteran Charlie Hodge substituted in the Seals' goal and came up with a fine performance.

Talking Is Over For Ellis

NEW YORK (AP) — The talking is over for Jimmy Ellis, the easy-going World Boxing Association champion. He wants action.

And action is what he'll get Monday night in Madison Square Garden when he meets Joe Frazier, champion of six states including New York, in a scheduled 15-round fight for the undisputed heavyweight title.

'IT'S HERE'

"I'm tired of talking about the fight," Ellis said Thursday before completing his sparring. "It's here. He (Frazier) is talking. He better save his wind."

Frazier, a puncher who applies pressure by constantly moving in, said earlier in the week.

"I don't think Ellis can move away from me as fast as I can move in on him."

"We'll see about that Monday night," said Ellis. "How fast he can go, how fast he can come—we'll see. He talked about me running out. I'll be there Monday night.

If anything has annoyed Ellis, it has been Frazier's charges that Ellis, until now, has been ducking a fight with him.

NOT CHANCE

"I think about what he's said, about how he tried to put me down," said Ellis. "I'm here to bring myself up."

Ellis and his manager, Angelo Dundee, are leaving nothing to chance.

Ellis went to see the New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association play in the Garden Wednesday night.

He went to relax, but there was another reason.

"He went to there to get the feel of the crowd," said Dundee. Since his last fight—a 15-round victory over Floyd Patterson Sept. 14, 1968—Ellis has done all of his boxing in the gym, three planned fights never coming off.

Dundee said they left the game before the start of an overtime period so they could avoid the crush of the crowd, something they would welcome Monday night.

'NO SIR'

"No sir," said Dundee, "they can step all over us after he flattens the guy."

Frazier worked out first Thursday, boxing two rounds with Billy "Moleman" Williams. Then, Ellis took over for what Dundee said was his final four rounds of sparring—two each against Joe "Shotgun" Shelton and Stanford Harris.

TUCSON OPEN

Putter's Course, Say The Leaders

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "It's a putters course," said Lee Trevino.

"It's a putter's course, definitely," said Bob Murphy.

And Billy Casper, considered by many to be the putter of them all, was just one stroke back of the leading Trevino and Murphy going into today's second round of the $100,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

Murphy and Trevino matched six under par 66's—Trevino with a double bogey six on the last hole—Thursday on the flat, wide open Tucson National Golf Club course, a 7,205-yard layout.

ONE STROKE BACK

The steady Casper and Dudley Wysong, an 8-year tour veteran who hasn't won in four years, were just one stroke back at 67.

The group of eight at 68 included 49-year-old Julius Boros, Mason Rudolph, Tom Shaw, and J.C. Snead, nephew of Sam Snead.

Frank Beard, last year's leading money winner, was in a large group at 69 and U.S. Open title holder Orville Moody had a par 72 in the near perfect golfing conditions—warm, sunny weather with virtually no wind.

Casper, one of only three men to reach $1 million in winnings and the winner of the Los Angeles Open earlier this year, loomed as a definite threat.

Both Murphy and Trevino said the flat course is made for the good putter.

"You can miss the fairways and still hit the green," Trevino said.

Trevino, who scored his last victory in this tournament, a year ago, was extremely annoyed with his double bogey on the final hole.

"It's as much my fault as it is my caddie's," he said. "Except one thing. I'm going to kill him."

COSTLY WAIT

He was eight-under-par when he stepped to the last tee. He had to wait a couple of minutes while "two ladies walked down the middle of the fairway. I guess they were out for their Sunday stroll. I waited because I didn't want to hit anyone. But if I knew I was going to take a six, I'd have hit them."

His caddy handed him a driver.

"I wasn't thinking," Trevino said. "The wait had broken my concentration. The caddy's supposed to think for me. He knows I'm charged up. He's been with me for two years. So he hands me a driver. I'm eight-under with out of bounds on one side and water on the other and I shouldn't have been playing for anything but a five and he hands me a driver."

Trevino promptly put the shot in the water.

Warriors Vs. Royals; Attles Joins Wounded

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors, whose player-coach has joined the rest of the wounded on the bench, face the Cincinnati Royals tonight at 8 o'clock in a National Basketball Association game in the Cow Palace.

Guard Al Attles, who replaced George Lee as coach recently and has done a good job directing the team from the floor, missed Wednesday night's 125-115 loss to the Los Angeles Lakers and is expected to be out of tonight's contest.

Attles suffered a bone chip in the little finger of his left hand against Atlanta Tuesday night. He hopes to be back in the lineup Saturday when the Warriors face the Rockets in San Diego.

Battling for the fourth and final post-season playoff spot in the Western Division, the Warriors have been getting good play lately from big men Jerry Lucas and Clyde Lee.

MARIN PREP NOTES

Wrestlers In Spotlight; Incredible Cage Contest

BY GARY TISCHLER

Even though the regular dual meet season is all over, Marin County Athletic League wrestling teams may have to do it all over again in some ways tomorrow.

That's when the league wrestling meet will be staged at Novato High School, with continuous mat action running from 10 a.m. through 6 p.m.

Novato High won the dual meet title for the fifth straight year, even though it did not have a team of the caliber of past years, and even though it got a stiff challenge from San Rafael, which is developing a fine program of its own.

The Hornets finished league competition with a 5-0 record. San Rafael was a clear-cut second at 4-1, followed by Terra Linda at 2-2-1, San Marin at 2-3, Redwood at 1-4 and Tamalpais at 0-4-1.

The top three finishers in each weight division in tomorrow's meet will advance to the North Coast Section Meet at Chabot College in Hayward the following Saturday.

The tourney title is expected to go to either San Rafael or Novato.

A FUNNY THING happened to already troubled San Rafael Military Academy Tuesday, although it must not have seemed too humorous to the Cadets. But their basketball game against East Bay power Emery of Emeryville certainly was worth noticing.

The cadets lost, 97-51, which is not all that terrible, but the first half was incredible.

In the first quarter, the Cadets wound up on the short end of an ugly stick, trailing 44-1, which is getting behind all right. The thing of it was, SRMA coach Jim LaDuke had planned on playing something of a slow-down game, but the Cadets threw the ball away 25 times in that first quarter to ruin the plan.

"Their coach was very gentlemanly about it," LaDuke said. "He pulled his starters after the first quarter, and they were shooting left handed part of the time and allowing us to run our patterns."

Although the Cadets had won no Bay Counties League games, they were still playing at a disadvantage, going without Tom Kewell and Kevin McCloskey, their top two scoreers. Kewell was taking an Air Force Academy test and MCloskey was ineligible for this game.

"We got only six shots in the first quarter," LaDuke said. "Actually, we didn't do too badly in the second half."

They did all right, getting 32 points in the third quarter after trailing 62-7 at the half. Guard Ken Goebel, in fact, led both teams in scoring with 28 points.

Actually, the Cadets could consider it a tiny moral victory. The first time they played Emery, which now has a 12-2 record, they lost 72-23.

LYNN PHILLIPS has been crowned Redwood High School's 1969-1970 Homecoming Queen to highlight Redwood's basketball spirit week. Her court consisted of princesses Cammy Curley, Peggy Johnson, Karen Haynes and Sharon Loeffler. The homecoming queen was elected by the student body while members of the varsity basketball team picked the princesses.

MIKE GRANDIN of Redwood garnered 28 points in the boys division of the California Nevada Interscholastic Ski Federation dual slalom meet.

Tahoe Truckee High School took first in both the girls and boys competition.

West-Baylor Punch Takes Care Of Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When Jerry West and Elgin Baylor are putting it all together, even Atlanta's tough Hawks can become clay pigeons for the Los Angeles Lakers.

West and Baylor clicked for a total of 74 points Thursday night, leading the Lakers to a 136-114 romp over Atlanta that left them just one-half game behind the Hawks in the National Basketball Association's Western Division race.

Chicago edged Phoenix 122-121 in the only othe game on the NBA schedule.

With West and Baylor scoring, rebounding and passing off in tandem, the Lakers shot to a five-point lead in a blistering 77-point first quarter. They increased the margin to 53-42 early in the second quarter and were in command the rest of the way.

West finished with 42 points and Baylor netted 32, one more than the Hawks' Walt Bellamy. West and Baylor each scored 43 points the night before in a 125-115 victory over San Francisco.

Coach Joe Mullaney of the Lakers explained, "The key to us beating Atlanta seems to be that (Lou) Hudson tears the rest of the NBA apart, scoring 30 or 40 points a game. But he can't be averaging more than 14 or 15 against us. Jerry (West) just plays very well against him."

Hudson was held to 11 points Thursday night.

Richie Guerin, the Hawks' coach, contended, "the Lakers have really surprised me. Their rookies are playing a lot more than usual because of the injuries on the club.

"And (Rick) Roberson and (Dick) Garrett are really coming through for them. This is a Balanced Club."

Napoles Is Favored To Retain His Title

LOS ANGELES—Boxer Ernie "Indian Red" Lopez has had 41 fights and lost only five since turning professional in 1964. He is now the No. 1 challenger for the world welterweight title and his most important match, of course, will be tomorrow night.

The 24-year-old contender ties into the champion, Jose "Mantequilla" Napoles of Mexico City, in 15 rounds or less at the Forum.

Napoles, 29, is a 4-1 favorite to retain his status as king of the 147-pounders. Promoter George Parnassus has guaranteed Napoles $100,000 and Lopez $40,000.

Napoles' record is 55-5-0 and he was stopped once on an eye cut he says came from a butt. He won the championship on a 13-round knockout at the Forum over Curtis Cokes last April 17.

Lopez has won 35 matches, lost five, drawn one and has stopped 18 opponents and has never been knocked out.

Baseball

SAN DIEGO—Ollie Brown, San Diego's leading hitter last season with a .264 average including 20 home runs, signed his 1970 contract yesterday, the Padres announced. Catcher Bob Barton also came to terms after being acquired in a winter trade with San Francisco.

Football

RIVERSIDE—Head football coach Pete Kettela handed in his resignation at UC Riverside yesterday with a charge the university was giving top priority to basketball. Kettela, 31, quarterbacked the Highlanders 10 years ago and over the past five years and coached the team to a 23-19-2 record. UC Riverside had a 3-5-1 mark last season.

Auto Racing

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—Twenty-eight-year-old Benny Parsons of Detroit blitzed the 2.5-mile Daytona trioval course at 190.564 miles per hour yesterday to win the pole position for Sunday's seventh annual Auto Racing Club of America 500 race.

Golf

MARACAIBO, Venezuela—Art Wall, Jr., shot a six-under par 66 for the first-round lead in the Maracaibo Ford Open Golf Tournament.

Tennis

HOLLYWOOD, Fla.—Tony Roche defeated fellow Australian Fred Stolle, 6-4, 6-4, in the opening round of the Montgomery Ward Cup Tennis Tournament.

Bowling

KANSAS CITY—Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., rolled a six-game total of 1,307 to bring his 24-game score to 5,299 and a 25-pin lead in the Ebonite Open Bowling Tournament.

Stage Set For WCAC Showdown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The stage is set for Saturday night's showdown at San Jose Civic Auditiroum between West Coast Athletic Conference basketball co-leaders Santa Clara and University of Pacific.

Each team increased its WCAC mark to 6-1 and its overall record to 16-3 Thursday night as UOP defeated University of San Francisco 86-60 and Santa Clara held off last-place St. Mary's 89-71.

In another WCAC game, Loyola joined USF and Nevada Las Vegas in a three-way tie for second by beating Nevada Reno 99-83.

In tonight's only WCAC game, Pepperdine is at Las Vegas. In other contests Saturday, St. Mary's is at USF for an afternoon game, and Las Vegas goes to Loyola and Reno to Pepperdine for night games.

At Stockton, UOP's 6-foot-9 sophomore center, Jhn Gianelli, was the whole show against USF.

He scored 22 points, grabbed 15 rebounds, blocked 11 shots and held USF high scorer Pete Cross to 13 points. Johnny Burks led the losers with 16.

At Richmond, Santa Clara center Dennis Awtrey scored 20 and Jolly Spight scored 18. Four other Broncs hit double figures. Sam Hill and Chris Dayak scored 21 apiece for St. Mary's, which is 0-7 in the conference and 3-15 over-all.

Veteran Marin Golfer Scores His First Ace

Robert Pomeroy of Ross, retired construction company owner, shot his first hole-in-one of 36 years of golf Wednesday, on the 152-yard 11th hole at Meadow Club course near Fairfax.

Witnessing the seven-iron shot were John Hunter, George Steinert and Jim Bowler.

Coach Says Trojans Still In Pac-8 Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We still feel we can win it until we're mathematically eliminated," insists Southern California basketball coach Bob Boyd. The Trojan task of playing catch-up to UCLA in the Pacific-8 Conference gets underway tonight.

USC, facing Washington in the Sports Arena, will be out for more than a chance to hold on to second place. The hosts are looking for some good old-fashioned revenge.

"I just wonder if they'll be ready for us next time," Husky Coach Tex Winter grinned after his boys handed the Trojans a 77-72 double-overtime loss last Monday night in Seattle.

Over at Pauley Pavilion, of course, UCLA entertains high-spirited Washington State tonight and Coach John Wooden is already voicing concern about a possible psychological letdown by his unbeaten and No. 1 ranked Bruins.

If there's any Pac-8 for the Bruins have good reason to fear, it's WSU. The Cougars gave UCLA one of its biggest scares of the season last Monday night in Pullman before the Bruins calmed down and won 72-70.

In tonight's other games, California invades Oregon and Stanford storms Oregon State in a pair of battles over occupancy of the conference basement.

On Saturday, Washington visits UCLA in the regionally televised game of the week, Washington State travels crosstown to USC, Stanford journeys to Oregon and Cal heads for Oregon State. On Monday night Oregon visits Portland in a nonconference game.

Coach Asks For Suspensions

SEATTLE (UPI) — Eddie O'Brien, Seattle University Athletic director, today pondered a recommendation by basketball coach Bucky Buckwalter that three varsity players be suspended for the rest of the season.

The three, Tom Little, Sam Pierce and Don Edwards, walked off the floor Tuesday night at Portland in a game with Portland University with 9:27 left to play.

Buckwalter said the players were not given permission to leave the floor.

Seattle University, which won the Portland game 99-77 and has a season's record of 14-7, has four remaining games, all at home.

Santa Clara Five Tops St. Mary's

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Santa Clara wore down traditional rival St. Mary's Thursday night, emerging with an 89-71 West Coast Athletic Conference basketball victory.

Dennis Awtrey, with 20 points and 20 rebounds led the Bronco attack. Santa Clara had a 40-30 half-time lead and drew steadily away in the second half.

Sam Hill and Chris Dayak each scored 21 for the Gaels.

Santa Clara is tied with University of the Pacific for the conference lead, each with a 6-1 record. St. Mary's is last at 0-7.

FISH AND GAME

Campaign For A Scale At Loch Lomond Harbor

Last week I told you about Frank Sue of Corte Madera taking a 71-inch sturgeon that looked to be about 100 pounds, but when he took it to a scale the darned thing only weighed 78 pounds. Everyone who saw the fish at Loch Lomond guessed the weight close to the 100-pound mark. I think Loch Lomond should put a scale in down there, don't you? One of the harbormasters there promised me that he would get a camera so that anyone could have his picture taken for just the cost of the film. Public relations-wise, a scale there would be a good move, too.

THE OTHER day, when the check was made on most of the bay boats fishing, one fellow who didn't have a license said that he wasn't fishing, but that he was just trying to drown a ghost shrimp! Well, this weekend, with those nice high outgoing tides starting about 8 a.m., it might be the time for you to try the same.

The sturgeon should be on the prowl and as the low tide approaches the fish will be in the deeper waters from the shell bank to the pumphouse off China Camp and down by the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge. I mentioned checking not one bass last Sunday for 125 persons; maybe the waters will warm up by the weekend and the bass will begin to hit.

JOE PEELAN, the Russian River fish and game warden, says the Russian should be right for this coming weekend unless the area gets some heavy rains. Quite a few steelhead have been noted jumping the Healdsburg Dam.

Both Walker Creek and Papermill should be fair for downstreamers, though the steelhead runs have not been heavy this year. Usually a few fresh-run fish are caught through February at these areas.

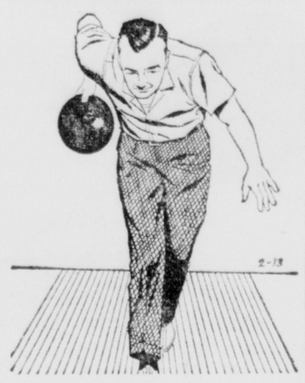
LAKE BERRYESSA is beginning to clear and fishing both for black bass and trout is on the upswing. Trollers for trout have been using quarter ounce Kastmasters and the bank fishermen are doing well on minnow and casting lures.

The bass anglers using Bomber lures, the Bayou Boogie and jigs have been taking fish in the weed beds fishing deep at the Vineyards.

A COOT depradation hunt will be conducted on the Gray Lodge State Wildlife area near Gridley on Feb. 21-22. No more than 350 hunters will be allowed at any one time, and permits will be issued on a first-come, first-served basis. There will be no limit on the number of coots that may be taken.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Does it seem to you that "the pros make it look so easy"? That is the impression many spectators have after watching a tournament session. They talk as though the stars have some secret that makes it simpler for them to blow the pins off the lane. If there is a secret the pros share, however, it is merely smoothness — the ability to deliver the ball with a minimum of effort.

THE SPORTING GENTRY

Gottlieb Still Rolls Strikes

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Paul Gottlieb of San Rafael will be 68 years young on Feb. 22, but that doesn't stop him from bowling better than a lot of guys half his age.

Perhaps the best bowler in Marin County in the 40's, Gottlieb, a bartender at Franchini's Chateau in San Rafael, still carries a 178 average and bowls in two leagues a week.

"I used to bowl in five leagues a week when I was young," Gottlieb said, "and I used to bowl for money in 'pot games' every night. Now I bowl just for fun."

It's a family game for the diminutive Gottlieb. He bowls Thursday nights in the 840 Scratch League at Nave Lanes, near Ignacio, with three of his grandsons, and bowls on Monday nights with a daughter in a mixed league at Country Club Bowl, San Rafael.

AUSTRIA TO MARIN

Born in Austria, he came to the United States with his parents as a child, the family settling in San Francisco. He moved to Marin Count yin 1940, and started bowling that year at the old Marin Bowl in San Rafael.

The first year of bowling, Gottlieb established a 166 average, then upped it to 180 the following year. During his prime, Paul carried a 204 average and once bowled in the San Francisco Brewers League. "That was the best league there ever was," he reflected.

Gottlieb was manager of the old Marin Bowl, located where Stan's Sports now stands, from 1946 to 1953. "I sure used to bowl a lot then," he said. "Zeno Gelatti was my doubles partner and we played pot games all over—here, Vallejo, Santa Rosa.

FRIENDLY GAMES

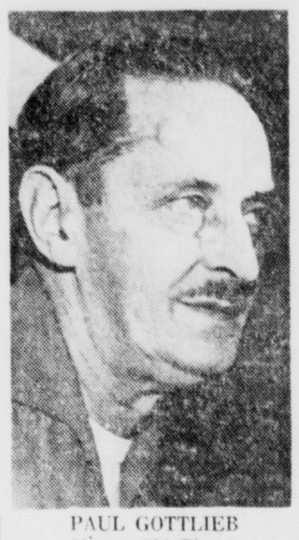
"In those days we had friendly pot games—$1 a man. "The kids today are all hungry. They want to play for $3, $5, sometimes even $50. That's too much."

Paul's bowling influence can be seen in his whole family. He has three daughters, one son, 12 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. "And they all bowl," he laughs. His wife of 45 years, Dorothy, is about the only one in the family who doesn't bowl. "She's never bowled," Gottlieb said. "She likes to go to Reno and play bingo."

Mrs. Gottlieb has been the cashier at the Rafael theater in San Rafael for 30 years.

VETERAN MIXOLOGIST

In his eighth year as bartender at the Chateau, Gottlieb previously was bartender at San Rafael Joe's for six years and at Pago Pago, also San Rafael, three years. He worked for the U.S. Post Office Department for 20 years in San Francisco before he moved to Marin County.



PAUL GOTTLIEB
Young Old Timer

He owned the Treasure Island Gift Shop in San Rafael from 1940 to 1947.

Comparing the operation of bowling houses today with his days as manager in the '40s, Gottlieb said the biggest problem he faced was keeping pin boys around. (For all you youngsters, there were "boys", some young, some old, who set up pins mannually before the advent of automatic pin-setters.)

SET PINS, TOO

"We'd open up at 10 in the morning and somebody would want to bowl but we couldn't come up with a pin-setter. I even had to set pins some days," he said. "Today the biggest problem for the bowling houses is that there's too many of them," he said pointing out the competitive element of the business.

When he started out in the bowling game, price of a line of bowling was 17 cents. "I watched it go to 22 cents a line, then 27, and now it's 65 cents."

What does Gottlieb think about retirment? "Oh, one of these days I will, and I'll just take it easy. But I'll keep on bowling."

Mets Vs. Yanks

NEW YORK (AP) — When the Yankees and Mets meet in the annual Mayor's Trophy game in Yankee stadium on Monday night, Aug. 17, the game will start at 7 o'clock. The chances are it will be a nine-inning game because the Yankees that night must catch a plane for a game the next day against the Minnesota Twins.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Feb. 13, the 44th day of 1970 with 321 to follow.

The moon is in its first quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter and Mercury. The evening stars are Saturn, Mars and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1635 the Boston Latin School, oldest public educational institution in America, was founded.

In 1945 Russian troops took Budapest after 49 days of fighting in which more than 50,000 German soldiers were killed, another 133,000 captured.

In 1968 the United States sent 10,500 more troops to South Vietnam.

In 1969 National Guard troops used tear gas in student troubles at the University of Wisconsin, and other student demonstrators disrupted Duke University and the City College of New York.

A thought for the day; Shakespeare wrote, "Love sought is good, but unsought is better."

Indonesia Fights Health Problem

DJAJAPURA, Indonesian New Guinea (AP) — Indonesian West Irian is short of public health workers, but the government is under way with an unusual scheme to try to overcome it.

President Suharto, in instructions to his West Irian administration, has told them to concentrate on "improving the knowledge of the village medicine men" known as "Dukun."

They are traditional healers who usually double as sorcerers.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Relying On The Old Maxims May Cost The Game For You

The average bridge player is lazy, bless his heart. He has been taught a few maxims for defensive play, such as : "Second hand low, third hand high, fourth hand win the trick if you can." These maxims work for most hands, and when they don't work our hero doesn't notice it. Why should he furrow the old brow and scratch the old chin when he can get by on these moth-eaten rules?

REFUSES TRICK

South refused the first trick but took the spade continuation in the dummy. Then he led the deuce of clubs from the dummy at the third trick.

East, an average bridge player, played the six of clubs. Naturally. If you told him he was making the wrong play, he would wonder which loony bin you had escaped from. But East's play allowed South to make his contract.

West could take the trick or refuse it, but he still had to win the first defensive club trick. And now he could knock out the ace of spades, but he could never regain the lead to run the spades.

MUST BE ENERGETIC

East must be energetic to defeat the contract. When the low club is led from dummy at the third trick, East must step up with the king of clubs.

This play is unlikely to cost anything since East's king of clubs will be worthless unless his partner has the ace or the queen. In this position, East's duty is to win the early defensive tricks in order to set up his partner's suit; and then his partner can win the later defensive tricks in order to run the long suit.

THIRD TRICK

When East wins the third trick with the king of clubs, he returns a spade to declarer's ace. Now West gets in with the ace of clubs in time to defeat the contract with the rest of the spades.

Remember to play "Second hand high" when your partner has led a long suit against notrump if you can help establish the suit at an early stage of the hand.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS

Golden West Financial To Acquire Fifth Firm

The Oakland-based Golden West Financial Corp., which has picked up no less than four savings and loan associations since February of last year, is about to acquire its fifth.

New proposed acquisition is Napa Savings and Loan Association for an undisclosed amount of Golden West common stock. Napa Savings, an 84-year old association, has assets of close to $40 million.

Redwood Empire Savings and Loan and Modesto Savings and Loan were merged into Golden West in December. Federal Home Loan Bank approval is expected this month on the acquisition of Tamalpais Savings and Loan in Corte Madera and Grove-Portola Savings and Loan.

When all five mergers are completed, Golden West Savings and Loan, subsidiary of Golden West Financial, will have 17 Northern California offices and assets of close to $300 million.

FRAZAR AND HANSEN, LTD., 135-year old San Francisco international trading firm, which had financial difficulties last year, has been purchased by American Venture Capital Corp. of Washington, D. C. The buyer acquired controlling interest in Frazar Hansen a few months ago.

UNITED FINANCIAL CORP. OF CALIFORNIA, Los Angeles has entered the computer software field through the formation of a new subsidiary, Decision Dynamics, Inc. This was made possible by United's recent merger of its two saving and loan companies into one. Federal law permits a holding company which owns one savings and loan association to diversify its activities.

LONGS DRUG STORES, INC. has announced 19-per cent increases in sales in both the fourth quarter of its fiscal year and for the fiscal year ended Jan. 31. Sales for the three months were $42.9 million. Sales for the 12 months were $144.3 million. During the past year four new stores were opened and one was closed.

ARDEN-MAYFAIR, INC. has reported net income of $2,198,000 or 56 cents per common share for the 53-week period ending Jan. 3. Sales for the 1969 year amounted to $588 million, compared to $568 in 1968. The company now operates 222 supermarkets.

HEUBLEIN, INC. made a formal proposal this week to acquire Liggett and Myers, Inc. on a share for share exchange of common stock, but was turned down. Merger talks have been going on for the past year.

Wall Street Slowly Sags

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mired in a bog of investor disinterest late this afternoon.

It showed a moderate loss by the averages in lackadaisical trading.

Wall Street analysts said the market was drifting lower in restrained selling and a lack of buying interest because of an absence of business and political developments.

A number of unusually large blocks crossed the ticker tape in late trading, including 207,600 shares of Federated Department Stores at 35½, off 2⅛; 131,600 shares of Masco at 37½, off 2⅛, and 101,000 shares of Russ Togs at 14, off ⅛.

Grumman Shares Hurt As U.S. Cuts Back Orders

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. All information about Gruman is good, but a year ago it sold at 45 and today it is 25. Is there anything you stock?—F.R.

A. Grumman, as well as other aerospace issues, is acutely sensitive to actual or anticipated cutbacks in military spending. In Grumman's case the scrapping of the Navy F-111 program was reflected in a steadily declining share price despite period-to-period increases registered in sales and earnings.

The Navy recently awarded a $110 million contract to Grumman to continue development on the F-14 carrier-based fighter plane which superseded the F-111. The A-6 program, which contributed $360 million to 1968 sales, is being gradually phased out and will contribute a substantially smaller per cent to 1970 sales.

Although commercial customers account for only 10 per cent-12 per cent of sales, the Gulfstream 11 executive jet should upgrade this end of Grumman's business. Development expenses on this craft—designed to sell at $2.5 to $3 million—have been largely written off. Earning contributions of around 50 cents a share could result from this program alone this year. Your continued patience with Grumman should ultimately be rewarded.

Q. I purchased Ivest Fund in 1968 for retirement in eight years. Have all funds done so badly?—M.E.

A. In 1969 Ivest suffered a 6.6 per cent drop in net asset value. The average decline for the 380 open-end mutual funds was -11.8 per cent. Ivest, a growth fund, did far better than the average for all growth funds which dropped 13.8 per cent. By retirement, Ivest should provide you an excellent income supplement.

Q. I plan to live on my savings of $3,700 for the next 10 months. Should I take $2,000 and speculate until I need the money in July or leave it in the bank at 4 per cent?—M.J.

A. Your funds will provide $86 weekly for 43 weeks. By speculating you risk losing part of your capital. Unless you want mighty slim pickings, I would choose the 4 per cent.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Interest Paid Is Deductible If Legitimate Debts Are Involved

Interest paid is deductible if you are legally liable for the debt. You cannot deduct interest you pay for another if you were not legally liable to pay.

Interest on personal things like your home, automobile, etc., is deductible only if you itemize your deductions on Schedule A of your tax return.

Interest on property you rent to others is deductible on Schedule E, partt II — rent and royalty income.

Interest paid in connection with your trade or business is deductible on Schedule C, line 21.

The interest is deductible depending on what you use the loan money for, not on the property which secures the loan. For instance, if your borrow money on your home and use it to improve a piece of rental property you own, you can deduct the interest on the rental schedule.

SELF-EMPLOYED

If you are self-employed and your business borrows money which you use for personal purposes, the interest is not deductible as a business expense on Schedule C, but only as a Schedule A deduction if you itemize.

Points you paid to get a VA or FHA loan are not interest and are not deductible. "Points" paid by the seller are not interest, but an expense of sale.

Points paid by a borrower, mortgagor, as compensation to a lender for use or forebearance of money is considered to be interest. Also, these points must be actually paid in order to be deductible. If they are deducted from the amount of the loan, then you must spread these over the life of the loan.

If you pay $1,000 in points to get a loan and the loan is for ten years, and if the $1,000 is deducted from the amount of the loan, then you can deduct only $100 per year over the ten year life of the loan.

BEST WAY

A better way is to pay these points separately. In other words, give a check to the lending agency in payment of these points in the year in which you make the loan, thus making it a payment in one year and deductible in one year.

Prepayment penalties, the extra amount you have to pay over the principal balance due when you pay off a mortgage or trust deed, is interest and is deductible.

Get IRS Publication 45, Income Tax Deduction for Interest Expense from the IRS.

When you buy property or educational services on the installment plan or use a deferred payment plan of an educational institution for educational services which are provided for a student and the interest is separately stated, you can deduct the interest in the year paid, no matter what the rate. If the extra charges for time buying are only identified as "carrying charges" and the interest cannot be determined, you can only deduct the lesser of 6 per cent of the average monthly unpaid balance of your account or the amount of the carrying charges allocable to the year.

FIGURING AVERAGE

To find your average unpaid balance, add the balance of your account at the end of each month in the year and divide by twelve. 6 per cent of this figure is your interest. To figure the carrying charges allocable to the year, divide the total carrying charges on the contract by the number of payments to be made.

This gives you a carrying charge per payment. Then multiply this by the number of payments you made in the year. This gives you your allocable carrying charges for the year. You can deduct only the smaller of the interest or the carrying charges.

L&M Turns Down A Merger Proposal

NEW YORK (UPI)—Liggett & Myers, Inc., said it had received a merger proposal from Heublein, Inc., of Hartford, Conn., importer and producer of liqueurs and cordials, but that the L. & M. regard such a merger as incompatible with its company goals.

L. & M. also said the Heublein proposal was not attractive financially.

Cybermetals Bought

BETHLEHEM, PA. (UPI)—Bethlehem Steel Corp. has bought Cybermetals Corp., a new firm organized to produce exotic high-performance metal specialties for the aerospace and nuclear equipment fields. Production has not yet started.

Fairfax Again Seeking More Money For Schools

Voters in Fairfax School District will decide next Tuesday whether that district shall be permitted to add $1 per $100 assessed valuation to its general purpose tax rate.

It is just about a year ago that Fairfax voters turned down a 95-cent increase for the school district.

The schools are still operating. Teachers got a salary schedule raise which represented roughly the increase in the cost of living. About the only change visible to most Fairfax residents is the lack of transportation for school children.

The board has promised to restore the transportation cuts if the new proposal passes. But it is thinking also of some things not so visible: school buildings deteriorating from lack of repairs, a school yard that remains a decidedly unattractive expanse of bare earth (and a mudhole in rainy weather) for lack of landscaping, need for another remedial reading teacher, etc.

IN SHORT, the need is greater now than it was a year ago.

Fairfax schools' expenses per pupil are among the lowest in the county. Its tax rate, if $1 were added, would be the highest of any elementary school district in the county—unless the Dixie district also raises its rate, as it is asking to do in an April election.

The reason for Fairfax's high school taxes to finance a relatively inexpensive school program is the same reason that prevails in the Dixie district: too low assessed valuation behind each child.

THE FAIRFAX trustees have not said they will add the whole $1 if it is approved — which could bring the district's total tax rate nearly to the $4 mark—but from the looks of the financial picture, it appears they may need to do so.

We take a rather dim view of school districts that spend lavishly on experimental programs, run up the cost per pupil, then run to the voters for more taxes. But this does not apply to the Fairfax district. It has guarded its money carefully. The trouble is, it just does not have enough to guard.

We hope the tax increase fares better at the polls next Tuesday than it did last year.

People Who Live In Glass Houses...

We are not enthusiastic over the qualifications of Judge G. Harrold Carswell to sit on the highest court in the land. But there is an ironic note to the opposition of George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, to Carswell's appointment.

Meany blasted the selection of Carswell as "a slap in the face to the nation's Negro citizens."

Just a week after Meany made this attack, the Equal Employment Opportunity Council made a report on Negro membership in AFL-CIO unions in the San Francisco Bay Area. It had made a survey covering 170,448 members of unions which refer workers to jobs in San Francisco, Marin, Alameda, San Mateo and Contra Costa counties. It found Negro membership restricted to those unions with lower status and lower pay—few Negro plumbers but many Negro laborers, few Negro bartenders but many Negro dishwashers, etc. It pointed out Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union as a notable exception to this pattern of discrimination.

A "slap in the face to the nation's Negro citizens"?

Republicans Not Unanimous For 'Tax Reform' Program

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) When the issue of tax withholding comes to a vote in the state Senate and Assembly, there is going to be some peculiar alignments on who is and is not in favor of further penalizing the taxpayers of California by seizing their money before it is due.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, who switched from being against withholding to "reluctantly" supporting it this year, does not by any means have unanimous support from his own party.

Nor does he have unanimous support among the Republicans for his entire so-called "tax reform" program, which includes withholding some Repbulicans, who have been around a long time and are particularly astute in tax matters, plan a "no" vote.

AMONG THESE is Sen. Clark Bradley, R-San Jose, who said if he had to vote immediately on the governor's tax plan, he would vote "no". Bradley, incidentally, is chairman of the state Senate Republican caucus, but he made it plain his attitude in no way connected with the thinking of the caucus.

In the first place, Bradley contends the group sponsoring withholding has violated one of the cardinal rules of politics, which is "don't bring up tax increases during an election year." This is an election year, with all assemblymen and 20 senators seeking election to office.

The possibility that many of them will be in trouble on a measure that raises the state income tax 25 per cent is such that virtually no candidate would want to be counted as supporting such an increase.

SO CONCERNED is Senator Bradley over the administration tax reform measure that he plans to introduce measures of his own as an alternative to the Reagan plan.

The senator says they will involve returning to the old exemptions in income taxes, and also cut the state sales tax.

He claims the governor's plan is not one which really does anything for the taxpayer.

When people speak of "tax reform," he says, they actually are speaking of "tax reduction," and there is no tax reduction in the governor's package.

THE CITIZENRY was disappointed with the "relief" voted in 1967, when the result was that home-owners were given a $70 refund and woke up to find their taxes for the ensuing year in almost every case would be increased by much more than the amount of the refund.

"It's getting to be a bottomless pit," Senator Bradley said, "with increases rather than relief."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Fishing Picture Example Of Disturbing Nature

Please refer to the photo by Alfred Arn in the Feb. 9 issue, entitled "Catching a Fish the Handy Way." This photo is proves the Journal is ignorant of the whole basic issue of conservation. That picture is appropriate to 1870 not 1970.

Those fish are undoubtedly spawning, an ancient and wonderous event absolutely necessary to the survival of that species. The boys stopped this; killed the fish apparently for the sheer joy of it since "his family doeen't intend to eat the fish."

These little boys are ignorant, too stupid to fully understand the great processes they help destroy. They cannot be expected to observe the spawning, try to understand it, and walk on, permitting it to continue. They are symbolic, perhaps, of many modern men too stupid to forgo killing.

But if little boys must sometimes act like little boys, it is quite inexcusable of YOU, Mr. Editor, not to realize that your photo did not show the victory of Man over Nature, nor an exciting, happy moment, but a small part of a great tragedy.

W. A. MUSSER

Mill Valley

I trust that your front page picture and caption of Feb. 9 doesn't bring so much eye-opening publicity that every 12-year-old in the block rushes down to San Anselmo Creek for a few spawning steelhead.

I'm all for fishing, but this type of conservation endorsement hardly seems appropriate, especially on the front page.

Another View Of Jewish 'Race'

I feel I should help Mr. (Arthur) Burton in his letter of Feb. 9 wherein he believes a Jewish person who renounces the Jewish religion should not be called a Jew. I would emphatically agree with Mr. Burton if being a Jew only meant that one embraced the Jewish religion. However Mr. Burton overlooks the rather obvious situation that, right or wrong, many people also identify a person as being a Jew or belonging to a certain race regardless of his religious affiliation.

In this light it is easy to see Vincent Hallinan (to use Burton's example) as not being Catholic, but difficult to say he is not Irish.

It is certainly not a "genetic myth" that the Jewish race exists. In common with other races there exist similarities of feature, culture, names, etc., much as is the case with the Irish, etc.

Furthermore I see no reason why one should be ashamed of being of the Jewish race. Certainly all of us in the western world owe a lot to the Jewish people, past and present.

The article about the boy catching the 21-inch trout is crumby because it's like inviting every kid to go down and catch a fish by hand, yet it's illegal to catch trout this time of year. You're always saying things about ecology in your paper. Trout are spawning this time of year and are protected by law. Dig!

JIM STILLIAN

San Anselmo.

I am writing regarding your Feb. 9 front page picture, "Catching Fish the Easy Way."

In the first place the fish was definitely not a rainbow trout but most certainly was a spawning steelhead. In the second place what was shown happening was highly illegal and very unsportsmanlike!

How could you possibly print this sort of story? The last line in the paragraph summed up the entire story as being highly graceless and I quote. "Scott said his family does not intend to eat the fish."

Why did he kill it?

Medical Society Adjusts Complaint

In January the Independent-Journal published a letter from Mr. Kenneth Wilson who expressed concern over the cost of medical care which he had received following a recent injury to his hand. Mr. Wilson also sent a copy of his letter to the Marin Medical Society.

The Marin Medical Society would like to emphasize that physicians welcome a candid discussion of their fees whenever a patient has a question about medical services.

In the event that a frank and open discussion between patient and physician does not result in mutual understanding, the Marin Medical Society stands prepared to act as an intermediary. This is done by bringing the matter before our public services committee, a group of physicians who review the facts of a particular case and decide whether the fee charged a patient is commensurate with the type and amount of medical care rendered.

In this instance Mr. Wilson was contacted by the Marin Medical Society in an effort to determine the basis for his dissatisfaction. Subsequently Mr. Wilson's physician discussed the issue with him, and a reduction in the fee was agreed upon.

This action should not imply that the Marin Medical Society determines what a physician is to charge for his services, nor should it suggest that patients need only to complain about their bills to have them reduced.

Rather it reflects our concern over the cost of medical services today, and represents our continuing effort to be of service to residents of Marin County who either misunderstand the nature and cost of medical services they receive or encounter difficulties in meeting their financial responsibility for such medical care.

Sincerely,
CHARLES D. DAILY, M.D.
Chairman,

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

One day a widely-read Broadway columnist ran a blind item alleging that "a long-haired musical genius is shaking in his violin case wondering when the story will break involving him in a torrid romance with a well-known gangster's favorite moll." The next morning the barber shop near Carnegie Hall had to put on four extra barbers 'til the rush subsided.

A kind-hearted lady was touched by the sight of a beggar dragging himself along the ground, and pressed a dollar bill into his hand. "Cheer up," she advised. "Think how much worse it would be if your were blind." "You're certainly right," agreed the beggar. "When I was blind I always was getting counterfeit money!"

THE DRUMMONDS

Democrats Badly Disorganized; Vietnam Policy The Cause Of It

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON—At a recent breakfast talk-fest with Hubert Humphrey, the first question out of the box was: Why are the Democrats in such disarray?

"Oh, that's what you reporters are always writing," Humphrey, never at a loss for a few thousand words, retorted. "Disarray, disarray, disarray—it can't be that bad."

But soon Humphrey confirmed what he tried to disclaim.

THE DEMOCRATS could make a great comeback in the fall election, he said, "if they would heal old wounds, if they would cease internal bickering, if they would start campaigning for each other instead of against each other, if they would . . ." ecetra and so forth.

All of which shows that Democratic disarray is not a reporter's canard, especially when so deft a politician who can't keep from being candid denies it laughingly and confirms it seriously.

THE DEMOCRATS are in disarray at least in part because they face a difficult and delicate policy dilemma for which they have no ready answer, certainly no agreed answer. Consequently the leaders of the party are heading in all directions.

The dilemma:

1—The American people show they decisively support the course President Nixon is taking to get out of the war in Vietnam. The public is not seriously pressing him to do differently from what he is now doing and, if it does, he can move still faster. He has the initiative militarily and politically. The Vietnam issue is defused at least temporarily.

2—But it may not remain defused. The situation could change. A Vietnamization proceeds the South Vietnamese army could falter, the Saigon government could fail, and what is today a political asset to the Nixon administration could become a political liability. It may not happen before the congressional elections. It may not happen at all, but it can't be ruled out.

THE QUESTION which is rending the Democrats today is:

Whether to recognize the President has completely removed Vietnam as a political issue this year.

Or, whether to push the party ahead of Nixon on getting out of Vietnam by demanding precipitate withdrawal and generate public dissatisfaction with the President's course. Then be ready to capitalize on the possibility that Mr. Nixon's Vietnam program will fall apart, hoping the Democrats who have most opposed the President will be most favored at the polls.

AT THIS POINT leading Democrats are seeking to push their party into a position of demanding a taster and deadlined withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam with little consideration to helping the South Vietnamese get ready to take over the fighting.

The first public statement made by Sen. Fred Harris on resigning as chairman of the Democratic National Committee was to brand the Nixon troop withdrawals as a "hoax." He didn't explain why. He may figure that his only good chance of getting the 1972 presidential nomination is to become an all-out critic of the Nixon Vietnam plan so that, if it fails, he would be as strong a contender as Senator McGovern or McCarthy.

Another Democratic advocate of instant withdrawal, Sen. Richard Hughes of Iowa, is raising money to try to elect only those Democrats who share his views.

And Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith of Harvard, former head of the ADA, busily leads a group of Democrats out to defeat other Democrats, like Senators Henry Jackson of Washington and Gale McGee of Wyoming, because they have supported the defense of South Vietnam.

THE DEMOCRATIC Policy Council guideline on a troop withdrawal timetable is deliberately vague and ambiguous, enabling Democrats to take both sides of the issue.

What these Democrats fail to take account of is this:

If Nixon's Vietnam plan fails because he withdraws too fast, will the country reward the Democrats for pushing withdrawal even faster?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Courage, citizens! You're going to have to struggle along without a Federal Board of Tea Tasters.

You must also contemplate a national future without the strong security shield hitherto provided by 15,000 paid members of the Coast Guard Select Reserve.

If you have slept well at night knowing that your government has stockpiled 5,000 tons of talc against any extreme national emergency, you will now have to give up that emotional crutch.

You may even have to do without a government-owned railroad in Alaska.

THESE DIMINUTIONS of the government's far-ranging provision for your welfare have been ordered by President Nixon as part of his campaign to cut federal spending on "outmoded or uneconomic programs."

So far, the President has fingered 57 such programs. By eliminating or drastically reducing them, he says, the government can save $2.2 billion a year.

The Tea Tasters Board, which has been in existence for more years than anyone here can recall, will surrender its functions to U.S. Food & Drug Administration operatives who inspect the rest of the nation's food supply. The taxpayers thereby will save $127,000 a year.

THE COAST GUARD Select Reserve will not necessarily be disbanded. Its members may, if they wish, continue patrolling rivers and harbors on weekends. But they will have to do it for love, because the government will no longer pay them $25 million a year in drill pay.

The Office of Emergency Preparedness has been taking a second look at some of the $7 billion worth of commodities that have been hoarded in its national stockpile of strategic materials.

It finds that the inventory includes about 20 times as much talc as this country conceivably would need for industrial purposes in case of a major war.

Also on hand are 5 million pounds of quartz crystals, or roughly 15 times as much as can be justified by the most liberal estimate of strategic requirements.

Altogether, the Office of Emergency Preparedness feels, feels, it can dispose of $750 million worth of stockpile materials this year, and perhaps another $2 billion worth in future years, without the slightest impairment of national security.

THE ALASKA Railroad, which runs from Seward to Fairbanks, is acknowledged to be a needed and valuable facility. But Nixon sees no reason why it should continue to be owned and operated by the federal government. So he wants to offer it for sale at $100 million.

"Government programs, once begun, tend to live on—sometimes long after their original reason for existence," Nixon said in his recent budget message to Congress.

The year is still young, but it's going to be hard to top that for Understatement of 1971.

People Win Over Things At Larkspur City Council

Society's stimulating debate over people vs. things reached the Larkspur City Council last week. And, we are pleased to report, the things lost in a 3-1 vote.

At issue was whether a home for young retarded children should be permitted in a single-family residential district in one of the city's older sections. No, said the community's old guard, quick to the defense of property values and hopeful of resurrecting Larkspur as it once was but surely will never be again. Yes, argued a group interested not in zealous protection of zoning laws but in helping a group of underprivileged persons gain exposure to community life.

Proponents were quick to add that the five women residing in the home could be trained for at least limited employment and that committment to an institution could blunt any motivation, perhaps permanently.

Aside from the fact that the issue ever reached this regrettable posture in the first place, what made the whole thing so depressing was the opponents' refusal to admit openly that what they really feared was, yes, fear itself, and that their concern was based not so much on the preservation of property values as on salvation of their "right" to live without interference from a group of "sick" people.

Yet William Conover, a leading proponent of the home, noted that the question of "why Larkspur?" had been raised at an earlier planning commission hearing on the matter and added: "What I have to say to that is, why the state? Why the world?"

OUT LATER this month will be a public services directory published by the City of Tiburon. Listed are emergency services and post office, library and transportation schedules; recreation, public works, banking, sanitation and refusal disposal services, and a guide to local, county and state governments.

The booklet also contains a city map, zoning tables, and text on variances, use permits and encroachment permits.

All the thing needs now is a list of the best bets at Bay Meadows.

MILL VALLEY'S Margaret Goodyear, who believes in a form of planned parenthood for cats, is asking that petitions being circulated toward creation of a special clinic be returned to her home at 28 Laverne Avenue by March 3.

She expects to submit the Petitions—at this writing said to contain more than 3,000 signatures—to the Marin County Board of Supervisors on March 17.

At the clinic, Mrs. Goodyear proposes, cats would be spayed for little or no fee.

Car's Plate Stolen

Georgia license plate 302 170 was stolen from the rear of a car owned by William A. Lang and parked in his apartment parking lot at 1000 C Street Tuesday between 6:30 and 10:30 p.m., San Rafael Police reported yesterday.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

McInnis Comment On Memorial Qualifies As An 'Unk-Unk'

Fusselman

When County Administrator Alan Bruce recommended that the Veterans' Memorial Auditorium be called "Marin Memorial," Supervisor Bud Baar wanted to know "why 'veterans' should be deleted if the original money was veterans' money?" The other voice of the duo who speak as one, John McInnis, purred, "This is a misconception. It is not veterans money; it is the money of the general taxpayers of Marin.

Last Friday I commented, "The throne has missed the point," and said I would explain how, this week.

WELL, IN THE I-J's Wednesday issue is the pat description of his purring remark. It's an "Unk-Unk", which is interpreted—"Unk-Unks are those things we don't even know we don't know, but which must eventually be resolved into knowns."

Here is the story of the veterans' money. But before I start, I think this telephone conversation should be related. Last Friday before the paper was out, my phone rang and a lady said. "Mr. Fusselman, you don't know me from Adam. I live in San Rafael, but I want to talk with you about something that happened at the supervisors' meeting on Tuesday. Are they ashamed to have the name 'veterans' on that building?

"My husband was in World War I—my oldest son in World War II—another in the Korean thing and now one in Viet Nam.

"I have a friend who has lost the men in her family. Now just what is the matter with those two men?" Then she started to cry quietly. I echo, "Just what is the matter with those two men, Bruce and McInnis?"

JIM KEHOE and I had lunch together one day during the latter part of World War II and agreed that the county should create a veterans' fund to try to show the boys when they came home our deep appreciation for the sacrifices that had been made.

We wanted the money to be there for them to indicate the manner in which it should be used as a veterans' memorial. Each year we put in two cents or more from the tax rate. It was labeled "veterans' memorial fund." The people—the "general taxpayers of Marin" to use McInnis's phrase, approved. It was a commitment of theirs and the board's.

Once there was an attempt to grab it to be used on what is now known as Brasilia. This was beaten down by the "general taxpayers of Marin."

LATER, AFTER a bond issue failed to carry to make the hospital out at the county farm in Lucas Valley safe and to build the needed construction on the juvenile hall out there, I asked Doc Duhamel, the county veterans service officer, to arrange a schedule for me to go to each veteran's post in the county and ask for approval of a temporary loan from the fund to take care of the needs at juvenile hall — something like $300,000. They all said yes. Year by year the money was paid back into the fund, together with interest it would have earned in the bank.

Now, Mr. Man with the gavel, what do you plead? Are you an Unk-Unkster or not? Never mind. You don't need to answer.

Bay To Host Session On Dreaded Disease

By STEVE TOOMAJIAN

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Leprosy, a disease shrouded for centuries in supersition, is so rare in the United States that most people have never known anyone who has it.

But at least 15 million cases exist in the rest of the world, complicated by the lack of preventive drugs and the necessity for repeated treatment to attain a cure.

Modern science is making progress toward the goal not only of eradicating leprosy, however, but the myths that go with it.

WORLD DAY SET

Next Monday, some of the world's leading authorities will get together to compare findings at an observance of World Leprosy Day at the San Francisco U.S. public Health Service Hospital.

In America, where there only about 3,000 cases, many people think leprosy is of unknown origin. It is believed curable only through a miracle, and those who have the disease are pictured as outcasts capable of instigating an epidemic by their mere presence.

Dr. Paul Fasal of the San Francisco hospital is an internationally known authority on the disease.

"This idea that persons with leprosy are covered from head to foot with ugly skin irritations is quite exaggerated," says Dr. Fasal. "There are a few cases like that, but the disease manifests itself usually in isolated areas. Sometimes, it is so inconspicuous that a person can have it for years without realizing it."

Dr. Fasal, 65, treated skin diseases in Malaya, Japan, Samoa and Mexico following medical training at the University of Vienna.

For the past 10 years he has directed a leprosy clinic in San Francisco.

Despite the scarcity of leprosy in the United States, it is here that the crucial research against the disease is being conducted.

RESEARCH GAIN

"It was Dr. Charles Shepard of Atlanta who revolutionized our knowledge of the disease," says Dr. Fasal. "He was able to obtain the multiplication of the lepor bacillus in the foot pads of mice. His achievement has enabled us to experiment with the disease, since we haven't been able to isolate it in a test tube as with other diseases.

"We now know that after three months of treatment, the bacilla are almost killed. This means that a patient can return to his family after three months without fear of contaminating them, and he can still receive regular treatment for his condition."

Such work has hastened the development of drugs to cure leprosy, but the disease persists because no preventive has yet been found. Underdevelopd nations with unhealthy living conditions are especially liable to widespread occurrence of the disease.

The American Leprosy Missions, the Leonard Wood Memorial, the Damien-Dutton Society, UNISEF and the World Health Organization are among the voluntary and government organizations trying to stamp out the disease in Africa, India and other nations.

But the necessity for repeated treatment makes the mere logistics of cure almost overwhelming. And then there's that problem of recognizing a disease which can take so many forms.

TOUCH IS CLUE

"Leprosy affects skin sensitivity," says Dr. Fasal. "Sometimes it manifests itself on the outside of a person's skin. But often the disease will not be manifested in a visual way.

"There might be a spot on a person's back that is insensitive to touch. He may never notice this, until the disease has advanced through time and spread a little farther through his body. It's an elusive disease —a great imitator."

Dr. Fasal and Dr. Shepard hope someday to find a preventive drug and a sure procedure of diagnosis for the disease. In the meantime, they will continue their effort to aid the millions worldwide who are affected by leprosy. Eventually, they may be able to bring the "great imitator" from behind its many masks.

Look Repeats Try To Kill Lawsuit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Look Magazine has again asked Federal Judge Bruce R. Thompson to dismiss Mayor Joseph Alioto's $12.5 million libel suit against the magazine for an article linking him with the Mafia.

Charles W. Kenady, attorney for Look, Wednesday mailed Judge Thompson a second memorandum in support of its motion to dismiss the suit on grounds it was not defamatory and therefore not libelous.

Thompson denied the dismissal motion during a hearing here last month, but gave Kenady 15 days to submit an additional brief and a request for permission to appeal the decision.

The lawyer's 20-page brief resubmitted the legal issue of defamation to the judge and asked for a summary judgment on grounds the article was not written in malice.

California's Lawmakers Get Varied Vote Grades

WASHINGTON (UPI)-California's two U. S. senators represented wide variances in the annual voting-record ratings of the conservative Americans for Constitutional Action.

Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., got a 73 per cent rating on backing legislation of which the ACA approves. Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., got a zero.

The ACA, issuing its annual S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, a 29 per cent rating, and Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, a 56 per cent rating.

The ACA, siuing its annual report card on Wednesday, complained that Republican members of Congress showed "a distinct drop" in their ratings during the first year of the Nixon administration.

The scores were based on 17 roll call votes on such issues as the nuclear proliferation treaty, the antiballistic missile system, funds for the War on Poverty, debt limit increase, federal salary raises and foreign and education subsidies.

Record Tree

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — A sassafras tree here reaches more than 100 feet in height, two to three times the average tree of its kind.

Education Board's Committees To Meet

The three standing committees of the Marin County Board of Education will meet jointly at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the county schools office to discuss the proposed regional occupational education program and a project on staff differentiation.

The committees will meet separately at 9 p.m. The administrative services committee will discuss budget revisions, educational services will consider appointments to the occupational education advisory council, and special services will consider the summer school calendar and the 1970-71 school calendar.

INVENTORY CLEARANCE SALE

THANK YOU SO MUCH!

We have never sold as much furniture as during the past two weeks.

WHY? Our selection of beautiful Danish furniture is the finest in the Bay Area. And our honest sale prices have been fantastic. Our store was packed with customers during the past 2 week-ends, and you actually had to wait your turn before a salesman could take your order. But everybody had fun, and we made a lot of happy customers. We sold fine furniture to hundreds of home-owners in Marin and San Francisco as well as nearly every other community in the greater Bay Area, from San Jose to Santa Rosa. We even sold furniture in our San Rafael store to be shipped to Reno, Chicago, Honolulu and other U.S. cities during these two weeks. If we must say so ourselves, this is a pretty good record.

We have nearly emptied our warehouse in order to restock the store for this coming week-end, and we also just received a new shipment that we will include in this sale at very low clearance prices.

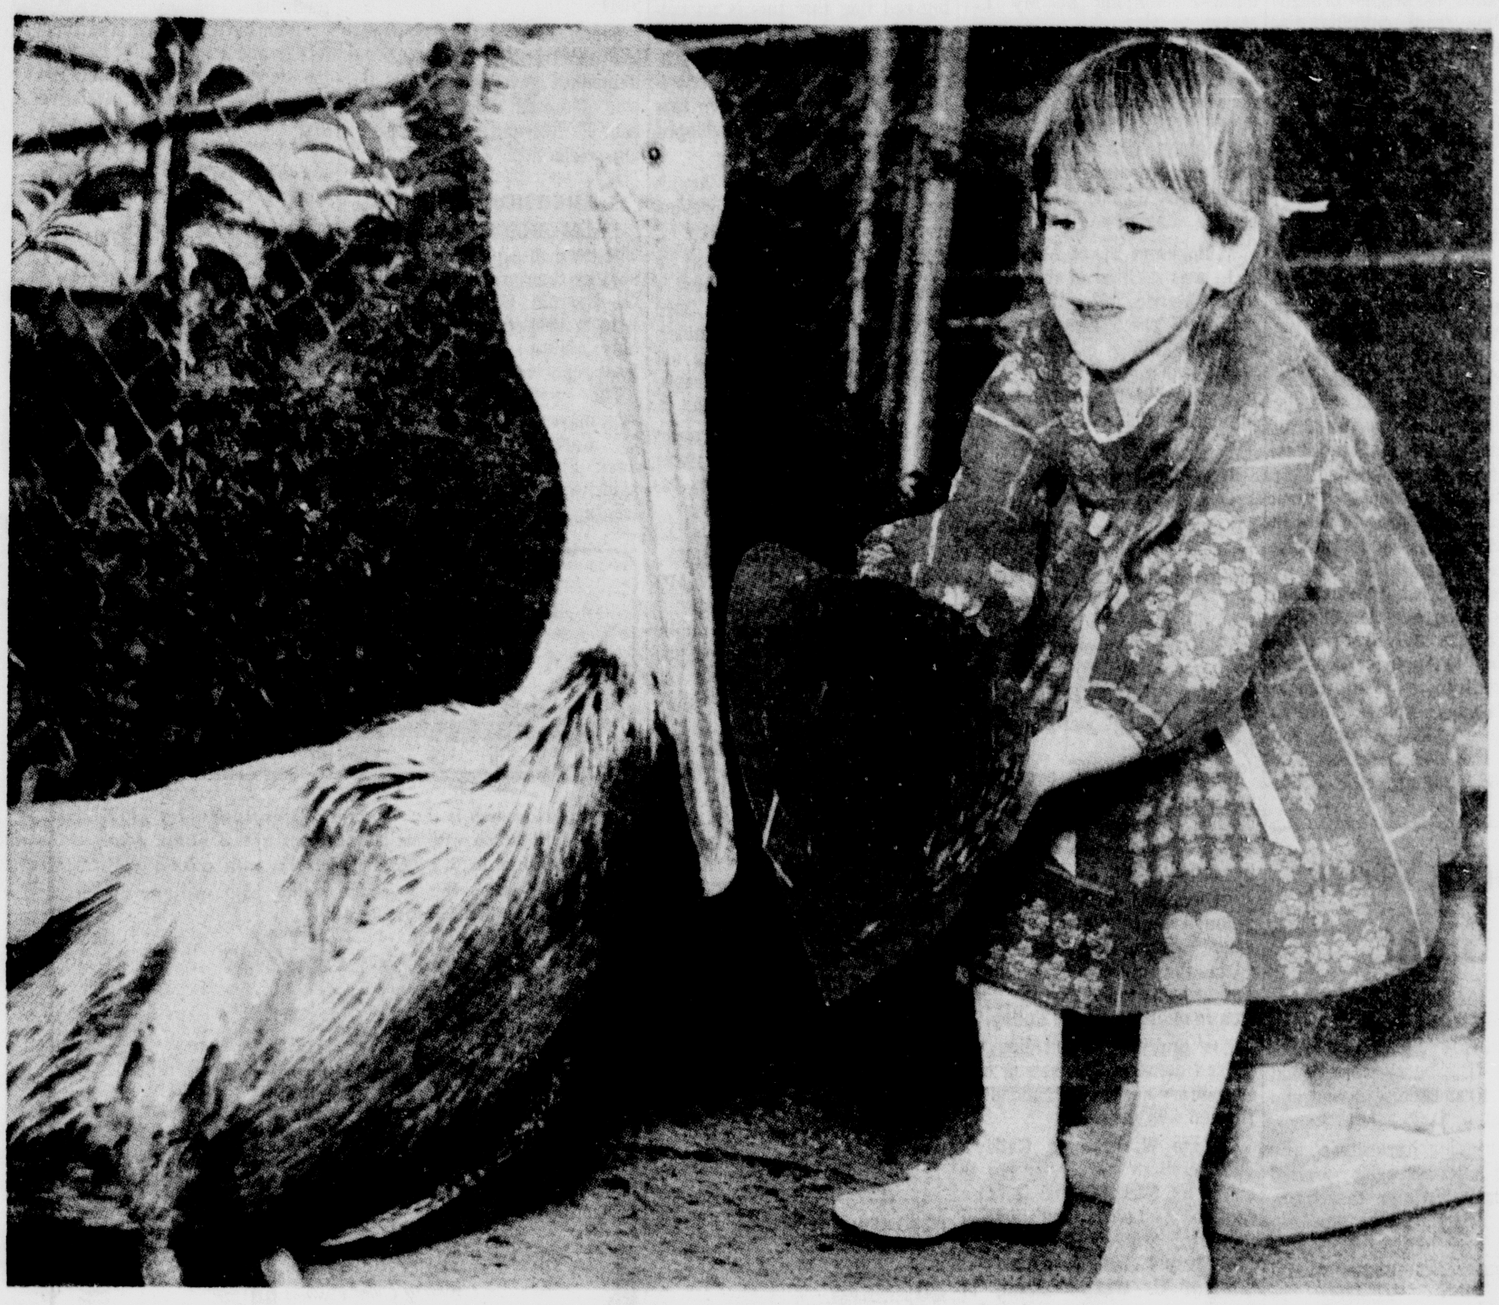
Tito-Rogers Chat Reported Fruitful



WILL YOU BE MY PELICANTINE?

Five-year-old Dorian Potter knows just how to make friends: give someone you'd like to know better a valentine. Pelican Ichabod seems to be saying Valentine's Day isn't till tomorrow, but any pretty girl knows the heart isn't ruled by the calendar. Dorian, daughter of the Harold Potters of 11 Hacienda Court, San Rafael, got together yesterday with Ichabod at the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum. He is recovering there from an injured wing repaired by surgery at the University of California at Davis.

Convicted Defense Firm Chiefs Sued

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A damage suit that could run into millions of dollars has been filed in U.S. District Court against 12 former officers of Alsco, Inc., a firm once involved in a multimillion-dollar fraud against the U.S. government.

Two of these named in the suit—Andrew L. Stone of St. Louis, former president of Alsco, and Francis N. Rosenbaum, a Washington lawyer—were sentenced Tuesday to 10 years in prison for their roles in a fraud involving $47 million in Navy defense contracts.

The suit was filed late Thursday by Harvard Industries, Inc., of Farmington, N.J., which bought Stone's controlling interest in Alsco for about $11 million a year ago. Five other firms also were named defendants in the suit.

Harvard Industries contended the defendants had concealed facts concerning Alsco's financial condition from Nov. 1, 1965, to Feb. 12, 1969, when Harvard purchased control of Alsco.

Harvard Industries entered a guilty plea on behalf of Alsco in federal court last December to one count of an indictment charging conspiracy to violate the Mutual Security Act by exporting rocket launchers to an arms firm in Belgium. The firm was fined $25,000.

In its damage suit, Harvard contended that because of charges filed against Alsco for actions that occurred before Harvard took control, damages to Harvard could run into millions of dollars.

Stone and Rosenbaum and two other individuals pleaded guilty in Washington to one or more counts of an indictment charging them with defrauding the Navy on the launchers and funneling more than $4 million in overcharges and kickback into secret Swiss bank accounts. Evelyn Price of St. Louis, Stone's executive secretary, and Robert B. Bergman, president of Bregman Electronics, Inc., of New York, were sentenced to five years for their parts in the fraud.

Stone and Mrs. Price are awaiting sentencing in St. Louis Federal Court on their guilty pleas to conspiring to make illegal rocket shipments to the Belgium firm.

Unions Seek Mass Rally Against I-J

Bay Area AFL-CIO unions announced plans yesterday to bring thousands of their members to San Rafael tomorrow for a mass demonstration around the Independent-Journal Building.

The demonstration would be in support of a strike by San Francisco Typographical Union 21, which struck the newspaper Jan. 7.

The typographical union today attempted to get an injunction against the newspaper forbidding guards employed at the building from making physical contact with pickets.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court refused to issue such an injunction without first hearing testimony and taking evidence. He set a hearing on the request for next Wednesday at 10 a.m. before Judge Thomas F. Keating.

Judge Keating earlier issued a preliminary injunction against the union limiting the number of pickets to two at each entrance to the building and restraining them from blocking entrances.

Allegations that guards employed by the newspaper company have chased pickets, hit them with clubs, and threatened them with guns were made at a news conference in San Francisco yesterday by labor union representatives. Television stations were invited to the conference, but press wire services were not.

At it, Jack Goldberger, president of Periodical Drivers Local 921 of the Teamsters Union was quoted as saying there might be

Bandits Bomb Police Station, Hold Up Bank

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — Two men bombed the Danbury police station today, robbed and bombed a bank, and set off another bomb in a shopping center parking lot, injuring an estimated total of 25 persons.

About 20 of the persons injured were in the police station when a powerful blast occurred near the front entrance of the building. It smashed out all the front windows, blew a hole in the wall, ruptured water pipes, and sent rubble spewing onto Main Street.

A short time later, two armed men invaded the Union Savings Bank and robbed it of an undetermined amount of money, making the employes and customers lie on the floor. A bomb exploded in the bank shortly after the robbers left, injuring several persons.

A third blast demolished a car in the parking lot at the Danbury mall, damaged half a dozen other parked cars, and broke the front window of the Grandways Store.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said one of the two bombers was carrying a machine gun.

A bulletin was put out for two men in a white station-wagon with New York license plates.

The seriousness of the injuries suffered in the explosions was not immediately determined. Most of the injuries were reportedly cuts caused by flying glass.

Police blocked off several streets downtown because of rubble and glass and the fear of additional bombs. The blasts apparently were responsible for a temporary disruption of telephone service.

A short time after the three blasts, someone set off a bomb scare at St. Joseph's grammar school that forced evacuation of the students. No bomb was found in the building.

All off-duty police and firemen were called in by Mayor Gino J. Arconti. Because of the condition of the police station, Arconti moved police operations to the War Memorial Building, where the town's Civil Defense office is located.

Grounded Tanker Fouls Florida Port

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A partially loaded Greek tanker slashed its hull running aground today in Tampa Bay in heavy fog and released fuel oil that rapidly covered a half-mile stretch of water between Tampa and St. Petersburg, port authorities said.

Cmdr. Anthony F. Fugaro, captain of the Port of Tampa, said the 619-foot tanker Delian Apollon was refloated an hour after it struck.

"We are not quite sure how bad the slick is, but we hope to be able to contain it," Fugaro said. "The tanker has been refloated and is proceeding to its destination, so it can't be too bad."

The Coast Guard said the fuel oil spilling from the hull spread over a half-mile long path about 300 yards wide.

Fugaro said the tanker, en route to a power plant, was about one mile from St. Petersburg "when it must have missed a turn in the channel" and ran aground.

Port officials were preparing a "slick bar"—styrofoam sections that dip two feet deep into the water — at the mooring to hold back any flow of oil from the tanker after she docked. Another bar was being dispatched to the mouth of Tampa Bay for use in containing the slick already on the water.

Fugaro said the tanker's load had not been determined.

Meanwhile, mopping up operations began today along the shores of Chedacuto Bay, Nova Scotia, 10 days after the Liberian tanker Arrow went aground and broke apart at the entrance to Nova Scotia Bay.

The Arrow was carrying 3,380,000 gallons of oil when she hit the rocks Feb. 4 but there has been no estimate of oil spilled. Oil patches now cover the north shore from Cape Auget, westward to Janvrin Island and the south shore for 11 miles east of Canso. There are also blotches on a 15-mile section of the Nova Scotia mainland near the entrance to Canso Strait.

GROWTH COMES QUICKLY

Marin City Bus Line Adds Runs

Marin County Transit Systems Inc., which inaugurated intra-county bus service two weeks ago on the Tiburon Peninsula, will expand operations on Monday to Mill Valley and start carrying school children.

The Marin City-based company's blue and gold buses will feed the Tiburon ferry throughout the day, starting at 6:30 a.m., along Almonte Boulevard, Miller Avenue, East Blithedale Avenue, Tiburon Boulevard, Trestle Glen Drive, and back to Tiburon Boulevard to the ferry.

Buses also will meet all ferries returning from San Francisco. Fare each way is 25 cents, and drivers carry no cash change.

The company's entry into school bus operations will be limited at first to carrying about 20 children from Strawberry to St. Hilary's School in Hawthorne Terrace. Parents of the children contracted for the service on their own initiative.

The service was the idea of Dr. Robert I. Branick of 440 East Strawberry Drive, who said it was to "solve the very painful headache of car pools." He arranged for the service with other parents in the neighborhood who also send children to the parochial school.

Fare for the children will be 15 cents each way.

Both the Mill Valley and St. Hilary's operations, said the bus company's president, Theophus Barron Jr., are part of the company's effort to show it can handle a modern bus system.

The company will provide "an integrated county-wide transportation system tailored to the needs of the people, whether school children, students, shoppers or commuters or whatever," Barron told the Independent-Journal. "We know we have the answer to this kind of transportation need," he said.

Barron outlined the following weekday "commuter special" schedule for the Mill Valley service to feed the Tiburon ferry departures at 7 a.m. and 8:20 a.m.: Rosemont Avenue and Almonte Boulevard, 6:30 and 7:50; Almonte and Miller, 6:31 and 7:51; Camino Alto and Miller, 6:33 and 7:53; Reed Street and Miller, 6:35 and 7:55; Lagoma Street and Miller, 6:37 and 7:57; Mill Valley Bus Depot, 6:39 and 7:59.

East Blithedale at Park School, 6:41 and 8:01; East Blithedale and Lomita Drive, 6:43 and 8:03; East Blithedale and Kipling Drive, 6:44 and 8:04; Tiburon Fire Station No. 2 at Trestle Glen and Paradise Drive, 6:47 and 8:07; arrive downtown Tiburon, 6:50 and 8:10.

Return runs from downtown Tiburon will depart 10 minutes after the arrival of each ferry from San Francisco, and the same stops will be made returning to Almonte and Rosemont.

Buses also will depart from Almonte and Rosemont, following the same stop sequence, at 9:30 a.m., noon, 1:20 p.m., 2:40 p.m., 4:10 p.m., 5:40 p.m., and 7:10 p.m.

Span Board's $2 Million Shifted To Transit Uses

An additional $2 million for transit was voted today by Golden Gate Bridge District directors.

The $2 million had been earmarked for repayment to the six counties in the district to cover property taxes paid to the district in early 1930s.

The payment, however, was ruled unconstitutional last week by the California Court of Appeal.

Today's unanimous action by the district board was to accept the court's decision, and not to appeal to the Supreme Court.

The district's attorney, Jerome B. White, ruled that the board's decision not to appeal, automatically meant the $2 million was added to the $6,211,000 previously earmarked for all types of transit.

The $2 million will be subject to the same restrictions under a 1969 state law that limited the district to spending 50 per cent of its net surplus on buses, 30 per cent on ferryboats and 20 per cent on drawing a long-range master plan on transit.

The board vote was after White advised there was virtually no chance of a successful appeal.

In other business White was asked to study whether tolls for pedestrians and bicyclists could be dropped. White, to report the result of his study in two weeks, noted there was a good chance that tolls could be dropped.

Apollo 12 Crew Going On Tour

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon announced today the three Apollo 12 astronauts and their wives will leave Monday on a 40-day global goodwill tour.

First stop for Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon and Alan L. Bean will be Caracas, Venezuela. Other countries on the itinerary include Peru, Chile, Panama, Portugal, Luxembourg, Denmark, Finland, Romania, Autsria, Morocco, Tunisia, the Ivory Coast, Tanzania, Malagasy Republic, Ceylon Burma, Indonesia, Nationalist China and Japan.

Mideast Crisis Viewed

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — President Tito was "very highly impressed," with his discussion of the Middle East crisis with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, diplomatic sources reported today.

Rogers had asked for the 75-minute meeting in Addis Ababa mainly to convince the Yugoslav leader of the Nixon administration's sincere desire for a Middle East peace settlement.

Tito is now in Kenya, and continues his African tour next week to Sudan, Egypt and Libya.

American officials have been reluctant to disclose details of Tuesday's meeting. Tito told newsmen on arrival in Nairobi Thursday that during his talk with Rogers he urged the United States to put pressure on Israel to take a less intransigent attitude.

RECEIVE REPORTS

Foreign diplomats in the Ethiopian capital received confidential accounts from the Americans and the Yugoslavs on what was said at the meeting.

They said Tito obtained a much clearer understanding of the American position than he had before and intends to give President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt a full account of it.

Tito has Nasser's confidence, and the sources said that, although he is unlikely to endorse the American position, his explanation of it could go along way toward allaying Nasser's suspicions of American motives.

Rogers ended his two-day visit to Ethiopia and departed for Nairobi on the fourth leg of his 10-nation tour. Rogers' stay in Kenya will overlap Tito's, but American officials said there were no plans for the two to meet again there.

OFF TO KENYA

Before his departure, Rogers spent 90 minutes with Robert Gardiner, of Ghana, Secretary General of the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa. Rogers said he came away greatly impressed with the work of the commission.

Rogers told Gardiner the ECA was an example "of what can be done in a most practical way to help the people of Africa."

He said he would take information Gardiner gave him back to President Nixon with the hope that it would affect United States' support for the ECA in the future.

Rogers' talks with the Ethiopian leaders have been most friendly, as there are hardly any points of dissension between the two countries. But the Ethiopian government took exception to disclosures of some parts of Rogers' discussions with Emperor Haile Selassie.

The emperor was reported to have warned Rogers of increasing Communist infiltration in Sudan, Somalia, Southern Yemen and Tanzania. At the same time, the emperor asked for more American military aid, but Rogers expressed doubt this would be likely to get congressional approval.

"ARE YOU RECEPTIVE TO CHANGE?"
Does the phenomenal change taking place in our society today leave you with a sense of insecurity and uncertainty about the future? Is there confusion on moral and spiritual issues? It would seem that outstanding advances in some areas of human thought have left other areas far behind.

Laird Tells Saigon Be Cool On Bombings

SAIGON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird issued a cautious warning today to North Vietnam not to violate the understanding which resulted in the Nov. 1, 1968, bombing halt.

At an airport news conference after a three-day inspection trip to the war zone, Laird was asked if the U.S. policy of striking back at enemy forces that attack from sanctuaries outside Vietnam included the right to make air strikes on antiaircraft positions which could fire on U.S. reconnaissance planes.

The secretary replied, "If the North Vietnamese violate the supposed understanding of more than a year ago, the consequences of their violation as it relates to the theory of protective reaction is something that they should bear in mind."

Laird refused to be more specific, and later an aide explained that U.S. officials never disclose so-called "rules of engagement" outlining military action to be taken in given circumstances.

The U.S. version of the "understanding" with North Vietnam is that Washington made clear American reconnaissance flights over the North would continue to check on possible enemy buildups. Hanoi denies there was any understanding and says American reconnaissance planes are violators of its air space and liable to be shot down.

Laird said the policy of protective reaction gives "primary emphasis" to "the safety and security of American forces."

The question was prompted by recent American air attacks on antiaircraft positions inside North Vietnam which the U.S. Command said fired on American reconnaissance planes and their armed escorts.

Laird said earlier that "solid progress" in Vietnamization of the war will permit more American troop withdrawals despite a continuing enemy threat and lack of progress in the Paris peace talks. He warned, however, that "the road to Vietnamization will not be free of hard knocks and some disappointments."

Laird termed his tour to see how President Nixon's Vietnamization program is working "profitable." He said he had "informative and meaningful" talks with President Nguyen Van Thieu and other top South Vietnamese and U.S. officials.

Cairo Residents Demand Revenge

CAIRO (AP) — Thousands of Egyptians took to the streets of Cairo today to denounce what they called American-Israeli collaboration and demanding revenge for an Israeli air attack which reportedly killed 70 civilian workers.

Crowds lined the six-mile route between President Gamal Abdel Nasser's suburban residence and the Al Azhar Mosque where visiting Libyan and Sudanese leaders were attending prayers.

"We will avenge the blood of the martyrs," "down with American - Israeli collaboration," roared the demonstrators. Banners lauded Arab unity and vowed to fight to liberate Arab lands occupied by Israel.

The Israeli raid on a scrap metal factory 16 miles north of Cairo Thursday apparently resulted in the highest civilian death toll in any single incident of Arab-Israeli violence since the end of the 1967 six-day war.

"The crime is an American crime because it was committed with American aircraft," protested Al Gomhouriya and other government-controlled newspapers. "The Arab peoples and the whole world hold the United States responsible for the shedding of innocent blood," said Al Akhbar.

Police estimated half a million persons thronged the streets for what Cairo Radio described as "a massive demonstration of solidarity and faith in the leadership."

Thousands of people brought in by bus from outlying districts, including El Khanko, declared target of the Israeli bombing, carried banners denouncing the United States "the enemy of the Arab people" and vowed "We will liberate our land in a sea of blood."

A confident of Nasser claimed that Israeli and U.S. policy makers are collaborating in "a 100-day blitz plan" to exert maximum pressure on Egypt with a view toward ousting the Egyptian President.

The editor of Al Ahram, Hassanein Heikal, claimed that the United States, in a series of recent "close coordination meetings" with Israeli officials, gave Tel Aviv the go-ahead to use American-built Phantom jets in deep penetration raids against Egypt according to a mutually arranged progressive timetable.

It was because of this that the United States moved up from September to April the deadline for the delivery of 50 supersonic fighter-bombers and rerouted to the Middle East Phantoms originally intended for the Far East and Vietnam, the editor said.

Student Calls Cuban Work Trip Just 'Out Of Sight'

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (AP) — "The trip was well worth while," an American student returning from Cuba told a group of replacement Americans boarding a freighter to harvest sugar cane for Fidel Castro.

"I'm looking forward to getting back to the states, but it was a great two months," the student said. He was one of 200 who disembarked from the Cuban freighter Thursday as about 600 other Americans waited to board.

"How was it?" one of the students on the pier shouted.

""Beautiful, beautiful, out of sight," came the reply from the freighter.

Another returnee shouted: "If there are any of you who'd like to change places, we'd like to go back!"

One of those boarding, Carol Brightman, a former teacher at Southeastern Massachusetts University, said she was going because "it's an opportunity to become part of the Cuban movement by participating in the harvest, which is viewed in Cuba as a second revolution."

Newsmen were not permitted aboard the freighter, and most of the youngsters were uncommunicative and kept to themselves.

Three chartered buses carrying 127 of the returning youths crossed the border at Calais, Maine. Thursday night and were quickly cleared through customs. The buses were bound for San Francisco, Chicago and Washington, D.C.

The outgoing harvesters, who traveled across the United States in midwinter to assemble at Boston, were warmly dressed and heavily burdened with knapsacks and sleeping bags.

But the returning travelers, lightly clad for their work in Cuba's warm climate, shivered in New Brunswick's cold. They said the freighter, the Luis Arcos Bergnes, rode out a heavy sleet and snowstorm on its way into Saint John.

Another Is Charged In My Lai Case

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A military judge has ruled that the Army has jurisdiction to try Lt. William L. Calley Jr. on charges of murdering 102 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai March 16, 1968.

Soon after Calley's trial was set Thursday for May 18, Pentagon sources disclosed that another officer, Capt. Thomas K. Willingham, has been charged with unpremeditated murder of 20 persons during the ame operation nearly two years ago.

Willingham, 25, of Allenhurst, N.J., was notified of the charge at Ft. Meade, Md., where he is stationed. The Pentagon sources said the killings cited occurred about two miles from the hamlet where alleged massacre blamed on Calley occurred, and on the same day.

REJECTS MOTION

At a pretrial hearing for Calley here Thursday, Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy rejected a defense motion to dismiss the charge and end the case on the grounds that the Army had illegally retained Calley beyond his scheduled Sept. 6 discharge date and had no right to try him.

Still pending were motions for:

—Disclosure of documents and messages that might have passed between Saigon and Washington officials concerning the Calley case.

—Dismissal of the charges on grounds that "command influence" from President Nixon down the chain of command was brought to bear on the decision to charge and try Calley.

The Supreme Court has reversed convictions when in other military cases commanded influence was proved.

George W. Latimer, Calley's chief civilian lawyer, wants to subpoena Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and the Army's chief of staff, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, to testify on the command influence issue.

Kennedy has denied the request for subpoenas until the defense has a chance to interview Laird, Resor and Westmoreland to find out whether they would have any testimony relevant to the issue.

Kennedy delayed argument on the command influence motion until March 9.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

TB Tests Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Up to 150,00 Capitol Hill employes are expected to take tuberculosis tests in the wake of seven TB cases—two of them fatal—in the past six months.

"We don't want to raise any big red flag that this is an epidemic, because it's not," said a U.S. Public Health Service official after it was recently reported 144 of 500 persons given tuberculin skin tests had developed positive reactions.

"But it's a serious health problem," he said, "and preventive measures must be taken."

Medical authorities said a positive reaction to a skin test is an indicator a person has been in contact with tuberculosis germs. But they said it is not proof positive he has the disease nor that he will ever contract it.

Congressional officials report there has been on undue panic because of the seven cases reported so far.

85th Birthday

INDEPDNDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Bess Truman is 85 today.

So far as any outward, public sign is concerned it will be just another day in the life of the wife of former President Harry S. Truman.

There was a firm, but pleasant "no pictures; no interviews" word from the big white Victorian house on Delaware Street.

Persons close to the Trumans say there will be only a few variations from the normal daily household routine. The chief one likely will be a telephone call from New York from daughter Margaret—Mrs. Clifton Daniel —and a chat with the four Truman grandsons.

Any other observance will be impromptu and strictly a private, family affair.

Eyes Governorship

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Robert E. Short, owner of the Washington Senators baseball team and a former national treasurer of the Democratic party, says he probably will run for governor of Minnesota this year.

Short, 52, was the Democratic-Farmer-Labor candidate for lieutenant governor in 1966 but was defeated along with Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag, who was seeking re-election.

Caucasian Clause

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The deed to a piece of property sold by Supreme Court nominee G. Harrold Carswell and his wife in 1966 contained a whites-only clause, the Palm Beach Post reported today.

The anti-Negro restriction was apparently first established by Carswell's brother-in-law, Jack Simmons Jr., the Post said, when he obtained 38 acres fronting on Ochlocknee Bay in 1963. It said Carswell's wife Virginia acquired part of the land from her brother the same year.

"Ownership, occupancy and use shall be restricted to members of the Caucasian race," said a convenant written into the deed recorded at the Wakulla County courthouse in Crawfordville.

When the Carswells sold their lot for about $4,800 July 12, 1966, the deed specifically made the sale subject to the restrictive convenants in force three yars arlier when Mrs. Carswell got the property, the Post said in a copyright story.

Child Still Born

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Helen Meyner, 41-year-old wife of former Gov. Robert B. Meyner, has given birth to a still born boy six weeks premature and weighing less than five pounds, Princeton Hospital officials revealed Thursday. It was her first child.

Delivery was by Caesarian section.

Disclosure Bill Called 'Murderous'

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Chico city councilman put it bluntly to California lawmakers he'd quit the council rather than have to disclose his financial holdings down to the last dime. "This is really murderous, particularly in a small town," Councilman Eric Bathen told an Assembly committee Thursday.

The Governmental Organization Committee held a hearing on a bill sponsored by Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan to overhaul the 1969 conflict of interest law before it even is fully operational.

Meanwhile, the legislature was moving to delay for 60 days, until April 6, enforcement of the 1969 law which was sponsored by Asembly Democratics Leader Jesse M. Unruh.

The Unruh act requires all officials in California to make public, in detail, their financial holdings of over $10,000. Thousands of officials like Bathen have said it isn't worth it, that they'd quit rather than bother to do that. There are conflicting opinions as to just how far-reaching the law would be, such as whether it applies to the volunteer member of a local library board.

The State Supreme Court has been asked for its interpretation.

The Assembly voted 59-10 Thursday to send the delay bill to the Senate. The new filing deadline, April 6, would come one week before a number of municipal elections.

Worker Hurt In Roof Fall

A Petaluma man was injured yesterday at 8:45 a.m. when he fell from the roof of a home under construction on Albert Way, Petaluma.

Edward W. Miller, 60, of 103 Jefferson Street, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for back and neck injuries and was transferred to the emergency observation room at Kaiser Foundation Hospital, San Rafael. No report on his condition was available.

Miller is employed in construction for Young America Homes Inc.

Officers Elected

James A. Oberg has been elected president of the Tamalpais Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association. Other new officers chosen at last night's association meeting are Robert DeWalt, vice president; David Gealey, secretary, and Donald Morrison, treasurer.

Walton Scheduled As Final Speaker

Sydney K. Walton Jr., principal of Martin Luther King School in Sausalito, will speak Sunday at the final program in the Marin Art and Culture Club's annual Black History Week.

The program will be presented at 3 p.m. at the First Missionary Baptist Church, 502 Drake Avenue, Marin City, according to Mrs. Eloise Brown, club president.

Highway Fund Vote Trims North's Split

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly Transportation Committee has agreed on a two-step attempt to increase Southern California's share of state gasoline tax revenues.

The committee approved a bill Thursday to increase Southern California's share of the highway fund from 55 to 60 per cent. A bill to abolish the formala entirely and allocate highway fund by need was held in committee to see how the Senate acts on the increased ratio.

Bills to increase Southern California's share to 60 per cent have passed the Assembly the past two years only to die in the Senate Transportation Committee.

Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes, R-San Diego, author of the bill to shift percentages, said it was a logical extension of the one-man, one-vote philosophy.

Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, said 61 per cent of the registered vehicles in the state are located in the 13 southern counties while 39 per cent are in the 45 northern counties.

"This is simply adjustment of a formula that is obsolete," he said.

Assemblyman Peter F. Schabarum, R-Covina, complained that the gasoline tax has taken a billion dollars more out of Los Angeles than was spent on that county's highways during the last 10 years.

'People's Park' Victims Sue

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two young men who claim they were wounded by a shotgun blast fired by a sheriff's deputy during the "People's Park" disturbances in Berkeley last May have filed personal injury suits totaling $1.6 million.

The almost identically worded suits were filed in U.S. District Court Thursday by Donovan Rundle, 18, and David Moore, 22.

Named as defendants were the Alameda County Sheriff's Department and former deputy Lawrence L. Riche, whom the plaintiffs claim did the shooting.

Reagan Calls Tax Reforms Good Thing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan says that his tax reform package is a good one and that any politician who tries to block it will do so "to his eventual regret."

Reagan, addressing a Lincoln Day crowd of nearly 700 Sacramento County Republicans Thursday night, declared that he began an early push for tax reform even though he was counseled by some advisers to avoid controversy until after the November election, in which he is favored to win a second term.

"Maybe that is what politicians would do," Reagan said, "but we have all worked very hard to keep from being politicians these past three years."

Reagan said it would have been "more cozy" politically for him to have withheld his tax reform proposals until after election day.

He also restated his position on withholding state income tax from paychecks, the system of tax collection he had long opposed, but which he now advocates.

The Republican governor said he was forced to change his mind by the state's need for a continuous flow of income.

DRIVE HOME WITH SOMETHING NICE
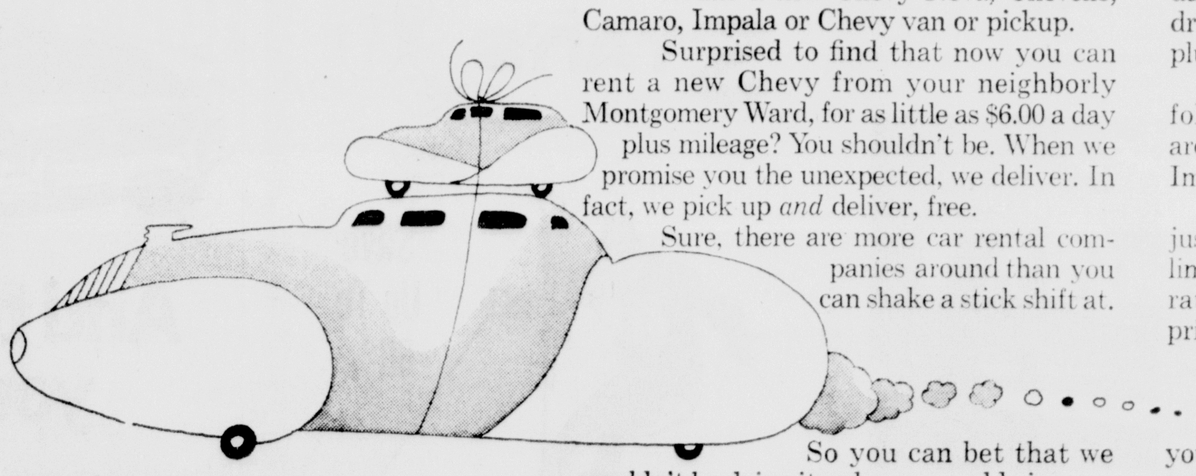
YOU'VE PICKED OUT
FROM WARDS.



...like a new Chevy Nova, Chevelle, Camaro, Impala or Chevy van or pickup.

Surprised to find that now you can rent a new Chevy from your neighborly Montgomery Ward, for as little as $6.00 a day plus mileage? You shouldn't be. When we promise you the unexpected, we deliver. In fact, we pick up and deliver, free.

Sure, there are more car rental companies around than you can shake a stick shift at.

So you can bet that we wouldn't be doing it unless we could give you more, and charge you less.

And we do.

Ask the man down the street who rented a new Chevelle from us for his daughter to practice driving and take her driver's license test. Cost? Just $7.00 a day plus mileage.

Ask that young college man whose folks are visiting him. He's showing them around town in one of our beautiful Chevy Impalas.

Then there's the big businessman who just blew in from out of town with an unlimited expense account. Him don't ask. He'd rather rent from the giants and pay giant prices.

We'd much rather do business with friends from right here. Like you.

That's why, for one low economy rate, you get complete insurance protection with gas and oil included. And your Wards Charg-all or other major credit card wraps up the package nicely—just one more to add to the other nice packages you're bringing home from Wards.

Newsprint Pier Pickets Lose Another Round

SAN FRANCISCO—Judge Lloyd Burke of U. S. District Court today granted a temporary injunction ordering San Francisco Typographical Union 21 to cease picketing Pier 46-A in San Francisco to prevent movement of newsprint to the Independent-Journal in San Rafael.

Judge Burke said the injunction will remain in effect until the National Labor Relations Board reaches a decision in a complaint involving secondary boycott charges. The injunction was asked by the NLRB.

Roy Hoffman, NLRB regional director, said the typographical union solicited Gardin City Transportation Co. drivers to refuse to transport the newsprint, consigned by Powell River-Alberni Sales Ltd. of Canada, and placed pickets on the pier.

The injunction followed a hearing today on a temporary restraining order issued by Judge Burke yesterday, also banning soliciting drivers or other employees not to handle the newsprint.

McNamara Asks Marriage End

Stephen McNamara, editor and publisher of the Pacific Sun, today filed a petition asking dissolution of his 10-year marriage.

The petition filed in Marin Superior Court cited irreconcilable differences between McNamara and his wife Hanne.

The McNamaras were married March 21, 1958, in Cophenhagen, Denmark. They have three children, Lise, 8, Natalie, 6, and Kevin, 5. The petition asks that custody of the children be given to Mrs. McNamara, as well as reasonable support.

An undisclosed amount of community property owned by the couple has already been divided by agreement, the petition said.

Berkeley Bombs Hurt Two Police Reserves

BERKELEY (UPI) — Two reserve policemen were injured when two explosions rocked a parking lot between City Hall and the local courthouse about midnight. Three cars were damaged by the blasts.

Injured were Paul Morgan, 24, Moraga, son of the head of the local chamber of commerce, and Allen Hamm, 34, Berkeley. Morgan underwent surgery on his injured arm while Hamm suffered a minor leg wound.

An unmarked police car was almost demolished while two other vehicles belonging to unidentified owners suffered minor damage. Windows in the courthouse and in an adjoining apartment house were broken by the force of the blast.

The victims told fellow officers after the blast they had seen a blue satchel under the car prior to the blast. Berkeley police received an anonymous telephone threat of a third bomb about 45 minutes later and cordoned off a block. They carried shotguns and searched in and around all the cars in the area.

Al Juke, vendor of the underground newspaper Berkeley Barb, was one of the first persons on the scene after the first blast at about 12:01 a.m.

"I heard this 'boom' about a block away, and I started running toward it. About 30 seconds later, there was another 'boom.'

"Two cars were burning right next to each other. There were about 50 cars on the lot and it was shift-changing time. I couldn't tell if anyone was hurt, but one cop said there was.

"One of the horns was stuck on one of the cars and it kept going about three-four minutes. There was a lot of smoke.

"About 400 people gathered outside the lot. some were yelling 'Viva, la Revolucion.' but others yelled 'cool it.' A guy started playing taps on the harmonica."

Police immediately sealed off the area.

Earlier this week, the city hall was the scene of a wild council meeting at which was discussed the issue of whether local police should be permitted the use of a helicopter.

Corte Madera Mother Files

Patricia Friend, a housewife and mother of five children, has returned nomination papers as a candidate for the April 14 Corte Madera town council election.

Mrs. Friend, a native of San Francisco, has lived in Corte Madera 16 years. She and her family live at 25 Rocklyn Court.

She spent eight years on the Twin Cities Little League board, served as recording secretary and hospitality chairman of the Neil Cummins Parent-Teacher Association, was an assistant Brownie leader and an assistant Cub Scout den mother.

Two other candidates have also filed for the three council seats, Mayor Edward W. Colthurst and incumbent Holmes S. (Pete) Norville.

Suspect Booked On Vandalism

A 30-year old San Rafael man was booked into Marin County Jail today on suspicion of breaking windows in a construction office trailer and stealing a coat, San Rafael police reported.

Donald Richard Storken of 830 B Street, was held to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Storken was arrested at 3:05 a.m. by two employees of Murphy Pacific Enterprises who reported he broke two windows and took a coat from the firm's office trailer parked at Second and Irwin streets, police said.

Medical Students Clash With Police

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — About 500 medical students in the university here today clashed with police during a downtown demonstration protesting plans for study.

violence at tomorrow's rally if guards harass pickets.

In his appearance before Judge Wilson today, Gary T. Giacomini, attorney for the newspaper, said the typographical union was seeking the injunction so that strike sympathizer, appearing for the demonstration tomorrow would believe guards could not prevent them from entering the building.

Citing the call for union members from throughout the Bay Area to attend, he said "they hope to overpower law officers and break into the building and do damage."

The union's attorney claimed pickets had been threatened and assaulted by Nor-Cal Security Service guards employed at the building. Giacomini, contradicting this, said the Marin County district attorney is preparing to file criminal charges against five union members or pickets.

Judge Wilson said that such an injunction as sought by the union was too broad to grant without a hearing.

The unions' plan for the demonstration tomorrow was accompanied by a step-up in a "War of nerves" between the typographical union and the newspaper owners and managers.

Two longtime employees of the I-J classified advertising department reported they were told by pickets as they left work yesterday that "you won't live long if you keep working there."

A Mill Valley woman reported receiving a telephone call from a person who asked her to cancel her subscription to the newspaper and warned, "You'd better not have it on your front porch!"

Three States Enter Desegregation Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) —U.S. District Court Judge Manuel Real today gave three Deep South states to intervene as friends of the court in the Pasadena school desegregation case.

The attorneys general from Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi met with the judge behind closed doors for nearly an hour before emerging to file their briefs in the case.

Mayor Files First In Cotati

Cotati Mayor Frank J. Dolinsek has become the first candidate for the April 14 city council election.

The term of Councilman John Rasmussen will also expire.

Dolinsek, who was appointed to the council in 1966, will be seeking his first full four-year term. He has operated Dolinsek's Begonia Gardens in Cotati since 1954 and moved from Santa Rosa to 7964 Gravenstein Highway, Cotati, in 1964. Dolinsek has a son.

Marine Boss Will Probe Pendleton Racial Uproar

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — A formal investigation of a 1½-hour racial disturbance begins today at this big Marine base as the commandant of the Marine Corps arrives on the West Coast to tour Marine installations.

Maj. Gen. Donn J. Robertson, base commander, ordered convening of a board of inquiry into a disturbance Wednesday night in which 30 to 35 black Marines stormed a barracks.

They attacked black and white Marines quartered in the barracks, using broom handles to "hit everyone who was in their way," a spokesman said.

Thirty Marines, about half of them black, were treated for minor cuts and bruises suffered in what a Marine colonel called a disturbance planned by off-base organizations.

Col. Ross R. Miner, commanding officer of Staging Battalion, which processes Marines for overseas assignment, said Thursday that the violence may be connected with the visit of Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., Marine commandant.

Chapman is scheduled to visit Camp Pendleton Monday, after arrival today in nearby San Diego.

The outbreak was influenced by such dissident groups as the Black Panthers, Students for a Democratic Soceity and Movement for a Democratic Military, Miner said. He based his belief on interviews with the men involved.

The barracks was cordoned off by 60 military police and Marine guards and no force was used, officials said.

Minor said the disturbance stopped when he told the men "to behave like Marines and start cleaning up the mess."

He said Marines who instigated the riot complained they were harassed by a corporal and they protested being marched to the mess hall.

"Those aren't the type of complaints that would provoke such a disturbance," Miner said. Some of the men, he said, were perhaps under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

No arrests were made immediately, he said, because further disturbances were feared.

Marines involved will be formally charged with destroying government property or attacking other Marines after the investigation, Miner said.

Is Mentally Retarded Program Big Misfit?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California schools are reviewing the rolls of mentally retarded classes in an effort to weed out improperly placed youngsters.

The number of students in special classes has been reduced by 4,000 from a high of 58,000 under the "crash program," a specialist told the State Board of Education Thursday.

A disproportionate number of students classified as mentally retarded are Spanish-speaking youngsters whose intelligence was tested inaccurately by tests administered in English, said Dr. Joseph P. Rice, but a higher ratio is found among black students.

Dr. Rice, chief of the Division of Special Education in the Bureau for the Mentally Excep-Child, reported 3.26 per cent of all black students in California schools were classed as Educable Mentally Retarded.

The figure for Spanish-speaking students is 2.14 per cent, for other white students. 71 per cent, and for oriental students .36 per cent.

A federal judge recently ordered intelligence tests be readministered to Spanish-speaking students classed as mentally retarded to weed out those improperly placed.

Dr. John Ford, a board member, urged that black students in this category also be given a second consideration.

He noted that the intelligence tests, although given in English, fail to take into consideration the "language of the ghetto."

Heritage Of Music Cited Key To Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's civil rights chief suggests racial tension in the military might be relieved if white servicemen learned to sing spirituals and blacks, country-western tunes.

L. Howard Bennett also recommends group dancing in which "Negroes could learn the polkas and schottisches and whites the Charleston and the cakewalk."

Bennett, acting deputy assistant secretary of defense, lists these ideas in an 11-page report on "reducing tensions and unrest through group activity."

The report recommends to military commanders a wide range of measures for "avoiding racial conflict and maintaining harmony, unity and strength in the armed forces."

Bennett calls for vigorous leadership in improving relations between black and white servicemen.

Among other steps, he urges:

—"Education in human relations" from officer and noncommissioned officer schools down through basic training of recruits.

—Encouragement of panels and roundtable discussions at military installations and aboard ships "so as to dispel misunderstanding, resolve irritating issues, and achieve, whenever possible, understanding and consensus" among the diverse groups in the armd forces.

FBI Agents Get Lecture On Conduct In Courtroom

Three FBI agents were lectured on decorum and cited for contempt by U.S. District Judge William T. Sweigert Thursday after they arrested a man in his courtroom.

The agents apologized for what they called a mistake and the judge withdrew the contempt ruling after explanations were made.

"I don't know what's going on here," said the judge as the three agents hauled out the Rev. Robert L. Kimball, who had been sitting in the spectator section as Bishop Robert Skillman was being arraigned on a charge of assaulting a postal employe.

"Tell them to come back here," he instructed a deputy U.S. marshal.

Skillman, who heads his own church and who had pleaded innocent to the charge, had shouted to the judge that the FBI men were taking his archdeacon, Kimball, away.

Back in court, FBI agent Wiley Davey explained that he and agents Joseph Dushek and Duane Franklin had hoped to get Kimball to leave the court and then arrest him for alleged draft evasion.

But Kimball went limp, so they carried him out.

"We had been trying to locate Kimball and were in the courtroom on the chance he would be on hand," said Davey. "We have a great deal of difficulty both (Kimball and Skillman) over the past two years."

"But we did act impulsively and it was my fault. All the others told me it was wrong, but I thought it was the best way."

The judge had Kimball seated again, and when he left the court he was duly arrested and taken before U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith, who released Kimball on his own recognizance.

Judge Sweigert told the FBI agents that the day's action indicated "disrespect for the court... it violated the sanctuary of the courtroom where no violence or any intimation of violence should occur except when ordered by the court to preserve order and decorum."

INSPECTS ELECTRIC CAR

John A Volpe (right), transportation secretary in Nixon's cabinet, got a close look yesterday at Ford Motor's experimental Comuta electric car during a tour of Ford's emission control laboratory in Dearborn, Mich. He was accompanied by Lee A. Iacocca, president of Ford's North American Automotive Operations. The tour was part of Volpe's two-day schedule with automakers concerning the problem of pollution.

Nixon Stand Argued In Busing Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) Southern senators said today chances for adoption of their school desegregation riders had been improved by President Nixon's statement of his views on the subject.

But Senate civil rights advocates, trying to defeat the Southern amendments to a $35 billion federal aid to education bill, said the statement had only muddied the waters.

The White House said Thursday that Nixon believed that school desegregation policies should be applied equally throughout the nation.

Initial reaction at the Capitol was that this was likely to pick up votes for a rider of Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., which would declare it is national policy to have uniform enforcement of desegregation in all parts of the United States.

However, White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler declined to say the President was endorsing this specific amendment.

Stennis himself said he was "greatly encouraged" by the President's position, adding:

"Of course, the President's position will lend strength to my amendments and is consistent with what he has said in the past."

In this comment, the Mississippian referred not only to his national policy proposal but also to his amendment on which the Southerners have placed the most emphasis—a freedom of choice rider.

It is the latter which now is pending before the Senate, which is to begin voting on the civil rights school issues next Tuesday.

The freedom of choice amendment would ban assignment of a pupil to any schools because of race, creed, color or national origin and for the purpose of achieving equality in attendance unless the local school board approved it.

Southern senators say that adoption of such a prohibition would halt the busing of students in many counties in their region in compliance with federal court orders to end the dual school systems there.

However, civil rights advocates remained confident that this amendment would be rejected. Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa. the Republican leader, plans to try to kill it with a tabling motion.

But these senators were not so confident on the national policy amendment which Stennis has said he will call up next.

One Northern liberal, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., already has announced support of this second rider. And Nixon's statement appears to give it another push.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., a leader in the opposition to this amendment, has said nobody knows what its effect will be.

It might well accomplish nothing in the North but simply lead to a slowdown of desegregation efforts in the South, he has contended.

Budget Bureau Rapped On Waste

WASHINGTON (AP) — Billions of taxpayers' dollars are wasted each year to government failure to analyze the cost and value of federal programs, a congressional subcommittee has charged.

A report by the economy in government subcommittee Thursday charged specifically that the Bureau of the Budget has not provided Congress with background on bureau decisions.

Subcommittee chairman Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said, however nondefense programs that produce an economic or human result are the vocational education programs that showed a $6 return to the economy for each $1 spent.

Thai Helicopters Set To Chase Guerrillas

BANGKOK (AP) — The Thai government has sent a force of helicopters to the Thai-Malaysian border region, indicating preparations for a big offensive against several hundred Communist terrorists operating there.

The armed forces chief of staff, Air Chief Marshal Dawee Chullasapya, disclosed the dispatch of the aircraft to Songkla, the regional headquarters for operations against the terrorist bands. He did not say how many were sent, but other sources said the number was about 20.

Agnew Attacks Policy On College Admissions

CHICAGO (AP) —Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says colleges and universities should take in students and teachers on the basis of their ability and that the quota systems of admissions is "some strange madness."

Agnew addressed a $100-a-plate Lincoln Day Republican fund-raising dinner Thursday night, and much of his speech was aimed at campus dissenters, both student and faculty. But his sharpest remarks were leveled at school admissions policies.

"For those who think that there should be ethnic quotas or race quotas, or socio-economic class quotas in the admissions to colleges or universities," he said, "I would address this question: When next you are sick, do you wish to be attended by a physican who entered medical school to fill a quota or because his medical aptitude was high?"

"By some strange madness," he added, "we find the thought seriously entertained among men in responsible positions in the academy itself . . . that the untrained should help choose those to be trained and that membership, whether as students or teachers, in institutions of higher learning should be determined fundamentally by considerations other than aptitude . . .

"Of course, the criterion of competence has in the past sometimes been honored more in the breach than in the observance. But surely that is no reason to abandon it, as happens when the concept of what is erroneously called 'open admissions' makes its way among some of our supercilious sophisitcates."

The vice president said "dissidents and dissenters" on the campuses make it impossible for "the many fine students" to engage in a free exchange of information.

The loudest applause from the 2,100 diners came when Agnew declared that "it is not right that the unqualified should sit on boards of admission to decide who is qualified to receive instruction in institutions of higher and professional learning."

This apparently referred to demands by students and minority groups that they be given a voice in school administration.

Marcos Delays All Executions

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand Marcos has stopped all executions in the national penitentiary until a study on whether to abolish the death penalty is completed.

There have been 60 executions since the country began using the electric chair in 1924, three of them in the past two weeks. There are 339 prisoners awaiting execution.

Sentiment is growing in favor of removing the death penalty from what Prisons Director Alejo Santos called "our primitive penal code."

"We are a Christian country and as Christians we should follow the tenets of Christianity," said Santos.

Dock Strike Ends; Pact Is Accepted

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UPI)—British Columbia's 3,200 longshoremen planned to reopen the province's six ports today following the acceptance late Thursday of a new labor contract.

The dock workers voted 55 per cent in favor of the three-year pact—the fourth offered by the British Columbia Maritime Employers' Association (BCMEA) in the nine-month-old labor dispute.

Bob Peebles, Canadian area president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU) said 1,590 dockers voted for ratification and 1,240 were against.

NEW PACT

The new agreement gives the longshoremen:

—A $1.15 an hour pay increase spread over 36 months.

—A 40 cent hike retroactive to Aug. 1 of last year; five cents more from Feb. 1, 1970 to Feb. 1, 1971; anothre 45 cent boost to Feb. 1 1972 and a final 25 cent raise until the expiring date on July 31, 1972.

—A guaranteed work opportunity calling for 130 days over a a 26-week period.

—Two additional paid holidays, Easter Monday and Boxing Day.

—A $13,000 retirement settlement for qualifying members at age 65, with disability and early retirement provisions and a substantial increase in the industry pension plan.

AT THE TOP

The immediate 45 cent an hour pay raise lifts their new base rate to $4.33 hourly—the highest in North America. It compares with $4.08 in Seattle and $4.25 in both New York and Montreal.

"This is a good contract, it will greatly benefit our members and will allow our older members to retire with dignity," said Peebles.

Edward Strang, president and chief negotiator for the BCMEA,-said earlier the new contract is expected to cost the employers $24 million.

The terms of the old contract, which expired last July 31, are to remain in effect until Feb. 23 when the new terms are expected to be implemented.

Pilferage On Docks Held Big Key To High Consumer Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of theft and pilferage on the nation's docks is running into the tens of millions of dollars a year and adding to the price consumers pay for many imported products.

"It's accepted by all on the docks," claims Richard Maxwell, chairman of the transportation committee for the American Importers Association.

"Pilferage is something of a fringe benefit, to some longshoremen," commented Gregory W. Halpin, deputy director of the Maryland Port Authority.

TRYING CURBS

Officials of dockworkers unions say they do everything possible to keep pilferage to a minimum. They point out that under contract terms a longshoreman can lose his job "with the theft of a 10-cent article."

Said one union official in Seattle: "We're rougher than any court, federal or local, on a longshoreman caught stealing."

Importers, who own the goods that are stolen, feel the brunt of the financial load. They seldom complain out loud, however.

"There are two primary reasons you don't get backing from importers," said Maxwell. "They fear retaliation from dockworkers and an increase in their insurance premiums"—and maybe of being dropped as an account by an insurance company if losses are continually reported.

HARD TO DETERMINE

It is this failure to report stolen items that makes it difficult to determine the exact dollar loss annually through pilferage and theft.

The American Institute of Marine Underwriters estimated that in 1968 theft and pilferage in international commerce cost U.S. industry $59 million and has been spiraling each year.

Spokesmen for most agencies in the shipping industry, however, think that the $59 million figure represents only the value of goods actually reported stolen—a small part of the actual losses through theft and pilferage.

To cut the losses he incurs, an importer may add to the price of an item, thus making the ultimate consumer help pay for the thievery.

Using large containers to ship merchandise has cut pilferage, but as one waterfront investigator here said, "Instead of taking a couple of bottles of whisky, they take the whole container, making it theft." It just takes more organization.

"The pattern of thefts on the waterfront has indicated that container loads are not stolen unless the thieves have sound knowledge of the commodity or product, and have means for an immediate disposal of the stolen goods," said Carl E. McDowell, executive vice president of the American Institute of Marine Underwriters.

"It is generally agreed that crimes of this nature cannot occur without the cooperation of pier guards, longshoremen, checks, laborers and truck drivers," he added.

"Not landed" is a favorite catch-all phrase used frequently to hide the fact that the goods were stolen. Strictly defined, it means that the merchandise has not arrived at the port of destination, but in effect means that the goods many times have arrived and have been stolen.

Waterfront commission investigators in New York, posing as receivers and sellers of stolen goods recently uncovered a $250,000 cache of stolen dock items. Only one bale of woolen goods, valued at about $2,000, had previously been reported as stolen. The rest of the stolen cargo was reported as "not landed."

In Seattle, a member of the police burglary and theft division said of pilferage arrests: "If they catch two, they miss 100."

In Chicago, where port officials now insist "there's virtually no pilferage," a spokesman for the Mazzetti Candy Co. of Sweden, told a state Senate committee investigating the problem that his firm stopped shipping directly to Chicago in mid-1968 because of excessive thefts.

South Vietnam government officials have been ordered to stop smoking foreign made cigarettes.

Group To Push Senior Housing Ballot

A special citizens committee agreed last night to sidestep the tricky problem of possible discrimination in the allocation of low cost housing and concentrate on getting passage of a June 2 ballot providing more such housing in Marin. The committee, which met last night at the Venetia Oaks Housing Project in Santa Venetia was formed last week to campaign for passage of the ballot measure to provide 600 housing units. The 30 members represent Marin's 11 cities and various organizations throughout the county.

As proposed, the housing would be both in cities and unincorporated areas, but there is a provision that units won't be located within a city "without the consent of its council."

This brought up the matter of cities setting residency requirements as some have for leased housing, a move that has been labeled discriminatory by Marin City residents.

Elizabeth B. Johnson, a representative of the Marin County Public Housing Tenants Union, wanted assurance that Marin City residents would be able to move into the proposed new public housing.

Housing Authority Chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said the authority had no restrictions that would block them, but it would be within a city's power to require city residency for admission to units in that city.

The housing authority Tuesday approved a new system for filling housing vacancies, under which the applicant at the top of the list will be offered available housing wherever it may be in Marin.

Thus, an applicant from Novato could be offered a vacancy in Marin City or vice versa. If he turned it down, he would be moved to the bottom of the waiting list.

(The system, however, does not overcome city residency requirements.)

One committee member suggested that the matter of possible restrictions be "cleared up" before the measure went to the voters. John F. West, observer from San Anselmo, suggested the housing authority take the position that no housing would be provided in cities that have residency requirements.

Authority director Vera L. Schultz said she regretted that cities had tied residency requirements and percentage limitations to their acceptance of leased housing. "This is inappropriate and wrong," she said.

She advocated, however, that committee efforts now be aimed toward successful passage of a low-cost housing measure.

The problem of residency requirements, if they arose, could be tackled later, Mrs. Schultz said.

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director of the Housing Authority, explained the only way to have housing Marin City residents can transfer to is "to have the ballot passed so we can build homes."

One member asked if the ballot wording could include, "not discriminatory by residency requirement," but there was no follow-up on his comment.

Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen commented, "If three or four cities don't have any residency requirement and others do, at least it's a start. We don't get any if we don't get it passed."

The committee named the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Edward Boessnecker, finance; Louis Della Valle and Carroll A. Snyker, community organizations; William A. Lewis, speakers bureau, and Frank Edlund, publicity.

Edward T. Ryken, executive director of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, was named vice chairman. The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Feb. 26 at the Venetia Oaks project.

Dodge Slashes Price Of Dart

DETROIT (AP) — In a surprise move, Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. announced today across-the-board price cuts for all of its compact Dart models.

The price cuts, which range from $155 to $190, were billed by Dodge as an attempt "to become more competitive in a price-conscious market."

Under the new price list, the least expensive Dart will sell for $2,172, $155 below the price at 1970 model-introduction time last fall. The prices are lower than those posted for 1969 models when they were introduced in the fall of 1968.

Canadian Blaze Fatal To Seven

MONTREAL (AP) — A family of six and a fireman perished in a two-alarm fire that swept a two-story brick house in zero temperatures early this morning in suburban St. Henri.

Dead are Mr. and Mrs. Noel Belanger and their four children, Roger, 4, Carol, 2, Lucie, 1, and Francine, 8 months.

Albert Papodekz, 50, a member of the city fire department, died in hospital of a heart attack after collapsing while attempting to effect a rescue.

Police reported that the Belanger family, which moved into the house last October, was trapped on the second floor of the building.

Larkspur Trustees Await Budget Draft

The board will also hear a proposal for a four-week summer school session.

Stranded Tourists Leave Avalanche Area

By JOHN A. CALLCOTT

VAL D'ISERE, France (UPI) —Thousands of tourists stranded since Tuesday's avalanche disaster streamed out of this alpine ski resort today over the only cleared road.

Officials said perhaps 2,000 of the 6,000 skiers at the resort managed to leave Thursday before a series of new avalanches sent thousands of tons of snow over route 202 to Bourg St. Maurice.

The new avalanches claimed the life of an 8-month-old girl, hit an auto convoy of departing tourists and smashed six chalets. Several persons in the convoy were injured. The infant was found beneath four feet of snow.

Officials said temperatures had dropped to below freezing, greatly lessening the chance of more avalanches. The one Tuesday killed 39 people in a youth hostel.

One of the slides Thursday piled into a column of automobiles wending their way to Bourg St. Maurice.

"The wind and snow knocked the cars all over the road, hurling them off to the side and blowing them at least 100 yards down the road," said Edward Classen of Lake Forest, Ill.

Thousands of tourists, some as many as four days late for work, were ready to leave when Mayor Noel Machet called off further departures because of Thursday's slides. The tourists unpacked, moved back into the resort and spent the night.

Before dawn today, police and hotel officials moved through the village awakening tourists and notifying them the road was again clear for the drive to Bourg St. Maurice.

All ski runs at Val D'Isere have been closed since the wall of snow thundered down and smashed into two hotels Tuesday. But officials said perhaps 2,500 persons were waiting for conditions to improve enough so they could resume skiing.

Weed Test Case Filed By Werber

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Frank Werber, entertainment impresario charged with possessing and growing marijuana, is asking an appellate court to overturn a ruling that drug cannot be considered a legally protected religious sacrament.

Werber, former manager of the Limelighters musical group, filed his appeal of the ruling Thursday with the First District Court of Appeal.

His trial in Marin County Superior Court has been recessed pending the appeal court decision.

Judge E. Warren McGuire had instructed jurors at the trial to ignore Werber's testimony that he used marijuana solely for religious purposes. The judge said there was no such religion as "marijuana ' ism."

Werber contends the U.S. Constitution protects him from prosecution if marijuana is used solely for religious purposes.

Airlines, Charter Fleets Battle Over Nixon Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two jet-age competitors, the scheduled airlines and the charter supplementals, are locked in a bitter struggle over proposed Nixon administration policy on international aviation.

"We of the scheduled airline industry cannot live with this proposed policy," declares the Air Transportation Association —ATA, predicting it would lead to an end of regular flights to many cities around the world.

"We are extremely pleased with the draft policy paper on international air policy," responds the National Air Carrier Association—NACA—on behalf of the supplemental airlines.

Charter airlines endorse the policy recommendations released Jan. 15 because they would encourage further develop mnt of the supplementals and reduction in competitive advantages for scheduled airlines.

However, James E. Landry, ATA vice president-international, complains the policy would give preferential treatment to the supplementals, "staking out for them new markets and giving new roles under which in some instances they would supplant rather than supplement scheduled air service."

The ATA said that if the proposed policy goes into effect, the deliberately designed and regulated global route pattern of today could not survive.

"The Pittsburghs, the Clevelands, the St. Louises, the Portlands, the Houstons, and in time even larger points will disappear from the air map and a troubled world will be the sorrier for it," the ATA said.

A committee headed by Paul Cherington, assistant secretary of transportation, made the recommendations after President Nixon ordered a comprehensive review of policies which had not been examined thoroughly since large jets started service in the early 1960s.

Regarding charter operations, the committee suggested:

—Charter services should be encouraged since they can open new markets and provide cheaper transportation.

—Both scheduled and supplemental lines should have a fair chance to compete in the bulk transportation market, including passengers now traveling at group rates on scheduled airlines.

SCENE OF RESCUE — Wendell J. Groves of Novato and Peter Caraway of Marshall look over the pier into the water of Tomales Bay where the boy nearly drowned last September.

Novatan Gets Medal For Rescue

A Novato man today was given the National Safety Council's presidential medal, its highest award, for saving the life of a small boy last fall at Marshall.

Wendell J. Groves, a civilian employee at Hamilton Air Force Base, was given the citation by Col. Lee A. Sarter, base commander in ceremonies at the base.

Last Sept. 20, Groves of 837 Atherton Avenue, was driving down Shoreline Highway in Marshall when he saw a crowd on a pier. In the water was a small child, apparently lifeless After an unidentified person waded in and handed the small boy to those on the pier, Groves applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, reviving the child.

Saved was 30-month-old Peter Caraway, son of Mrs. Susan D. Caraway of Marshall.

Chicago Riot Trial Finally Nears Jury

CHICAGO (AP) — After five months, the marathon trial of seven men charged with conspiracy to incite rioting at the Democratic National Convention in 1968 is headed for the jury.

William M. Kunstler, a defense lawyer, was to conclude his final argument today, followed by Thomas A. Foran, the U.S. district attorney, who had been alloted two hours for rebuttal.

After that it remained for Judge Julius J. Hoffman of U.S. District Court to instruct the jury of 10 women and 2 men and have them locked up to deliberate.

If convicted, each of the seven men could be sentenced to a maximum of 10 years in prison and fined $20,000.

During 90 minutes of closing argument Thursday, Kunstler cited rebellious deeds of the American Revolutionary period and quoted from a summation by famous criminal lawyer Clarence Darrow in a murder case 50 years ago.

"New ideas," Kunstler quoted Darrow as saying, "come from despised rebels who dare to think new ideas . . . If this jury should make it harder to be a rebel, then you are serving the damnation of the human race."

Kunstler sought to identify the trial in which Darrow had given the speech but the government objected and was sustained by the judge.

Fairfax Community Church Is Looted

The Fairfax Community Church — United Church of Christ 2398 Sir Frances Drake Boulevard, was looted of $30 worth of stamps between 11 p.m. Wednesday and 9 a.m. yesterday, Fairfax police reported today.

Fire extinguishers in the church were emptied and outside flood lights were removed.

BART Voltage Brings Warning

OAKLAND (AP) — "Electric Third Rail. Danger. Keep away."

Signs with this warning, in English and Spanish, were being installed today along 22 miles of Bay Area Rapid Transit tracks between Hayward and Oakland.

The rails, which will power BART cars, will be energized with 1,000 volts so technicians can check circuits.

Anyone touching the electric rail could be killed.

BART has installed seven foot-high chain link fence, topped by barbed wire, along the entire right of way.

The State Public Utilities Commission requires a curved safety cover over the third rail but they have been delayed by production problems.

Overdose Treated

William Fearn, 21, of 18 Prospect Drive, San Rafael was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for an overdose of pills, police reported today.

Reed Trustees Face Fiscal Task

The opening round of discussion on a 1970-71 budget will be held Tuesday by the Reed School District board.

Supt. Robert B. Gaw said the spending program has been prepared in the expectation of no substantial increase in revenue, but with room for funds to open the financially troubled Reedland Woods School and cover the cost of salary increases.

The board, meeting at 8 p.m. in Bel Aire School, also will consider a change order in construction of Reedland Woods School.

A closed meeting will be held at 7 p.m. to hear charges against a teacher aide.

The board will also meet at 8 p.m. Monday at Bel Aire to hear a report on a research report on Granada School, a cluster facility.

Fall Victim Mends

Reeder N. Nelson Jr., 19, of Vallejo was released from Kaiser Foundation Hospital yesterday following treatment for head injuries sustained in a fall Wednesday from a second-story construction site at 239 Picnic Avenue, San Rafael, the hospital reported.

Tires Vandalized

Robert J. Biseheri of 310 Paloma Street, San Rafael reported two tires on his car, parked at his home were punctured with a knife blade yesterday between 7 a.m. and noon, police reported today.

Berlin Envoy Sees Kosygin

MOSCOW (AP) — West German Chancellor Willy Brandt's special envoy for negotiations with the Soviet Union, State Secretary Egon Bahr, met for the first time today with Premier Alexei Kosygin. They talked for 90 minutes, and Bahr said they covered "problems of mutual interest."

He would not elaborate but said the meeting took place in a "businesslike atmosphere."

Since his arrival Jan. 28, Bahr has had four meetings with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, discussing a proposed mutual declaration renouncing the use of force against each other, West German recognition of East Germany, the Bonn government's moves toward detente with other East European Communist governments and other factors in Soviet-West German relations.

Law Cited In Refusal Of Ambulance

An ambulance crew which refused Wednesday to carry a dead or dying man to the hospital was violating no law, county officials said today.

In fact, the crew might have broken the law if it had taken Emilio F. Maschio to the hospital as requested by San Anselmo police.

Maschio suffered a heart attack Wednesday morning. On arriving, the ambulance attendant felt for his pulse and said he was dead. Police and firemen, uncertain whether Maschio was still alive, asked the crew to take him to the hospital but the ambulance attendants refused.

The difficulty, Coroner's Investigator Keith C. Craig said, is that there is no state or county law that says who can declare someone dead. Craig pronounced Maschio dead at 9:10 a.m., half an hour after the ambulance crew arrived.

There is a law, however, that prohibits ambulances from transporting the dead, except under specific orders from the coroner's office. If Maschio were dead, it would have been a technical violation of the law to take his body to the hospital.

"There is a potential for liability on the part of the ambulance company," deputy County Counsel Thomas Hendricks said, "but no statutory requirement."

Bay Cities withheld comment this morning but said the company president would be in Marin later today and a statement would be issued.

Craig said the coroner's office has no control over ambulances for a seemingly paradozical reason. If the victim is alive, the coroner's office is not involved; if he is dead, the ambulance company is not allowed to transport the body.

TV Set Stolen

A $185 television set, and linens, a blanket and towels valued at $32 were stolen from a room last night at the Bermuda Palms Motel, 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael police reported today. The room's occupant, Danny L. Temple, reported five shirts valued at $35 were also missing, police said.

Moonlight Bargains Keep Markets Busy

It looked like the crowd for a championship football game at each of three Mayfair stores in Marin last night as cars overflowed parking lots with customers for a five-hour "Moonlight ale."

The stores offered such bargains as bacon at 49 cents a pound, large eggs at 49 cents a dozen, and bread at a dime a loaf, with coupons published in an Independent-Journal advertisement.

Ernest Pacioni, manager of the Mayfair store in San Rafael's West End, reproted the store was "mobbed" until nearly 11 p.m. before the crowd thinned out. "We are very, very pleased," he said.

Dick Martin, manager of the Third and Union streets store, called the turnout "fantastic — just fantastic!" He and Pacioni both said it exceeded expectations.

"A tremendous turnout" at the Novato store was reported by manager Ted Zambukos, who said the store was "mobbed" until about 10:30 p.m."

Mayfair declined to disclose any figure on the number of customers, to avoid giving information to competitors. But one who was present throughout the sale at the West End store estimated nearly 1,500 shoppers passed through the checkout aisles during the five hours.

Married Woman, 16, Reports Motel Attack

A 16-year-old married woman was raped yesterday in her bed at the Bermuda Palms Motel by a bald, heavy set man in his mid 30s, San Rafael police reported today.

The woman told police she discovered the man in her room at the motel at 737 Francisco Boulevard when whe awakened at 8 a.m. He threatened to harm her if she did not submit, police said. She was treated at Marin General Hospital, police said.

Salt Lake City Developer Exhibits Magetti Ranch Pact

G. J. Garlick of Salt Lake City said today he and a group of associates have purchased the former Magetti ranch in Novato, of which he offered to sell 425 acres to the City of Novato for park use, under a contract of sale.

Garlick exhibited a contract of sale executed by Western Title Guaranty Co. of San Rafael as evidence that he and his associates have purchased the land and are in position to dispose of it. The transfer of title has not yet been recorded.

Wayne Womack, Novato city councilman, said his investigation after Garlick offered the land to the city for $500,000 showed Garlick "at the present time holds only a contract for purchase" and "it seems very unlikely that he could convey a clear title."

Womack made his statement after a story in the Independent-Journal related how the City of San Anselmo purchased the former Sorich dairy ranch for a park by leasing the whole property and buying it in parcels, one each year.

Garlick said a similar arrangement with Novato might be possible if the city were interested in acquiring the 425 acres he offered it.

Theft Of License Plates Reported

License plates were stolen from two cars parked in San Rafael during the last three days, police reported today.

Charles R. May of 258 D Street reported his Colorado plates AH707 were taken from his car parked in the Mayfair parking lot at Third and Union streets at 5:45 p.m.

A witness reported seeing a thief take plates from a car owned by Nancy Jane Lang, of 1000 C, Tuesday at 9:30 p.m., police said. The car was parked in a lot at 1016 C Street.

Ad Hoc Panel To Help Pick College Chief

An ad hoc committee to assist in the selection of a new president for Sonoma State College was approved yesterday by the college academic senate.

Chairman A. S. Pickett said a 10-member committee will consider applicants for the position and will make a recommendation to the "rainbow" selection committee of the chancellor's office, so named because it is supposed to represent the entire spectrum of opinion.

The ad hoc committe ewill include five faculty members, three students and two staff members. Pickett said the representatives will be elected by their respective groups and should be formed by Feb. 27.

Th rainbow selection committee of Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke will include several members of the State College Board of Trustees, the chancellor's office, Sonoma State advisory board, state college presidents and representatives of the college.

Pickett said the local representatives to the panel will be selected by the ad hoc committee.

The committees will seek a replacement for President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. who will leave his post in June to join the college's chemistry department as an instructor.

Driver Is Treated

Stephen R. Williams, 21, of 364 Sunset Parkway, Novato, was treated Wednesday at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for minor cuts and cruises after his car collided with another at the intersection of Irwin Street and Fifth Avenue at 8:42 p.m., San Rafael police reported today.

Williams's car collided with one driven by Richard J. Curry, [illegible] Kent Avenue, Fairfax, police said. Curry's wife, Patricia, 25, told police she would see her own physician for injuries received in the crash.

Purchasers Of Courthouse Seek Help For Planning

Developers of downtown San Rafael's Courthouse Square yesterday appealed to interested businessmen and citizens to help them finance and plan "a dynamic commerical center" for the site.

The call was issued by Ernest N. Kettenhofen, former Marin County supervisor, and Robert A. Roumiguiere, a San Rafael real estate broker, on Kettenhoffen's "Forum" program on KTIM.

The two men, together with Independent-Journal publisher-Wishard Brown, are principals in the group whose $767,000 bid for the property was accepted Tuesday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

"We have no set ideas on what should be built there," said Roumiguiere. "We have open minds and would like to hear from all parties so we can make the commercial center dynamic and aesthetically pleasing—a showcase of Marin County."

Because of the high cost of remodeling the courhouse to bring it up to modern building standards as required by law Roumiguiere said it probably would be demolished.

Kettenhofen pointed out that downtown San Rafael needs a strong commercial complex to generate increased sales taxes. "Downtown areas in many cities have become slums. While this isn't the case in San Rafael, a commercial center is needed to keep the city healthy."

Kettenhofen added that he objected to a reference to him as a "land developer" in Wednesday's Independent-Journal.

"I haven't developed land for resale in 15 years," he said. "Any land I buy I intend to keep."

The plan for some sort of commercial enterprise on the site was criticized by one listener, who said that "this would throw away the only historical building in San Rafael."

The caller suggested retaining the present courthouse, but Roumiguiere said that "it would be economically impossible to bring it up to date."

Other suggestions from listeners included building shops inside the present Courthouse shell, and devoting a part of the new center to a museum for Marin County history.

Marijuana, Siphon Leads To Arrest

The circumstantial evidence against Richard Nicklos Pariani, 22, was pretty strong when he was arrested last night, Larkspur police reported.

Police said they found Pariani, of 41 Walnut Avenue, Mill Valley, inside a garage at the Greenbrae boarwalk at 10:45 p.m. Nearby, a rubber siphon was still sticking out of a car's gas tank, with a gasoline can beside it. Pariani's car was parked next to the car being siphoned.

Police said they then found a marijuana cigarette in Pariani's shirt, and several marijuana cigarette butts in his car's ashtray.

Pariani was booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of possessing marijuana, petty theft and vehicle tampering. He was held to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Eskimos Changing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Many Eskimos have abandoned the long-familiar igloo for a comfortable frame house, and select their clothing from mail order catalogues, says the National Geographic Society.

Jackie Note Seller's Identity Is Revealed

NEW YORK (AP) — The lawyer who offered for sale four letters written by Jacqueline Onassis to a former Defense undersecretary, Roswell Gilpatric, was identified today as Theodore B. Donson, a former law associate of Gilpatric's.

Donson, now with the Wall Street investment firm of Cogan, Berlind, Weill and Levitt, was not available for comment on reports identifying him as the would-be seller of the letters.

However, Charles Hamilton, autograph dealer who had planned to sell the letters, before he learned that Gilpatric said the letters were stolen, said Donson was the man who came to him some time ago with the letters and got a $500 advance.

Hamilton, who had expected the letters to bring several thousand dollars at auction, got the $500 back from Donson this week and Gilpatric turned the matter over to the district attorney.

The district attorney's office has not disclosed whether it has traced the identity of the man who reportedly mailed the letters to Donson and told Donson he was a night stenographer in Gilpatric's office and had found the letters in a wastebasket.

Hamilton quoted Donson as saying he tried to reach the person who mailed the letters to him, was unable to do so and to suspect he had been duped.

Meanwhile Mrs. Onassis, iceskating at Rockefeller Center Thursday with her son, John F. Kennedy Jr., shrugged off reporters' questions about the letters.

New Tomales School Already Overflowing

The new Tomales High School which opened last September already is too small to accommodate the students, according to principal Robert R. Reeder.

Shoreline Unified School District trustees Wednesday night approved an agreement with Compass Container Co. of Richmond for three portable classrooms totaling 3,820 square feet, according to administrative assistant Anthony Matulich.

This will be a lease-purchase agreement and the district will own them in seven years paying $11,485 per year, he said.

Reeder said that the increased enrollment in the school and large curriculum made it necessary. The school was designed for 200 students and now has 270, he said.

The board approved a course in homemaking for the first time. The present art and business education rooms will be given to that, he said. The new portable classrooms will house the business education, drafting and art classes, according to Reeder.

The Shoreline Unified School District board also:

The Shoreline School District Board Also:

PORTABLE—Also authorized an agreement with Compass Container Co. for 3,820 square feet of portable classroom space at $1,485 per year for seven years for vocational classrooms at omales High School.

OCEANOGRAPHY — Heard a principal Ralph Nixon of Tomales Elementary School report that he was working with the University of Pacfic marine station at Dillon gbeach on an oceanography and marine life program.

PROJECT—Heard a report from Hollis Moore of the coumy superintendent's office that the joint project of the Shoreline and Mill Valley Elementary districts for educational professional development act funds had been approved, but the exact amount of these funds was not known at this time. These will provide funds to help teachers perform at a more professional level.

CALENDAR—Changed the closing date of school from June 16 to June 17 because the district has lost several days during the rains.

HIGH SCHOOL—Heard a report from Matulich that of the original 87 items on the list of minor items to be completed at Tomales High, all would be completed the first of next week.

RESIGNATION—Accepted the resignation of Carol Porter, third grade teacher at Tomales Elementary as of June 30.

COMMITTEE—Named a citizens' committee to study future building needs of the district. Panelists are: David Burbank, Alice Redding, Herbert Angress, Walton Burbank, Earl Carpenter, Fred Rodoni, James Spaletta, Sue Baty, Harold Ames Jr. and Richard Irwin. Board members named are: Louise Passalacqua, Roy Parks and Robert Giacomini.

Lower Vote Age Drive Is Planned

Marin County Youth Commission members will meet at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday in Room 254 of the new Hall of Justice to drum up support for lowering the voting age to 18.

The youth commissioners are circulating petitions to put the voting age question on the November ballot. Youth commissioners will map final plans for a petition drive set for Feb. 23.

Gwen M. Monroe, youth coordinator, said other items on the agenda for Feb. 19 include pollution of environment, problems in the educational system, youth recreation needs, and juvenile rights.

Sewer Connect Hike Is Asked

Ross Valley Sanitary District has decided it needs a $75 increase to $150 for installation of sewer connections, retroactive as far as possible, Peter A. Ribar, board president, reported yesterday.

The board Wednesday referred to the Marin County counsel the question of legality of such retroactive charges, according to Ribar, who said the board did not know what degree of retroactivity, if any, will be possible.

Ribar said the county counsel will also study an ordinance change to provide "pop-off" valves in new sewer-lines to prevent back flow into homes during wet weather.

Ribar said with the rate increase, the district would still have a low charge compared with other county districts, which are charging $200 or more.

Redwood Students Set Tree Plantings

Students at Redwood High School will hold a plant-a-tree day Wednesday to improve the environment and community relations, according to student organizer Chris Martin.

The students plan to purchase the trees at a discount at Egger and Son Nursery and plant them in the school's back parking lot starting at 12:30 p.m.

Chinese Exercise Classes Scheduled

A class in T'ai Chi Chu'an, a Chinese system of exercise, will be presented at the Sausalito Arts Center at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 26.

Sessions will be held Thursdays for four months with Cecile Cutler and Thomas Brayne as teachers. The class is open to persons of all ages.

Not now, but come spring with its warming sun, those two notorious lawn spoilers—crabgrass and spotted spurge—will start growing from the thousands of seeds left behind by last year's crop.

If yours is a dichondra lawn. Neither spoiler need see the light of day in your 1970 dichondra lawn. You simply spreader-apply Super Bonus before mid-February, and repeat in 8 weeks. It sets up a barrier that chokes both crabgrass and spotted spurge as they sprout. (It also delays revival of bermuda.)

If yours is a grass lawn or grass mixed with dichondra. You can stop crabgrass before it ever starts by using Super Halts Plus. (Note: Super Halts Plus does not prevent spotted spurge.) One spreader application does it, as long as it's on by mid-March.

Fertilizes lawn too. Both Super Bonus and Super Halts Plus also provide prolonged Scotts feeding—so your lawn automatically gets the fertilizing it needs at this time of year. ▫ And since both products work through the soil, you get the full benefit no matter how many inches of rain follow application.

Was There Ever A 'Stewardess Type?'

By ROBERT BUCKHORN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An airline stewardess is:

—A glorified cocktail waitress.

—A hard-working, underpaid airline employee.

—A husband-hunting home-wrecker.

—The girl next door.

It all depends on your point of view which answer you choose.

EVER SINCE the first stewardess — Ellen Church — stepped into a United Airlines plane in 1930, airline passengers have been praising and criticizing stewardessess — and trying to fit them into some neat category.

It can't be done. If there ever was a recognizable "stewardess type" it has disappeared under sheer impact of numbers.

There now are over 32,000 stewardesses working for scheduled U.S. airlines. United, the nation's biggest airline, employs over 5,000. Trans World is next with 4,500 ,followed by Pan American with about 4,000.

But the big boom in stewardess employment is just beginning. The reason: the arrival of the 400-passenger jumbo jetliner, which may use as many as 10 stewardesses on every flight.

Trans World alone expects to hire 3,000 stewardesses in 1970 to offset the demand created by the jumbo jetliners, the first of which, the Boeing 747, will start flying regularly soon.

WHAT IS THE attraction for girls? Usually two things — they want to travel, and the job still retains a certain air of glamour when compared to nine-to-five office work.

But it has its drawbacks — mainly dealing with "problem" airline passengers. A University of Southern California psychologist Chaytor D. Mason describes the "problem passenger" this way: "He looks grown up, but in many ways acts as irrational as a child."

According to Mason, most problem passengers are simply afraid of flying. Some use different ways to cover up the fear — they complain, they try to romance the stewardess or they revert to a child-like state of dependency. But in each case, Mason says, they are really using the ploy to hide their fear of flying.

Most airlines get very specific about the type of girl they want — at least when it comes to size. One airline wants its girl to be no smaller than five-foot-two and no taller than five-foot-nine. It also adds a warning to girls who may be prone to overindulge in bonbons: "Reporting overweight can result in immediate dismissal from training."

ON THE AVERAGE, the major airlines put their recruits through five weeks of training, ranging from the use of fire extinguishers to "oshi-bori" — that's the hot towel service at the end of a flight. For their work, the girls are paid a basic minimum of about $376 a month. This rises to about $580 after several years. But if the salary is not high, there is an added fringe benefit — the company pays all expenses when the girls travel. Despite this, the average stewardess stays on the job only about 18 months, then quits to get married.

With the combination of increased speed and size in planes, stewardesses have a new lament — they don't have enough time to do their job.

According to one stewardess, "you need roller skates to serve drinks and dinner to 200 persons on a two-and-one-half hour flight from New York to Miami." Short trips are even worse. It is not unusual for two stewardesses to be expected to serve dinner and drinks to 70 persons on a one-hour flight.

THE RESULT IS inevitable: Complaints from passengers. There have been stories of passengers who never got fed because the stewardess never reached their seat before the plane started its landing approach.

But there are other stories, too. In a survivable crash, the stewardess can hold the key to life for some passengers. She is the one the airlines count on to hold down panic, set up emergency exit chutes, and follow the last-to-leave-the-ship tradition.

That is asking a lot from girls whose average age is 21. But the Federal Aviation Administration standards require that an airplane must be able to evacuate its passengers in 90 seconds. Added to this is a new and growing problem — coping with airline hijackers, who have used stewardesses as prime targets for hostages.

But some airline observers claim the stewardess record is not good enough. One key area of failure, they claim, is the safety lecture given to the passengers at the start of each flight.

THIS IS DELIVERED in wooden tones by some girls who appear uninterested in whether or not the passenger knows how to tie a lifejacket or use an oxygen mask.

Since the stewardess isn't interested, the passenger tends to ignore the instructions which could save his life, runs the argument.

To prove the point, the critics cite examples of where oxygen masks were accidentally dropped into a passenger's lap from the overhead container, but were ignored.

Despite critics and boosters, the girls seem able to maintain their poise and patience. One airline official tells the true story of a stewardess who was cooped up in a plane for hours with an impossible-to-please passenger.

HIS STEAK WAS burned, he complained. The plane was late. The stewardess was incompetent. He was going to write a letter to the airline president, etc., etc.

When the flight landed the stewardess was at the door saying goodbye to the deplaning passengers. When the complainer passed, he got in one last growl: "I'll never ride this airline again."

"Promise?" said the stewardess, sweetly.

REFLECTING THE past, airline stewardess Shirley Ross looks at herself as she would have appeared had she been a stewardess 30 years ago. In 1930 there was one stewardess, and the number has zoomed to over 32,000. With the advent of the jumbo jet this year the number will go still higher.

Gail Jernigan Becomes The Bride Of John Allen Roach

MR. AND MRS. JOHN ALLEN ROACH

Gail Anne Jernigan became the bride of John Allen Roach Saturday at High Street Presbyterian Church in Oakland.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Van Horn of Oakland and chose her sister, Jan Jernigan of Oakland, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Doreen Hering, Diane Pressler and Mrs. Donald Brown, Gail's sister, all of Oakland.

Richard Gasper of San Mateo was the best man, and ushers were John Sheo Roach, Jeff Love and Steven Patterson, all of San Rafael.

Gail, a graduate of Skyline High School in Oakland, attended Merritt College in Oakland and is employed by Small World Travel Agency in Mill Valley. Mrs. Edna Field of Oakland is her grandmother.

The bridegroom, son of John A. Roach of San Rafael and the late Mrs. Roach, is a graduate of George Washington High School in San Francisco and attended the College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland. He is employed in San Rafael by Arden-Mayfair, Inc. Mrs. Herbert Britt of Petaluma is his grandmother.

The couple will live in Novato.

Courreges Sticks To His Famous Short, Constructed, Belted Look

By ANN HENCKEN
Associated Press

Courreges arrived Tuesday for the opening of his spring-summer couture future collection, prices from $250 to $495. He still stuck to above-the-knee hemlines on dresses with a constructed look: trimmed, buttoned, belted and patch-pocketed.

Pucci, on the other hand, is going to greater lengths.

"I'M NOT against the midi," Courreges said. "But it's for young girls. My aim is to make a woman look younger. Long skirts make her look older.

"At the speed we're going, in 10 years we'll be back to corsets. But my girls won't be like that."

However, he says he's already thinking of going to new lengths for fall, although he's not sure what they will be.

The funniest part of his new collection were the bathing suits. With a backdrop of flashing lights Courreges models "swam" out in bright, shiny two-piece swim suit outfits, complete with flippers, caps, snorkels and goggles-all part of a set. The suits are priced at around $125. The opening was hosted by William Fine, president of Bonwit Teller.

PUCCI SEES THE longer lengths as "an evident desire our sphere of action." Women are justified in wanting many looks to wear, he says.

He considers the miniskirt young and fresh-one visual expression of a permissive society.

"The only argument I have is against vulgarity," he says. For example, a fat woman should not dress with a maximum of exposure.

Pucci's prints started as a status symbol for the well-to-do, but have expanded to areas such as underfashions, purses, perfumes, ski clothes — and soon, home furnishings.

PUCCI HAS even designed a structure for a new kind of city "which should be in the works by 1975," he says.

I am a creator of ideas," says Pucci. Once a designer has a concept of what life is all about, that concept can be expressed in many concretes, from telephones to clothing, he says.

Monsterous Grammar Outlasts Television's Violent Monsters

DEAR HELEN:

I find it frustrating, while trying to teach my children correct grammar, to have them constantly confronted with "Them ain't so bad," and "He don't do nuthin'" etc., in television cartoons.

I'm thankful we're rid of the cartoon monsters and violence, but now I wonder if we could have the monsterous grammar problem corrected?

Anyone care to join my lament? — M. M. B.

DEAR M:

Alas, poor television. No matter how it cleans up, calms down and dodges sideways to avoid criticism, the boob tube gets nuthin' but brickbats. Ain't it sad? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I know I put my foot not only in my mouth but down my throat, but I couldn't help popping off. Tell me if I was wrong.

Our daughter was asked to be a flower girl at the wedding of a not-too-close relative. I spend about $30 on her dress, shoes, gloves, etc. So okay. She was thrilled. Next we bought a nice wedding present, plus a shower gift.

So what happens? I'm informed by the bride's mother that the wedding party is arranging a catered shower, and my share will be $15.00. That's when I expressed myself.

What happened to the good old days when friends met for cookies and coffee and chit-chat at an informal shower for the bride? — IN DUTCH

DEAR IN:

The good old days (emphasis on good) also labled a bride's mother pushy if she planned a shower for her daughter. You have a right to complain. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Suddenly I've developed two problems: I have to have closet and cupboard doors ajar. I can't stand it when they're completely closed. And I can't stand noise. Even the television drives me up the wall.

My husband and I just separated. I wasn't this way before. Could our troubles have something to do with these oddities? — WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:

I could guess the traumas of separation have a great deal to do with these sudden personality changes — but I'm only guessing. Consult your doctor while they're still new enough to conquer. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We moved here about a month ago. We went into debt to find a house, and then we borrowed to pay my maternity bills.

When I had a terribly difficult time having the baby, I guess it was just too much for my husband. He wasn't there when the hospital called to tell him I could come home.

I haven't seen him since. I know he loves me and our two babies. He was always so good to us. But something just must have snapped.

I don't want to go on welfare, but is there anything else for a mother of two young children who can't even find a baby sitter, much less a job? — DESERTED AND WAITING

DEAR DESERTED:

Sign up at the State Employment Agency, but don't feel badly about accepting Welfare checks for a while. After all, your taxes helped provide them. — H.

Yacht Club Auxiliary Elects Mrs. John DeWitt President

Sailing with her family, tennis and gardening are some interests of Mrs. John H. DeWitt III of San Rafael, who has been elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of San Francisco Yacht Club.

Karen plans to promote women's sailing and encourage comraderie among yachtsmen's wives. She has scheduled spring and fall Women's Sailing Training Programs for beginning and advanced women sailors, including all aspects of sailing from basic rigging and sailing to spinnaker work and racing. Some members will take the program to improve their techniques when crewing for their husbands. Others, more advanced, will be preparing to compete in the Women's North American Sailing Championship.

The auxiliary plans social events including luncheons, holiday parties, children's parties, a museum tour and special interest programs. They will assist with the club's social activities as requested by the men's board.

Membership in the auxiliary is limited to the wife of a yacht club member, women junior adult members and women's associate members.

The new president has lived in Marin seven years and has been a club member for five year, serving as secretary for two years and vice president last year. Her husband is a Boeing 707 pilot for World Airways. They have a daughter, 10, Margaret Elise.

Karen was graduated from Universtiy of Oregon and completed one year of graduate work in foreign languages at the American Institute for Foreign Trade in Phoenix, Arizona. She attends St. Paul's Episcipal Church in San Rafael. She is leader of her daughter's Junior Girl Scout Troop.

Patti Dildine's Engagement To Robert L. Hills Is Told

Patti Ann Dildine of San Rafael, the daughter of Mrs. Patricia Dildine of Los Angeles, is engaged to wed Robert L. Hills of San Rafael.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hills of San Rafael and the brother of Mrs. Keith Conroy of San Rafael.

Patti is the sister of Jan Marie and Don C. Dildine, both of Los Angeles. She is a graduate of Terra Linda High School and is employed as a cashier-hostess in a San Rafael restaurant. She also attended College of Marin.

Robert is also a Terra Linda High School graduate. He served in the Navy and plans to attend college in the fall.

A late summer wedding is planned.

HER AMERICA

A Black Woman's Beauty

Sandra Haggerty today looks at the changes that have come about in standards for the black woman.

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

For a long time we Americans have been humming the television commercial "Is it true blondes have more fun?" And golden-tressed women, either naturally or via the peroxide bottle, have led the feminine masses to the pinnacle of beauty.

This attention on the blonde group has posed a real problem for the black female. With few exceptions, we are not blonde. Even to make the trip via the perioxide route "we got a long way to go." And there's just something incongruous about a blonde-headed black woman.

But as all women wanting to be attractive to the men in their lives, we have tried all the beauty assists that have come out in the market, ranging from skin-bleaching creams to hair straighteners. We have spent much time, money and energy in attempting to approximate the white standard of beauty. Though many of us have come up as fantastic carbon copies, something has been missing.

HAPPILY, our contemporary "black awareness" has caused the black female to re-examine herself. Instead of reacting to the establishd standard of beauty, she is now acting on her own, building and creating a new image based upon her natural assets. She now accepts her blackness and illuminates and accentuates it rather than hiding and minimizing it.

In addition to special make-up and clothing the biggest change has come in the area of hair styles.

An interesting thing about these fantastically attractive "natural" hair-dos is that it takes a certain mental readiness to wear one, a quality that somehow radiates from the wearer, giving her a special glow.

Many white brunettes say they feel more beautiful as blonds. "Natural" - coiffured black women say they feel beautiful, too—many for the first time. Said one girl, "I'm not hiding 'bad' hair any more. I'm me. And it came as a real shock that the real me is beautiful."

Should all black women wear a "natural"? Certainly not. For one thing, not all black women have the grade of hair that the "natural" complements, and black women, as all women, should wear their hair in a style attractive for them.

"Naturals" are important because they are truly beautiful on many black women and because they are visually symbolic of the black woman's break from the white standard of beauty. They are a creation of her own.

Within our black society we are now appreciating the wide range of types of women. From the subtle Creole types to the striking black beauties, ours is a fantastic collection of women.

FOR MANY generations there have been jokes within our society about the black woman. The "gal with the skinny legs" is the star of many an ethnic song or poem. Today, with a higher standard of living and better nutrition, the black female is physically healthier. The "gal with the skinny legs" is no longer the standard among black females.

Here's another common saying: "Black woman, you sho' is evil!" I have often wondered about this statement, which I have heard spoken bitterly and in belief as well as in jest or tenderness.

We are neither inherently evil, nor have we had the full opportunity to be the women we are capable of being. Historically, we've been slaves, cooks, maids, mistresses, welfare check recipients and, most of all, mothers. We come from a long line of professional mammies. But we are just becoming women in the true sense.

Without a doubt, the biggest element in the rebirth of the black woman is how the black male now views her. Traditionally, the white woman has set all the standards for feminine beauty, and under those circumstances the black female could compete only to a limited degree. At best, we were carbon copies: plastic wear instead of china, artificial flowers instead of fresh roses.

Today our men are looking at us and seeing us—really seeing us—for the first time. They see us not as poor or good replicas of white women, but as black women, beautiful in our own right. And, as all females, we are now blossoming in the presence of our men—men who love us and appreciate us as persons of beauty and value.

As another television commercial states "We've come a long way, Baby." When one thinks how the black woman has survived, generation after generation, it is not surprising that seeing her emerge as a stunning beauty has the effect of a double whammy!

NEXT, Goals.

Coming this Saturday in Marin Magazine

Special features you'll enjoy:

There's been a "band boom" at San Rafael High School that has nothing to do with the sound of the big brass drum. It is concerned instead with the number of teen-agers who are participating in band, with their morale and with their musicianship. Key figure in this resurgence is Terry Summa, the band's director. And Marin Magazine editor Don Keown reports on this new interest in the band in tomorrow's issue of the I-J's weekend supplement.

Do you know what decoupage is? Freelance writer Gil Pearson frankly was uncertain when he set out to do a piece on this art-craft. But he soon found out. And you can, too, by reading his piece in tomorrow's Marin Magazine. Your guide will be Mary Schroeder, an artistically-gifted San Rafael housewife who will show you how she goes about decoupage and also display some of the fine pieces she has produced.

ON THE AGENDA

'Crises Throughout Life' Lecture Series To Begin In Belvedere

St. Stephen's Guild of the St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere will sponsor a series of four lectures at Whittaker Hall on crises throughout life delivered by speakers from the Marin Association for Mental Health.

Dr. James Blevins, psychiatrist, will speak on "Marriage and the Young Family" on Monday at 9:30 a.m. Topics of the other three talks will be: "Adolescence", Feb. 25; "Drug Abuse" March 2; and "Retirement", March 9.

The public is invited to the free programs, according to chairman Mrs. Doty Edouarde of Tiburon. Mrs. John Bowen of Tiburon plans coffee after the programs.

MEMBERS OF the League of Women Voters of Southern Marin will serve as volunteer registrars through Thursday, the final date for Marin County voters to register for the April 14 municipal elections.

Mrs. Warren Hansen, voters' service chairman for the league, announces that voters who are eligible but not yet registered will find volunteers ready to register them mornings at the Sausalito and Mill Valley Post Offices, the Big G Super Market in Sausalito, Safeway in Strawberry and the Mill Valley Greyhound Bus Station.

Marin residents may also register at any time at the Court House in San Rafael, County Clerk's office in the Center, or with the city clerk in their local city hall.

The deadline for registering for the primary elections of June 2 is April 9, and the League of Women Voters of Southern Marin plans another registration drive prior to that date.

THE ROHNERT Park Garden Club will again sponsor a spring class in flower arranging to be conducted by Mrs. Lowry L. Williams of Santa Rosa. The six-week-course will begin on Tuesday at the Rohnert Park Community Center. Time schedules will be set after registration is completed. Morning and afternoon classes are under consideration, depending upon the number enrolled.

Mrs. Williams, who conducted a similar class for the club last year, is an experienced flower arranger and teacher and instructs in the subject for the Santa Rosa Parks and Recreation Department and several garden clubs. Pupils will be beginners as well as those who have had some training in flower arranging.

Mrs. R. L. Rignor of Rohnert Park may be contacted for further information.

MEMBERS OF THE Ladies Auxiliary of World War I, Barracks I of Petaluma, and their husbands will hold a potluck luncheon on Monday at noon at the Petaluma Veterans Memorial. A business meeting to follow the luncheon, will be conducted by Mrs. Vida Alexander, auxiliary president, and John Haley, post commander.

THE SONOMA County Legal Secretaries Association will host its annual "bosses night" Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Black Forest Inn in Santa Rosa.

A RARE opportunity to tour the Icehouse, a showcase of home and non-residential furnishings for wholesale buyers, is offered Sunday from noon to 5 p.m. Proceeds will benefit the sponsors, the Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training.

Tickets may be purchased at the Icehouse, located at 1300 Sansome Street in San Francisco, or from the ORT Office at 40 First Street, also in San Francisco.

VOLUNTEERS ARE needed by Marin Aid To Retarded Children to staff the organization's non-profit bargain shop at 1533 Fourth Street in San Rafael.

Profits from the shop, which exists by the sale of used donated merchandise, are used by MARC in its many projects aiding retarded persons. The shop is open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Further information can be obtained from Mrs. George Kerson of Belvedere.

SCHOLARSHIPS ARE available to eligible high school students planning to enter the nursing profession.

They are being offered by the Woman's Auxiliary to the Marin Medical Society. Mrs. Daniel A. Phillips of San Rafael, chairman of the health career program, will provide additional information on the scholarships.

MRS. REED BROCKBANK of Kentfield and Mrs. Louis King of Greenbrae were given the honorary service award for outstanding community service by the Redwood High School Parent-teacher Association.The $25 award will be donated to the state P-TA to be used in its revolving fund for student loans, scholarships or fellowships.

Elaine Brockbank has been active in the exchange student program; was P-TA president of Redwood this year and last; has been P-TA international relations chairman; and started the current paper drive to benefit the exchange student program.

Dorothy King also has been active for several years in all phases of the exchange student program; has been P-TA parent education Chairman; and gave much time to last year's bond drive.

Bersaglieri-Daniels Vows Are Said

Donna M. Daniels became the bride of Ronald Bersaglieri Saturday at St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Daniels of Pasadena and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bersaglieri of San Anselmo.

The bride's sisters were her attendents, Debra of Pasadena was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Ginny of Novato, Denise and Lynn of Pasadena.

The bridegroom's brothers were his attendents. Best man was LeRoy of Moraga and ushers were Allen of Arcada, Jerry of San Anselmo, and Richard of San Francisco.

A reception was held at the Sausalito Women's Club and the couple went on a wedding trip to Coronado and Mission Bay. They will return to live in San Francisco where the bridegroom is employed by Harris, Kerr, Foster and Co., an accounting firm.

Donna is a graduate of San Gabriel Mission High School, Pasadena City College and the University of California Medical Center. She is employed by Dr. Harold I. Tokazy in San Francisco. Dick, Dennis, Dean, Darrell and Drew Daniels of Pasadena are her brothers.

Ronald is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School, the College of Marin and San Francisco State College.

Hunter College

New York City's Hunter College held its first classes in 1870. It was then called the Female Normal School.

Nancy Waldeck Becomes Bride Of James Heaton In Sausalito Church

Nancy Jo Waldeck of San Francisco, a second grade teacher at Park School in Mill Valley, became the bride of James Michael Heaton Saturday in a 4:30 p.m. candlelight ceremony at the Presbyterian Church in Sausalito.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Waldeck of Los Angeles, had as her matron of honor Mrs. Colin Covey, and maid of honor was Sarah Ann Krill.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dean Heaton of Burlingame, was served as best man by his brother, William Dean Heaton of Menlo Park.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the bride's home. On their return from a wedding trip to Sun Valley, Ida., the couple will live in San Francisco.

The bride is a graduate of the University of California at Santa Barbara. She is the sister of Dr. Kenneth H. Waldeck, who with his wife is spending a year in London, England.

A graduate of the University of Idaho, the bridegroom is a Duplex Products, Inc., sales representative in San Francisco. He has another brother, Thomas D. Heaton of Burlingame.

Beer Hair Set

Stale beer is a good solution for setting hair since it gives the hair "body." Just dampen the hair and roll. The hair will not retain the beer odor when dry. Another hair trick is to fill a spray bottle with water and spray your hair as you pin it up.

Jacqueline Smith Engaged To Wed

A November wedding is being planned by Jacqueline Dawn Smith, whose engagement to Raymond C. White has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smith of San Rafael. Mr. and Mrs. Henry White of San Anselmo are the future bridegroom's parents.

Jacqueline is the sister of Mrs. Richard D. Saylors of San Rafael. She was graduated from Terra Linda High School and attended Bethany Bible College. The future bride is employed by Holt Howard Import Co. in San Rafael.

Raymond is the brother of Galeyn and Kenneth White of San Anselmo. He is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin. The future bridegroom is in the Air Force, stationed at Hamilton Afr Force Base.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and from Parents' Magazine, unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Computer Wore Tennis Shoes"—Zany comedy about a none-too-bright student who by misconnecting wires in a computer is shocked into becoming a whiz kid. Amusing and attractively done.

"Funny Girl"—Partly fictionalized biography details Fanny Brice's rise to fame. Big musical is lavishly mounted.

"Italian Job"—A wildly satirical comedy about a gang of thieves who hijack a shipment of gold with an assist from a computer. Imaginative nonsense.

"Oliver!"—A musical spectacular with superb settings and acting. Vividness of some of the violence of story may be frightening to very young children.

"2001: Space Odyssey"—A long epic space adventure that is a fantastic and overwhelming experience. The ending is subject to any interpretation the viewer may put on it.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid"—True story of two bandits told in farcical tone but documentary in presentation. Film does not deny the violence attendant on their lives and deaths.

"Cactus Flower" — Middle-aged playboy dentist drafts his nurse to masquerade as his estranged wife and rescue him from a complicated situation with his current mistress.

"Down Hill Racer"—A brilliant study of the development of a ski champion. Action sequences are complimented by an equally absorbing story about the dynamics of sports competition.

"Me, Natalie"—Sensitive portrayal of all the pain, confusion and comic absurdity of growing up. A plain looking girl moves to Greenwich Village where she has her first lesson in love with a married man. Frankness of the situation and dialouge makes film out of bounds for the young.

"The Reivers"—In 1905 a mischievous livery hand and young son of his employer borrow the family car and set off for a four day adventure in the big city. Photography great, comedy crude, scene in brothel distasteful. Last scene worth admission price.

"Topaz"—Title is code name for a Russian spy ring operating within the French government. Events are historically true. Hitchcock's craftsmanship is superb as usual, acting is perfect. A valid point about the futility of violence is made.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Flare Up"—Dreary, poorly acted suspense thriller about a go-go dancer stalked by an insane killer in a melodramatic chase from Las Vegas to Los Angeles with a fiery ending.

"Marlowe"—"Fast, tough murder mystery cooly and casually solved by Phillip Marlowe, ace dectective. Murder, blackmail, sadistic karate plus explicit sex included in generous portions.

"Prime of Miss Jean Brodie"—Superb drama about unethical and uninhibited conduct of a teacher in a private school for girls. She lives vicariously and indoctrinates her students with her political philosophy. Film needs thoughful adult evaluation to uncover the sham of its sick characters.

ADULTS ONLY

"Easy Rider"—Far-out corss country trip of two hippy motorcyclists creates a vision of America that is by turn beautiful and horrifying. Poetically photographed but has overlong LSD sequence.

"Midnight Cowboy"—Off-beat hardhitting story of a male prostitute and a crippled hustler who meet in New York. Sordidness is tempered by skill and compassion, told in an uncompromising way.

Grad Student Wounds Profs, Kills Himself

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A graduate student described as a loner under stress, shot and wounded two University of Pennsylvania mathematics professors at a seminar Wednesday and then killed himself, witnesses told police.

The student Robert H. Cantor, 33, burst in on the seminar attended by about 25 professors and students and opened fire with a .45 caliber pistol, witnesses said.

Dr. Walter Koppelman, 40, a former adviser to Cantor, was in serious condition after the outburst with bullet wounds of the arm and chest.

Dr. Oscar Goldman, 45, chairman of the math department at the time Cantor's doctoral thesis was rejected about a year ago suffered superficial wounds of the arms, a leg and a foot.

Cantor had been a math instructor at Temple University for a year ending last spring, but was in economic difficulty since then and unable to find a job, police said.

Construction Site Equipment Stolen

Thieves causing $12 damage stole $1,185 worth of equipment Tuesday or early yesterday from the construction site of the Hillside Apartments, 239 Picnic Avenue, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

The equipment including a $718 spray gun, a $43 nozzle, $124 extension ladder and a $250 chain saw, is owned by the Horst Hanf Construction Co., 138 Jacoby Street, San Rafael, police said.

Shoreline Schools Set All-Out War On Drugs

A three part drug abuse education program has been approved by the Shoreline Unified School District board, administrative assistant Anthony Matulich reported yesterday.

The program presented to the board Wednesday night had its beginning last December after it was found that marijuana was being used at Tomales High School. Residents of the area met with the school board Dec. 17 and called for an attack on the problem. The board asked the staff to prepare an antidrug use education plan.

The education program is divided into parent education, teacher in-service training and student education.

The parent education program will be taught by authorities in the drug field and social workers who have dealt with the drug abuse problems.

All meetings will be at 8 p.m. in Tomales High School. Dates and subjects to be covered are: Feb. 26, parents, youth and drugs; March 5, law, justice and drug abuse; March 12, generation gap trap; March 19, psychology of drug abuse related to family life; April 2, achieving love in an alienated society; and April 9, our drug scene, past, present and future.

Teacher in-service training will be held on minimum days from 2:45 to 4:15 p.m. on Feb. 25 and 26, and March 3, 5, 10 and 11.

To be covered are a history of drug abuse, specific information on various drugs, sociological effects of drug abuse, civil laws and techniques of drug education.

The high school student education will be during the social studies and English periods from March 9 through 13. It will include the history of drug abuse, specific information on all drugs, sociological effect of drugs abuse and civil laws regarding the use of drugs.

Elementary school classes will follow a similar outline.

The average U.S. citizen ate 47.1 pounds of chicken in 1968, an increase of nearly 12 pounds when compared with 10 years ago.

Candidate Cites Public's Fear Of Crime Dangers

Raymond H. Shone of Nicasio, candidate for the Republican nomination in the Fourth Senatorial District, has declared that most citizens "now realize that their persons and their property are no longer safe."

Shone, speaking at a reception at Peacock Gap Country Club, said that "until our families and friends can go anywhere in the U.S., day or night, with freedom from fear, nothing else is truly worthwhile.

"We know that small groups of individuals, militants and troublemakers have attempted for years to make people in law enforcement scapegoats, and this is not right," Shone said.

"Law enforcement officers are our vanguard, and they have the support of overwhelming numbers of our society," he said.

"We can reverse this curr trend of lawlessness," he sa "if there is legislation of t proper type and enough feeli exhibited by the people."

MUSIC REVIEW

Dominican Series Proves Its Worth

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

The high value of the Dominican College Music Associates series, which has among its objectives giving young artists of professional caliber an opportunity to be heard, was well demonstrated last night in a chamber music concert in Caleruega Hall.

Major performers were soprano Kay Collette and flutist Judith Phillips with Kenneth Ziegenfuss featured in one piano solo and providing a continuou with cellist Geraldine Maxwell for the flute and voice in three opening baroque numbers.

It was rather unusual to hear a program begun with numbers severely testing technical skill, as was the case in the Scarlatti Cantata for Soprano, Flute and Continuo, the J. S. Bach "Ich Folge Dir Gleichfalls Mit Freudigen Schritten" and Handel's "Machtigallenarie."

Miss Collette, whose lyric soprano had a lovely, clear quality, sang this tastefully ornamented group with admirable facility in the melismatic passages, including shakes which were evenly controlled.

As for Miss Phillips, she played the flute, particularly the "Nachtigallenarie," with such pure silvery tone and flawless technique that I wondered why I had never heard her before. She is one of the best young flutists I have encountered.

From his first few measures in the continuo it was evident that Ziegenfuss was a pianist of rare sensitivity, and he more than fulfilled this promise in his solo, Six Variations on an Original Theme in F Major by Beethoven. Each note was a perfectly shaped, distinct entity, yet the result was a smoothly flowing continuity.

Miss Maxwell did not play loud enough to be a full partner in the continuo until the end of the baroque group.

In strong contrast to the baroque selections was the second contemporary group composed of "The Blackbird" by the French composer Oliver Messiaen and a ballade by the Swiss composer Frank Martin.

Dry and astringent, "The Blackbird" was of the raucous kind, as far as I was concerned, with the only interest centering in a new sound on the flute, a fluttering, whispery burr, expressive but not particularly attractive.

The ballade, that had elements of jazz in it, was more interesting. Both pieces were well played, with Miss Phillips continuing to demonstrate her virtuoso capacities.

In the group of simple, brief songs by American composer Samuel Barber, "With Rue My Heart is Laden," "The Daisies," and "A Nun Takes the Veil" Miss Collette confirmed the impression that she has poise, good diction and ability to communicate emotion and meaning. Further experience may bring greater depth and power.

The concert concluded with Martin's three charming Chants de Noel performed by soprano, flute and piano.

San Domenico Given U.N. Role As Cubans

A five-student delegation from San Domenico School in San Anselmo will represent Cuba at the Model United Nation at the University of California at Berkeley next week.

Members of the delegation ar: Deborah Brooke of Chowchilla, Madera County, Sarah Bassett of Tiburon, Carolyn Knox of San Anselmo, and Ann O'Reilly and Nancy Upham, both of Mill Valley.

$4,000 Grant

The Marin Child Development Center has been awarded a $40,000 grant by the San Francisco Foundation for an 18-month extension of psychiatric and social work in its medical-educational therapeutic program, the center has announced.

Symphony Sets Series In Marin

First concert in the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra's new three-concert Marin series will be presented on March 7 at 8:15 p.m. in the Terra Linda High School gymnasium. The other concerts will be performed at the same time and place on April 11 and May 9.

The San Francisco Symphony Association, which is now taking orders on series subscription, announced that series holders will be given preferential seating.

Concert programs are chosen from the regular series at the San Francisco Opera House, with Seiji Ozawa conducting the first two and Josef Krips the third.

Brochures may be obtained by writing the San Francisco Symphony Association office at 107 War Memorial Veterans Building, San Francisco, 94102.

Little Won't Be On Ballot; Flays Souza

Stanley W. Little, twice a candidate for the Fairfax City Council, has said he will not be a candidate for the council this year, because the man he would like to defeat is running.

Little, who lives at 34 Olema Drive, in a press release wrote: "I refuse to enter into a battle with Councilman Robert Souza, who has announced his candidacy for reelection."

"His actions in the last two elections, what with last minute campaign letters which were untrue, yet too late to refute, and his community dividing activities since he has been in office are such that I will not subject my family or myself to his brand of humiliation."

Little said he also feels there are three qualified candidates running who will decently represent the people.

"These are fine people who will not campaign maliciously and will present the people with the issue," he added.

He said he was referring to Adelaide P. Wilson, Frank J. Egger and Albert E. Gately.

FLYING SCHOOLROOM

A fleet of 94 T-29 "Flying Classrooms" provides flying training. Above is a T-29 C, equipped with the latest navigational aids.

Learning to use the periscopic sextant.

Mather Air Force Base, Calif., is the home of all United States Air Force navigator training, the Air Force's one such navigation school. Here at Mather, Air Training Command's 3535th Navigator Training Wing provides the Air Force with its navigators, navigator-bombardiers and electronic warfare officers.

A formal flying training course in each of these three navigator specialities makes up the "hard core" of the wing's curriculum. Such training is conducted only at Mather AFB—therefore this operation is of unique importance in the structure of the Department of Defense. The school is a keystone in the nation's capability for global military airlift and strategic and tactical air operations.

The wing also provides related, specialized academic courses in a number of weapons delivery systems, and electronic reconnaissance and defense systems. Over the past two years the curriculum has been branching out, with innovations which reflect the increasing complexity of weaponry and the development of special tactics for the operations in Southeast Asia.

Total enrollment in the courses is now more than 1,000. Undergraduate Navigator Training is a 38-week course in the fundamentals of navigation. For graduates there is then the 30-week Electronic Warfare Officer Training course, or the 28-week Navigator-Bombardier Training course, as well as other shorter, specialized courses.

Mather Air Force Base was first opened in 1918 as a training school for World War I pilots; it also functioned as a flying school during World War II. In 1947 a specialized program of navigator training was instituted and has led to Mather's becoming the home of all U.S. training in that field.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Two Marin Restaurants Make Reopening Bows This Week

This has been a busy week for two major restaurants making their opening debuts.

Wednesday the Edgewater Inn Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge reopened under the proprietorship of the Gene Compton Corp. after closing the week before under the old Bob's of Marin regime which had been going on for something like 13 years.

George Loizos, who has been manager of the Compton operated Pepperwood in San Anselmo, is now resident manager of the Edgewater. Frits Verburg, former owner of L'Europe Restaurant on the San Rafael Miracle Mile, is executive chef.

Edgewater is open seven days a week, with the coffee shop serving breakfast, lunch and dinner from 6:30 a.m. to midnight. The dining room serves lunches from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on an a la carte menu featuring sandwiches, salads, grill and broiler items, seafoods and a daily special which may range from sirloin tips to veal curry to seafood newburg or filet of sole.

Dinners are definitely family style and served from 4:30 to 10 p.m. (Sundays from 3:30). These include relish, soup (with the bowl left on the table), salad, paste and entree. Regular daily entree choices, which determine the price of the dinner, are roast chicken ($3.75), roast sirloin of beef ($4.25) and T-bone steak ($5).

There also are daily specials, with abalone and filet of sole as choices on Fridays, and duck l'Orange on Sundays. Children are welcome and there is a complete $2 dinner for them

A house wine is included with the full dinner and I can testify that it is a good one, having just happened by while several were being tested and chosen.

THE NEW Ancient Mariner Restaurant in Strawberry Town and Country Village opened to the public last night.

Quite a bit of remodeling has been done here since the days this location was occupied by Inn Marin and before that Cherish Inn. Menu is a la carte and entrees are limited to those which seem to be preferred by many American palates—top sirloin steak, a teriyaki top sirloin, beef kebab, New York steak, a seafood combination, shrimp teriyaki, lobster and swordfish. Prices of $3.25 to $6.25 include salad, bread and coffee and tea. This is a standard seven-days-a-week menu served at other Ancient Mariner Restaurants in Southern California.

The bar and cocktail lounge opens every day at 3 p.m. Dinners are served from 4:30 p.m. And I'm told that lunches will probably be served starting in March.

YOU MIGHT CALL Fred Cherry's Cafe Bon Vin the restaurant that refuses to die, though from now on it may appear in somewhat different exterior form anywhere rom Marin County to Southern California. Just about anyplace, that is, except at its original San Anselmo location. The latter is now a winery - and can't be two separate operations on the same license. Nor can there even be two separate licensse.

So, Cafe Bon Vin has gone mobile, functioning for special groups anywhere they want to go as long as they are willing to pay the tariff, which may be either high or low, depending upon exact location and circumstances.

This is the way it operates: Working with competent caterers, hotels, restaurants, wherever they may be and using their facilities, Fred plans and executes a combination wine and food repast, selecting foods which harmonize with his wines and vice versa, just as he used to do before he turned vintner. The group then makes its own travel arrangements by cars or bus.

Opening appearance of Cafe Bon Vin takes place next weekend at the historic ghost town of Sheep Ranch in the Mother Lode Country. Ten Bay Area couples will show up at the old Pioneer Hotel (owned by Frederick Baker, Michael Dufficy and Tro Cutter, all of Marin) for one of Fred's 10-course dinners. Other similar affairs are in the making.

One thing - you have to form your own group and agree on a location with Fred. He takes it from there.

IT IS SAID that the classic English dinner table omits water glasses on the grounds that it is not polite to wash one's hands in the progress of the meal - and the stuff is too dangerous to drink.

BIAGIO'S in Tiburon will be moving across the street (from 10 Main Street to 15 Main Street) around the first of March. New location is not any larger but is considered better laid out for this type of restaurant operation.

RAMBLIN' JACK ELLIOTT, one of the originals in the folk music field, returns to the Lion's Share in San Anselmo tonight and tomorrow night. On the bill with him is the folk duo, Lambert and Nuttycomb.

Elliott, a friend and companion to the late Woody Guthrie, is very much in the Guthrie tradition but still manages to be his own man. His name appears in any book on folk music.

Other Lion's Den bookings are the Ofoedian Den on Sunday and the Joy of Cooking Thursday and Friday. Wednesday is free audition night.

RUBINI'S in Fairfax has completed its new banquet room and is taking group reservations. This also will help in accommodating small parties of eight, 12 and 16 people, which were difficult to service on busy nights before. But reservations still should be made in advance, even for these small groups.

The banquet room continues the window wall overlooking the creek.

GOURMET CLUB discount books, with participation by several leading Marin restaurants are available exclusively through high school students in the county for $5 each and help in the various schools' fund raising.

Participating restaurants are La Petite Auberge, Bill and Adolph's West End Villa, Rubini's, Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant, the Old Viking, Nero's Restaurant, Le Chalet Basque, Fleur de France and Spiros' Red Vest. Coupons must be used before Sept. 20.

Inquire at Radio KTIM on how to get one.

MUSEE D'ART INTERNATIONAL at Dominic's in San Rafael next week starts presenting new acquisitions of paintings and graphics of a number of artists well known in Europe but new to this gallery. Among them are Gabriel Vie, Louis Parrens, Marcel Favre, Alain Dequet and Edmond Daynes.

IF YOU HAVEN'T HEARD THEM, Doug Karr on the banjo and Warren Lubitch on the piano make a terrific musical team at Pinky's Pizza, San Rafael Friday and Saturday nights from 9 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.

Oregon's Dope Cure Plan Attracting Californians

SALEM, Ore. (UPI)—Oregon's program of providing a substitute—methadone—to drug addicts is so successful that some California addicts are coming here to try it, the governor's office said today.

Gov. Tom McCall doesn't think that's right, and has written California Gov. Ronald Reagan urging him to promote such a program.

McCall said of the estimated 400 addicts in Oregon, about half are being treated through the alcohol and drug section of the Mental Health Division.

The treatment consists of supplying addicts with methadone, which is not harmful, costs only pennies, yet satisfies an addict's needs.

Oregon should not be penalized by having an influx of addicts from elsewhere, McCall said. Only two other large methadone programs exist in the West—in Vancouver, B.C., and Albuquerque, N.M.

McCall said Oregon has set a residency requirement of two years to help screen out those who come from other states.

"But the humane thing would be," McCall wrote, "to encourage Californians to adopt this well-proven method of treatment as soon as possible."

In California, use of methadone is restricted by law to hospital patients. When the addict is discharged, doctors are forbidden to prescribe methadone for him—unless he is one of a few dozen addicts in the entire state involved in three tiny experimental projects for outpatients.

Luehring Sets Commuter Talk

Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge District, will speak on commute plans for Marin at Wednesday's annual meeting of the Greenbrae Property Owners Association.

The association will meet at 8 p.m. at Greenbrae School. Officers for 1970 will be elected, and the group will discuss a proposal to take over maintenance of Greenbrae's public areas from the Schultz Building Co.

The pedestrian guard rail on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, street lighting and underground utilities also will be discussed, Secretary Beth Reilly said.

U.S. Income Tax Aid Available In Marin

Information and assistance on federal income tax returns is available to Marin taxpayers at the Federal Building, Third and D streets, San Rafael, the Internal Revenue Service has announced.

The office is open Monday through Friday.

UNESCO Officials To Visit Granada School

A group of officials from the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) will visit Granada School in Corte Madera Tuesday as part of a Bay Area tour of educational facilities.

Principal James Justeson said the group will represent the educational buildings section of UNESCO. The section, based in Paris, is headed by John Beynon of the United States, who will be among the group.

They will be accompanied by John R. Boice, director of the systems division-school planning laboratory at Stanford University. Justeson said Granada was selected because of its good relationship between the building plant and curriculum.

Granada, in the Reed School District, features individulaized instruction in a cluster setting.

The tour group, which will stop at two other schools in the Bay Area, is made up of, besides Beynon, directors and research architects from the three regional centers of the educational buildings section in Mexico City; Khartoum, Sudan, and Colombo, Ceylon.

Mariner Cove Sets Its Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Mariner Cove Improvement Association will be held April 24 in the multi-purpose room of San Clemente School.

Association directors last night discussed plans for the meeting, at which 1970 officers will be elected. Dinner will be catered by restaurant owner Joseph Romano, director Heber C. Leney reported. Entertainmnt plans are still being prepared.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

OF CHOCOLATE CHIPS AND CUSTOMERS

Christopher Bryan, a kindergarten student at Tamalpais Valley School, finds out the hard way the lemonade and cookie business is suffering the same slump plaguing Wall Street. Chris, son of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Bryan of Mill Valley, sat for four hours in on-again-off-again rain yesterday waiting for the customers to flock to his stand in front of his house at 406 Marin Avenue, but ended up eating the profits himself. If the trend continues he may be the first 6-year-old Californian to file for bankruptcy. His two dogs, Barney (left and Mimi, shared their master's gloom but not his cookies.

Legal Abortion Rate Increasing

BERKELEY (AP) — During the first eight months of 1969 there were 9,169 legal abortions in California, nearly double the number for all of 1968, the State Department of Public Health reports.

In a report Thursday to the legislature, the department estimated the legal abortions were 12 per cent of all those performed in the state, compared with 6 per cent in 1968.

In 1969, 63 per cent of all legal California abortions were in the San Francisco Bay Area, the report continued, while 18 per cent were in the Los Angeles area.

California's 1967 therapeutic abortion law permits a pregnancy termination if the mother's physical or mental health is in great danger.

Of the 16,065 applications since the law went into effect, 92 per cent were approved. Impairment of the mother's mental health was given as the reason on 90 per cent of the applications.

Sennett Enters Race For Tiburon Council

Albert H. Sennett, 41-year-old attorney and city planning commissioner, has declared his candidacy for the Tiburon City Council.

Sennett will seek one of three seats being contested at the April 14 election. The seats are held by Mayor Branwell D. Fanning and Councilmen William R. Bremer and Thomas E. Drohan.

Sennett, of 26 Sutter Court, has lived in Tiburon since 1962 and practices law in San Francisco. He is a 1952 graduate of Harvard Law School.

Sennett was appointed to the planning commission last April He is an original member of the Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee and served on its board of directors in 1967-68 and as chairman in 1968-69. He also is former chairman (1965-66) and board member of the Little Reed Heights Association.

Sennett belongs to the Save the Bay Association, Audoubon Society and other conservation groups.

"It is essentail to achieve continuity in city government," he said. "What has been started by one council must be understood and completed by the next. My consistent interest in Tiburon . . . and my service as a planning commissioner has allowed me to become familiar with city problems and examine many of the suggested solutions.

"For these reasons, I believe I am qualified to exercise the duties and responsibilities of councilman, if elected, I will foster a vigorous and positive program to enhance this unique environment in which we all live."

Sennett joins Donald L. Batten, president of the Belveron Homeowners Association, in the race. Drohan has announced he will not seek reelection and neither Fanning nor Bremer has filed candidacy papers.

Colthurst Returns Nomination Papers

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst today returned nomination papers to become a candidate for reelection in the April 14 Larkspur city council election.

Colthurst, 60, has served 12 years on the council and has served nine terms as mayor, one year in 1960-61 and then continuously since 1962.

Before being elected in 1958, he served three years on the planning commission.

A native of San Francisco, he has lived in Corte Madera since 1948. He is a vice president of Mipro Corporation of South San Francisco.

Colthurst and his wife Ivy have two children. He is a World War II veteran, serving as an infantry captain in the European theater.

He represents the town on the Association of Bay Area Governments, and is on the Ross Valley Flood Control Advisory Board. He is a member of the Corte Madera Lions Club, has served on the Main Transit District board, is a former president of the Corte Madera Volunteer Firemen, and a former member of the San Francisco Bay Area Joint Apprenticeship Council.

Colthurst is the third to file for the council race. Incumbent Holmes S. (Pete) Norville and Patricia Friend returned nomination papers earlier. The terms of Colthurst, Norville and Harold B. Wagstaff are expiring this year.

New Birch Group Is Being Formed

Organization of a Marin committee of the Movement To Restore Decency was announced today by Mrs. James Reed of Ross, who has been named chairman.

The local committee is a unit of a nationwide organization sponsored by the John Birch Society. Its purpose, said Mrs. Reed is to strike at "the causes of the growing indecency, immorality, and irresponsibility in American life."

As its first public activity, the committee has scheduled a showing of film strips on sex education and sensitivity training for 8 p.m. next Monday at the home of John Beddow at 10 Laverne Avenue, Mill Valley.

This is in line with committee's first specific undertaking, described by Mrs. Reed as to "expose and counter the present widespread effort to introduce sex education into our schools in every class from kindergarten through the 12th grade." Members of the group believe sex education is the right and responsibility of parents, she said.

The committee also plans to expose "a strong relationship between rock music and the alarming increase in drug addiction and sexual promiscuity," said Mrs. Reed. "Many of today's popular songs are nothing less than invitations to try dope, experiment with sex, and participate in revolutionary activity."

The newly organized committee has 60 members, she reported. Officers, besides Mrs. Reed, are Mrs. Elizabeth Woodward of Larkspur, co-chairman; Marie Woelfl of San Rafael, secretary; Mrs. Alan L. Hoover of Greenbrae, treasurer.

First Filings For April 14 Ballot In Rohnert Park

Incumbent Councilman Arthur N. Roberts and civic leader Billy C. Ayers filed candidacy papers today for the April 14 Rohnert Park City Council election.

The terms of Mayor James W. Rogers and Roberts will be up for election. Roberts and Ayers are the first to file.

Roberts, 39, first won election in 1966. A pharmicist, he owns and operates the Rohnert Park Pharmacy and lives at 5300 Burton Avenue. He and his wife, Reba, have a son and a daughter.

Ayers, 35, lives at 7124 Brenda Way, and is a sheet metal worker. He has been president of the Rohnert Park Homeowners Association and men's golf club.

A veteran of the Korean war, Ayers is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He and his wife, Wanda, have five daughters.

Candidates may file through noon Thursday at the city hall or Sonoma County board of elections, Santa Rosa.

Another Round On Development

The Mill Valley City Council will conduct the third in a series of public hearings Monday night on the city development plan prepared by Sedway and Cooke of San Francisco.

The council, which previously covered general development policies and downtown development proposals under the plan, will concentrate on upper and lower Miller Avenue land uses Monday. The council meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in city hall.

In other matters, the council is scheduled to resume a public hearing on the controversial Fern Canyon assessment district introduce an ordinance fixing rules for use of park and recreation facilities and discuss budget appropriations.

Driver's Injuries Minor In Accident

A 51-year-old Oakland woman was treated for muscle strain and bruises yesterday at Novato General Hospital after her car crashed on northbound Highway 101, just south of Novato.

The California Highway Patrol said the auto, driven by Juanita B. Sagan, hit a slick spot on the rain-soaked highway, went into a ditch and struck a utility pole at 8:05 a.m.

Church-State Cases Multiply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifty-five court cases that test relations between church and state are currently pending across the country, the American Jewish Congress has reported.

The record number of cases includes 20 dealing with government aid to religious schools, 21 challenging other forms of government support of religion and 14 dealing with claims of interference with religious freedom. Three of the cases are in the U.S. Supreme Court.

"In the fusion of two very emotional issues—education and religion—the fallout of litigation is heavy," Joseph N. Robison, general counsel of the AJC, said Thursday.

"The kid can run."

National Product Rise Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The private, non-profit Business Council has predicted the 1970 Gross National Product will rise to $985 billion this year, the same figure used by President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers.

The 1969 GNP, the market value of all goods and services sold, was $932 billion.

The Business Council, a prestigious group of business and financial leaders, also forecast the economy would show almost no real growth—one per cent at the most—while prices would go up 4¼ per cent.

Car Smog Curbs Costs Expected

DETROIT (AP) — The type of exhaust system needed to meet 1975 federal antipollution goals may boost a car's retail cost by $200 to $300 a Chrysler Corp. engineer says.

Charles Heinen, chief engineer of emissions control and chemical development of Chrysler, said Wednesday Chrysler is only in the experimental stage of developing a system to meet the goals announced by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The only device Chrysler has that comes close to meeting the antipollution goals is a manifold-reactor type of afterburner, involving exhaust recirculation.

"This also requires a rich mixture and a fuel penalty of 10 to 15 per cent," Heinen said.

New federal goals call for eliminating almost 95 per cent of hydrocarbons in fuel, about 85 per cent of carbon monoxide, and control of nitrogen oxides, Heinen said.

Richard Adams Pulls Out Of Race For Senate

An uncontested Democratic primary election in the Fourth Senatorial District appeared certain today with the withdrawal of Richard Adams of Belvedere.

Michael Peevey of San Rafael, coordinator of community programs of the University of California at Berkeley, is the only other candidate for the seat held by John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael. McCarthy has announced he will retire after 20 years.

Adams said that he decided to pull out of the race because "it's a different horse race now from the one I started in several months ago." He entered the race before McCarthy announced his retirement.

MCarthy's retirement automatically "ensures a better representation" Adams said.

Dunlap Declines Senate Campaign

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman John F. Dunlap, D-Vallejo, often mentioned as a potiential candidate for the Senate seat held by John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, yesterday foreclosed a race for the upper house by declaring his candidacy for re-election.

Dunlap said he had decided against seeking the Senate seat because his 1970 legislative program was "of prime importance to the future of the entire state of California. It would be difficult to do justice to these important legislative needs while seeking a Senate seat in a new and larger district."

Dunlap is trying again this year to pass legislation to preserve the coastline and to ensure public access to it.

South Marin College Class Needs Eyed

Plans for College of Marin extension classes in southern Marin will be discussed at a special meeting with southern Marin residents Monday, assistant dean of instruction Berkeley Johnson has announced.

The extension proposal comes on the heels of a recommendation by an accrediting team, which visited the college last year, that more off-campus courses be offered in parts of the county remote from the Kentfield campus.

Courses may be offered in Marin City, Sausalito, Mill Valley or all three, Johnson said. If Marin City residents want college courses there, they might be scheduled by next fall, he said. Offerings might include black studies as well as general courses.

Monday's meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in Room 141 of the instructional building, a portable building on College Avenue.

Johnson, assistant dean of community education Eugene A. Farrar and counselor Charles Sizemore will attend for the college.

Also expected to attend are Rev. J.P. Henry of Marin City; Anthony Medrano, Joyce Bailey, Willie Mae Howard, Mary Brooks and Horace White of the Marin County Human Rights commission; Lanny Berry, director of Operation Breakthrough for Tamalpais High School District; Gabe Jackson of the Sausalito School District; Charles Bulloc, College of Marin student and Sausalito School District aide, and Walter Turner, former College of Marin student.

Juniper Plant Worm Warning Being Sounded

Juniper webworm, which is highly destructive to juniper plants, may have entered Marin via Hayward, Marin Agricultural Commissioner R. Allan Ballard warned today.

Anyone who purchased Irish juniper or spiny Greek juniper in the Hayward area since last September should call his civic center office, Ballard said.

A Hayward nursery noticed webbing on juniper plants imported from Oregon and called the Alameda County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas Shoemaker, who found tiny worms on the plants. These were identified as juniper webworm.

Shoemaker investigated and recovered all but 34 of the Oregon grown junipers. Worms in these plants will turn to moths in early spring, said Ballard. "It is essential that all of the suspected plants be treated before that happens."

French Girl Wins Slalom; U. S. Skier Takes Second

Silver For Miss Cochran

VAL GARDENA, Italy (AP) — France's Ingrid Lafforgue gave France a second gold medal today by scoring two perfect first places in the two heats of the women's special slalom of the World Alpine Skiing Championhips.

The 21-year-old from Luchon in the French Pyrenees was clocked in 40.07 and 51.37 seconds in the heats for a total of 100.44.

FIRST SILVER

Barbara Cochran of Richmond, Vt., gave the United States its first silver medal of the games, by finishing fifth in the first run and second in the second. She was clocked in 50.45 and 51.70 for a total of 102.15 seconds.

France's Michele Jacot made it a French-dominated final by taking third in 50.37 and 51.83 for a total of 102.20.

The tough course created an avalanche of victims, with 17 of the 55 competitors disqualified in the first run, and top favorites like Austria's Anne Marie Proell and France's Annie Famose dropping out in the second.

480 METERS

The first run curled through 59 gates with 60 gates on the second. Both tracks were 480 meters long with a 160-meter drop.

Austria's Gertrud Gabl, defending World Cup champion, placed fourth with 49.88 and 52.38 for a total of 102.26.

Judy Nagel of Enumclaw Wash., made it a generally good American showing by taking fifth for a total of 102.93, while Marilyn Cochran, Barbara's sister, was sixth in 103.34.

Kiki Cutter of Bend, Ore., was disqualified in the second heat for missing a gate after placing 10th in the first heat.

More To Prep Basketball Than Winning; There's 2nd

Somewhere in the Marin County Athletic League basketball season, there's still a race going on but you have to look past first place to find it.

Most of the action of any real importance (like who will finish second) will center in Mill Valley tonight when surprising Terra Linda and Tamalpais, who are tied for second along with San Rafael with 6-3 won-lost records, meet to make some breathing room in that log-jam.

Redwood (9-0) hasn't clinched the title yet, simply because there are too many games left, but the Giants are close. They'll meet San Marin in Larkspur, and their only problem there will be how to stop lanky Dana LaFerriere, the league's leading scorer with a 26.1 points per game average in loop action.

DRAKE UNPREDICTABLE

In other games, Marin Catholic will try to make it two over unpredictable Drake in San Anselmo and Novato, alone in the cellar, visits San Rafael in a game that could be close, since the Bulldogs still don't have 6-foot-8 Don Duryee, out with a bad knee.

In the league scoring race, Marin Catholic's Bill Donellan moved up from 15th to ninth, with a two-game splurge of 55 points in his last two games.

There are still four fellows averging 20 points or better in league play, headed by LaFerriere, Duryee (23.8 for seven games), Bill Secor of Tamalpais (20.5) and Jeff Meeker of Drake (20.4).

JIM GILMARTIN

It's Woman's World In Marin Sports Scene

I hate to shock you raunchy jockos out of your soiled sweat booties, but your masculine sports world is getting frillier and frillier.

It's getting so you got to watcher l a n g w i d g e. S t r o n g e s t sporting expletives from now on will be goodness gracious, heavens-to-Betsy, golly and gee willikers.

No more dirty jokes around the locker room because dainty ears may be offended.

And when you gorillas prance up and down the field of battle I don't want to see anyone spit--er, I mean expectorate--and if it gets hot you may perspire, but don't dare sweat.

Put down that Right Guard, Rocky, and get a whiff of this Jean Nate' body slop. Woo, woo.

Vitalis may stamp out greasy kids but Helene Curtis spray net is the coming thing in athletic endorsements.

I tell ya', the sports world is getting so sugary 'n' spicy that if a ref blows a whistle nowadays he's liable to get his fresh face slapped.

They Even Played With Dolls

If you think I'm exaggerating, consider that Marin County's two most honored athletes of the past five months wear Mary Janes, developed some of their coordination in the violent sport of hop scotch, played with dolls not too long ago, have high-pitched voices, say "how DARLING" at the sight of a new outfit, notice boys, probably (and typically) complain they don't have a THING to wear and can go to a beauty parlor instead of a court of law to get stylishly coiffed. Also, you can call them sissies without getting a knuckle sandwich.

And besides that, they're cute, long hair and all.

Um,hm, our mighty champions are c u p c a k e s! F l o w e r s! Twists 'n' Twirls! Get it, man, they're GIRLS!

To further antagonize those of you who insist that sports is a man's world is the fact that Juli Marie McKinstry and Sharon Walsh, both of San Rafael, are just on the threshold of bigger and better accomplishments. You'll be reading of their accomplishments for some time. Squirm, you brutes.

Could Be International Champ

Juli, who earlier this month won a United States figure skating crown, is only 13 and has been labelled by many experts as a potential international champ.

Sharon, who will turn 18 Feb. 24, won her first national tennis championship last August and is approaching her peak. She'll be in the news all summer.

Each girl has benefitted from a certain amount of natural talent, but both have combined it with excellent coaching and Spartanic dedication, the key ingredients to athletic success.

Unless our male athletes get off their rusty cans and start flexing those muscles, we're going to have to start bordering our sports pages in lace and using nothing but italic type.

Either that, or give our national champs some new nicknames.

Folks, meet Rocky McKinstry and Spike Walsh.

Boxers Vie In Russia

Two Hamilton Air Force Base boxers, airmen first class Juan Ruiz and Jesse Valdez, are members of the National Amateur Athletic Union boxing team that is competing in Russia this week by virtue of winning their elimination bouts recently in Trenton, N.J.

In the eliminations, Ruiz, a lightweight, decisioned N e w York City,s Ed Santora, and Valdez, a light middleweight, middleweight, decisioned t h e Marines' Larry Carlisle, who was last year's national AAU champion in that class.

The AAU team will compete twice in Russia, in contests which will be rematches of the U.S.-Russia match held last Oct. 25 in Las Vegas, Nev. The Russians won that contest, 6-5. The team boxed in Moscow Wednesday and will compete again in Leningrad tomorrow.

Ruiz was the national AAU lightweight champion last year and was the inter-service champion. As a member of the U.S. team which competed against the Russians in Las Vegas, he defeated his Russian opponent.

Valdez was last year's inter-s e r v i c e light middleweight chamption and is a former AAU champion.

G.G. Fields Has New Official

ALBANY (UPI)— Golden Gate Fields, left in managerial confusion the past several weeks, has made another attempt to stabilize its administration as an 80-day thoroughbred meeting nears.

Donald A. Voorhees Thursday was named general manager of the Pacific Racing Association and Tanforan Racing Association. He becomes the third general manager of Golden Gate Fields in the past week.

IMMEDIATELY

The presidents of the two companies say Voorhees will assume responsibility immediately and will oversee preparations for the Feb. 24 thoroughbred meeting at the Albany track.

Voorhees replaces Philip J. Dunn, who was named to the top operational post for the two Northern California associations last October. But Dunn resigned several days ago and Bob Gunderson has filled in the last few days as interim general manager.

Gunderson, who is vice president and general manager of the California Jockey Club which operates Bay Meadows, will serve Voorhees in an advisory capacity.

NEGOTIATIONS

It is Gunderson who has been handling the bulk of negotiations with the Horsemen's Benevolent Association. The horsemen are demanding t wo maiden races daily at Golden gate Fields, plus an increase in the pari-mutuel "take-out."

"We hope we have resolved the situation," said Gunderson, "but it will be up to the horsemen association's members to ratify any agreement."

Voorhees steps into the Golden Gate Fields picture after 12 years with the Hollywood Park Turf Club. He is 49.

Pocket Billiards Showdown Looms

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Richie Florence, Torrance, Calif., and Luther Lassiter, Elizabeth City, N.C., edged closer to a showdown as they scored victories Thursday in the World Pocket Billiards Championships.

Florence defeated Jimmy Moore, Albuquerque, N.M. 15-50, to climb to a 7-1 mark in the 23-day, $19,500 tournament, right behind leader Irving Crane, Rochester, N.Y., undefeated with a 7-0 record.

Former champion Lassiter came from far behind, overcoming an 81-4 deficit to whip Johnny Ervolino.

Laver Tops The Indoor Tennis Card

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Stan Smith, winner of the National Indoor title in Salisbury last year, has been seeded No. 1 among domestic players for the first U.S. National Indoor Open Tennis Championships.

Rod Laver of Australia, who won $121,000 as a pro last year, is seeded first among the foreign entries in the $50,000 tournament which gets under way Sunday.

A 48-man draw which includes 12 national champions, the top 10 ranking U.S. players and 11 pros will be battling for a top singles prize of $7,200. The winning doubles team will split a $2,000 prize.

Laver, a 31-year-old left-hander, is the top-ranked player in the world following his grand slam last year by winning open titles at Wimbledon, and the U.S., Australian and French championships.

Tony Roche, a fellow Aussie, is seeded second, followed by Tom Okker of the Netherlands and Roy Emerson of Australia.

Behind Smith in the domestic seedings are Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Texas, Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Clark Graebner of New York.

Seals Vs. Eastern Leaders

OAKLAND (AP) — The New York Rangers, nursing a slim lead in the National Hockey League's East Division, try to extend a pair of five-game winning streaks when they visit the Oakland Seals tonight, at 8 o'clock in the Oakland Arena.

The Rangers, who lead the Boston Bruins by two points, have beaten the Seals in their previous five meetings this season, most recently taking a 2-1 victory here two weeks ago. New York has also won its past five games.

The Seals, who won the opener of a five-game home stand 2-1 over the Minnesota North Stars Wednesday night, opened up a little breathing room in their drive for a West Division post-season playoff spot.

Oakland is now in fourth place, three points ahead of the fifth-place North Stars and four points behind the Philadelphia Flyers.

Oakland expects to have young goalie Gary Smith back in the nets tonight. A virus infection kept him out of the Minnesota game. Veteran Charlie Hodge substituted in the Seals' goal and came up with a fine performance.

Talking Is Over For Ellis

NEW YORK (AP) — The talking is over for Jimmy Ellis, the easy-going World Boxing Association champion. He wants action.

And action is what he'll get Monday night in Madison Square Garden when he meets Joe Frazier, champion of six states including New York, in a scheduled 15-round fight for the undisputed heavyweight title.

'IT'S HERE'

"I'm tired of talking about the fight," Ellis said Thursday before completing his sparring. "It's here. He (Frazier) is talking. He better save his wind."

Frazier, a puncher who applies pressure by constantly moving in, said earlier in the week.

"I don't think Ellis can move away from me as fast as I can move in on him."

"We'll see about that Monday night," said Ellis. "How fast he can go, how fast he can come—we'll see. He talked about me running out. I'll be there Monday night.

If anything has annoyed Ellis, it has been Frazier's charges that Ellis, until now, has been ducking a fight with him.

NOT CHANCE

"I think about what he's said, about how he tried to put me down," said Ellis. "I'm here to bring myself up."

Ellis and his manager, Angelo Dundee, are leaving nothing to chance.

Ellis went to see the New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association play in the Garden Wednesday night.

He went to relax, but there was another reason.

"He went to there to get the feel of the crowd," said Dundee. Since his last fight—a 15-round victory over Floyd Patterson Sept. 14, 1968—Ellis has done all of his boxing in the gym, three planned fights never coming off.

Dundee said they left the game before the start of an overtime period so they could avoid the crush of the crowd, something they would welcome Monday night.

'NO SIR'

"No sir," said Dundee, "they can step all over us after he flattens the guy."

Frazier worked out first Thursday, boxing two rounds with Billy "Moleman" Williams. Then, Ellis took over for what Dundee said was his final four rounds of sparring—two each against Joe "Shotgun" Shelton and Stanford Harris.

TUCSON OPEN

Putter's Course, Say The Leaders

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "It's a putters course," said Lee Trevino.

"It's a putter's course, definitely," said Bob Murphy.

And Billy Casper, considered by many to be the putter of them all, was just one stroke back of the leading Trevino and Murphy going into today's second round of the $100,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

Murphy and Trevino matched six under par 66's—Trevino with a double bogey six on the last hole—Thursday on the flat, wide open Tucson National Golf Club course, a 7,205-yard layout.

ONE STROKE BACK

The steady Casper and Dudley Wysong, an 8-year tour veteran who hasn't won in four years, were just one stroke back at 67.

The group of eight at 68 included 49-year-old Julius Boros, Mason Rudolph, Tom Shaw, and J.C. Snead, nephew of Sam Snead.

Frank Beard, last year's leading money winner, was in a large group at 69 and U.S. Open title holder Orville Moody had a par 72 in the near perfect golfing conditions—warm, sunny weather with virtually no wind.

Casper, one of only three men to reach $1 million in winnings and the winner of the Los Angeles Open earlier this year, loomed as a definite threat.

Both Murphy and Trevino said the flat course is made for the good putter.

"You can miss the fairways and still hit the green," Trevino said.

Trevino, who scored his last victory in this tournament, a year ago, was extremely annoyed with his double bogey on the final hole.

"It's as much my fault as it is my caddie's," he said. "Except one thing. I'm going to kill him."

COSTLY WAIT

He was eight-under-par when he stepped to the last tee. He had to wait a couple of minutes while "two ladies walked down the middle of the fairway. I guess they were out for their Sunday stroll. I waited because I didn't want to hit anyone. But if I knew I was going to take a six, I'd have hit them."

His caddy handed him a driver.

"I wasn't thinking," Trevino said. "The wait had broken my concentration. The caddy's supposed to think for me. He knows I'm charged up. He's been with me for two years. So he hands me a driver. I'm eight-under with out of bounds on one side and water on the other and I shouldn't have been playing for anything but a five and he hands me a driver."

Trevino promptly put the shot in the water.

Warriors Vs. Royals; Attles Joins Wounded

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors, whose player-coach has joined the rest of the wounded on the bench, face the Cincinnati Royals tonight at 8 o'clock in a National Basketball Association game in the Cow Palace.

Guard Al Attles, who replaced George Lee as coach recently and has done a good job directing the team from the floor, missed Wednesday night's 125-115 loss to the Los Angeles Lakers and is expected to be out of tonight's contest.

Attles suffered a bone chip in the little finger of his left hand against Atlanta Tuesday night. He hopes to be back in the lineup Saturday when the Warriors face the Rockets in San Diego.

Battling for the fourth and final post-season playoff spot in the Western Division, the Warriors have been getting good play lately from big men Jerry Lucas and Clyde Lee.

MARIN PREP NOTES

Wrestlers In Spotlight; Incredible Cage Contest

BY GARY TISCHLER

Even though the regular dual meet season is all over, Marin County Athletic League wrestling teams may have to do it all over again in some ways tomorrow.

That's when the league wrestling meet will be staged at Novato High School, with continuous mat action running from 10 a.m. through 6 p.m.

Novato High won the dual meet title for the fifth straight year, even though it did not have a team of the caliber of past years, and even though it got a stiff challenge from San Rafael, which is developing a fine program of its own.

The Hornets finished league competition with a 5-0 record. San Rafael was a clear-cut second at 4-1, followed by Terra Linda at 2-2-1, San Marin at 2-3, Redwood at 1-4 and Tamalpais at 0-4-1.

The top three finishers in each weight division in tomorrow's meet will advance to the North Coast Section Meet at Chabot College in Hayward the following Saturday.

The tourney title is expected to go to either San Rafael or Novato.

A FUNNY THING happened to already troubled San Rafael Military Academy Tuesday, although it must not have seemed too humorous to the Cadets. But their basketball game against East Bay power Emery of Emeryville certainly was worth noticing.

The cadets lost, 97-51, which is not all that terrible, but the first half was incredible.

In the first quarter, the Cadets wound up on the short end of an ugly stick, trailing 44-1, which is getting behind all right. The thing of it was, SRMA coach Jim LaDuke had planned on playing something of a slow-down game, but the Cadets threw the ball away 25 times in that first quarter to ruin the plan.

"Their coach was very gentlemanly about it," LaDuke said. "He pulled his starters after the first quarter, and they were shooting left handed part of the time and allowing us to run our patterns."

Although the Cadets had won no Bay Counties League games, they were still playing at a disadvantage, going without Tom Kewell and Kevin McCloskey, their top two scoreers. Kewell was taking an Air Force Academy test and MCloskey was ineligible for this game.

"We got only six shots in the first quarter," LaDuke said. "Actually, we didn't do too badly in the second half."

They did all right, getting 32 points in the third quarter after trailing 62-7 at the half. Guard Ken Goebel, in fact, led both teams in scoring with 28 points.

Actually, the Cadets could consider it a tiny moral victory. The first time they played Emery, which now has a 12-2 record, they lost 72-23.

LYNN PHILLIPS has been crowned Redwood High School's 1969-1970 Homecoming Queen to highlight Redwood's basketball spirit week. Her court consisted of princesses Cammy Curley, Peggy Johnson, Karen Haynes and Sharon Loeffler. The homecoming queen was elected by the student body while members of the varsity basketball team picked the princesses.

MIKE GRANDIN of Redwood garnered 28 points in the boys division of the California Nevada Interscholastic Ski Federation dual slalom meet.

Tahoe Truckee High School took first in both the girls and boys competition.

West-Baylor Punch Takes Care Of Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When Jerry West and Elgin Baylor are putting it all together, even Atlanta's tough Hawks can become clay pigeons for the Los Angeles Lakers.

West and Baylor clicked for a total of 74 points Thursday night, leading the Lakers to a 136-114 romp over Atlanta that left them just one-half game behind the Hawks in the National Basketball Association's Western Division race.

Chicago edged Phoenix 122-121 in the only othe game on the NBA schedule.

With West and Baylor scoring, rebounding and passing off in tandem, the Lakers shot to a five-point lead in a blistering 77-point first quarter. They increased the margin to 53-42 early in the second quarter and were in command the rest of the way.

West finished with 42 points and Baylor netted 32, one more than the Hawks' Walt Bellamy. West and Baylor each scored 43 points the night before in a 125-115 victory over San Francisco.

Coach Joe Mullaney of the Lakers explained, "The key to us beating Atlanta seems to be that (Lou) Hudson tears the rest of the NBA apart, scoring 30 or 40 points a game. But he can't be averaging more than 14 or 15 against us. Jerry (West) just plays very well against him."

Hudson was held to 11 points Thursday night.

Richie Guerin, the Hawks' coach, contended, "the Lakers have really surprised me. Their rookies are playing a lot more than usual because of the injuries on the club.

"And (Rick) Roberson and (Dick) Garrett are really coming through for them. This is a Balanced Club."

Napoles Is Favored To Retain His Title

LOS ANGELES—Boxer Ernie "Indian Red" Lopez has had 41 fights and lost only five since turning professional in 1964. He is now the No. 1 challenger for the world welterweight title and his most important match, of course, will be tomorrow night.

The 24-year-old contender ties into the champion, Jose "Mantequilla" Napoles of Mexico City, in 15 rounds or less at the Forum.

Napoles, 29, is a 4-1 favorite to retain his status as king of the 147-pounders. Promoter George Parnassus has guaranteed Napoles $100,000 and Lopez $40,000.

Napoles' record is 55-5-0 and he was stopped once on an eye cut he says came from a butt. He won the championship on a 13-round knockout at the Forum over Curtis Cokes last April 17.

Lopez has won 35 matches, lost five, drawn one and has stopped 18 opponents and has never been knocked out.

SAN DIEGO—Ollie Brown, San Diego's leading hitter last season with a .264 average including 20 home runs, signed his 1970 contract yesterday, the Padres announced. Catcher Bob Barton also came to terms after being acquired in a winter trade with San Francisco.

Football

RIVERSIDE—Head football coach Pete Kettela handed in his resignation at UC Riverside yesterday with a charge the university was giving top priority to basketball. Kettela, 31, quarterbacked the Highlanders 10 years ago and over the past five years and coached the team to a 23-19-2 record. UC Riverside had a 3-5-1 mark last season.

Auto Racing

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—Twenty-eight-year-old Benny Parsons of Detroit blitzed the 2.5-mile Daytona trioval course at 190.564 miles per hour yesterday to win the pole position for Sunday's seventh annual Auto Racing Club of America 500 race.

Golf

MARACAIBO, Venezuela—Art Wall, Jr., shot a six-under par 66 for the first-round lead in the Maracaibo Ford Open Golf Tournament.

Tennis

HOLLYWOOD, Fla.—Tony Roche defeated fellow Australian Fred Stolle, 6-4, 6-4, in the opening round of the Montgomery Ward Cup Tennis Tournament.

Bowling

KANSAS CITY—Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., rolled a six-game total of 1,307 to bring his 24-game score to 5,299 and a 25-pin lead in the Ebonite Open Bowling Tournament.

Stage Set For WCAC Showdown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The stage is set for Saturday night's showdown at San Jose Civic Auditiroum between West Coast Athletic Conference basketball co-leaders Santa Clara and University of Pacific.

Each team increased its WCAC mark to 6-1 and its overall record to 16-3 Thursday night as UOP defeated University of San Francisco 86-60 and Santa Clara held off last-place St. Mary's 89-71.

In another WCAC game, Loyola joined USF and Nevada Las Vegas in a three-way tie for second by beating Nevada Reno 99-83.

In tonight's only WCAC game, Pepperdine is at Las Vegas. In other contests Saturday, St. Mary's is at USF for an afternoon game, and Las Vegas goes to Loyola and Reno to Pepperdine for night games.

At Stockton, UOP's 6-foot-9 sophomore center, Jhn Gianelli, was the whole show against USF.

He scored 22 points, grabbed 15 rebounds, blocked 11 shots and held USF high scorer Pete Cross to 13 points. Johnny Burks led the losers with 16.

At Richmond, Santa Clara center Dennis Awtrey scored 20 and Jolly Spight scored 18. Four other Broncs hit double figures. Sam Hill and Chris Dayak scored 21 apiece for St. Mary's, which is 0-7 in the conference and 3-15 over-all.

Veteran Marin Golfer Scores His First Ace

Robert Pomeroy of Ross, retired construction company owner, shot his first hole-in-one of 36 years of golf Wednesday, on the 152-yard 11th hole at Meadow Club course near Fairfax.

Witnessing the seven-iron shot were John Hunter, George Steinert and Jim Bowler.

Coach Says Trojans Still In Pac-8 Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We still feel we can win it until we're mathematically eliminated," insists Southern California basketball coach Bob Boyd. The Trojan task of playing catch-up to UCLA in the Pacific-8 Conference gets underway tonight.

USC, facing Washington in the Sports Arena, will be out for more than a chance to hold on to second place. The hosts are looking for some good old-fashioned revenge.

"I just wonder if they'll be ready for us next time," Husky Coach Tex Winter grinned after his boys handed the Trojans a 77-72 double-overtime loss last Monday night in Seattle.

Over at Pauley Pavilion, of course, UCLA entertains high-spirited Washington State tonight and Coach John Wooden is already voicing concern about a possible psychological letdown by his unbeaten and No. 1 ranked Bruins.

If there's any Pac-8 for the Bruins have good reason to fear, it's WSU. The Cougars gave UCLA one of its biggest scares of the season last Monday night in Pullman before the Bruins calmed down and won 72-70.

In tonight's other games, California invades Oregon and Stanford storms Oregon State in a pair of battles over occupancy of the conference basement.

On Saturday, Washington visits UCLA in the regionally televised game of the week, Washington State travels crosstown to USC, Stanford journeys to Oregon and Cal heads for Oregon State. On Monday night Oregon visits Portland in a nonconference game.

Coach Asks For Suspensions

SEATTLE (UPI) — Eddie O'Brien, Seattle University Athletic director, today pondered a recommendation by basketball coach Bucky Buckwalter that three varsity players be suspended for the rest of the season.

The three, Tom Little, Sam Pierce and Don Edwards, walked off the floor Tuesday night at Portland in a game with Portland University with 9:27 left to play.

Buckwalter said the players were not given permission to leave the floor.

Seattle University, which won the Portland game 99-77 and has a season's record of 14-7, has four remaining games, all at home.

Santa Clara Five Tops St. Mary's

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Santa Clara wore down traditional rival St. Mary's Thursday night, emerging with an 89-71 West Coast Athletic Conference basketball victory.

Dennis Awtrey, with 20 points and 20 rebounds led the Bronco attack. Santa Clara had a 40-30 half-time lead and drew steadily away in the second half.

Sam Hill and Chris Dayak each scored 21 for the Gaels.

Santa Clara is tied with University of the Pacific for the conference lead, each with a 6-1 record. St. Mary's is last at 0-7.

Campaign For A Scale At Loch Lomond Harbor

Last week I told you about Frank Sue of Corte Madera taking a 71-inch sturgeon that looked to be about 100 pounds, but when he took it to a scale the darned thing only weighed 78 pounds. Everyone who saw the fish at Loch Lomond guessed the weight close to the 100-pound mark. I think Loch Lomond should put a scale in down there, don't you? One of the harbormasters there promised me that he would get a camera so that anyone could have his picture taken for just the cost of the film. Public relations-wise, a scale there would be a good move, too.

THE OTHER day, when the check was made on most of the bay boats fishing, one fellow who didn't have a license said that he wasn't fishing, but that he was just trying to drown a ghost shrimp! Well, this weekend, with those nice high outgoing tides starting about 8 a.m., it might be the time for you to try the same.

The sturgeon should be on the prowl and as the low tide approaches the fish will be in the deeper waters from the shell bank to the pumphouse off China Camp and down by the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge. I mentioned checking not one bass last Sunday for 125 persons; maybe the waters will warm up by the weekend and the bass will begin to hit.

JOE PEELAN, the Russian River fish and game warden, says the Russian should be right for this coming weekend unless the area gets some heavy rains. Quite a few steelhead have been noted jumping the Healdsburg Dam.

Both Walker Creek and Papermill should be fair for downstreamers, though the steelhead runs have not been heavy this year. Usually a few fresh-run fish are caught through February at these areas.

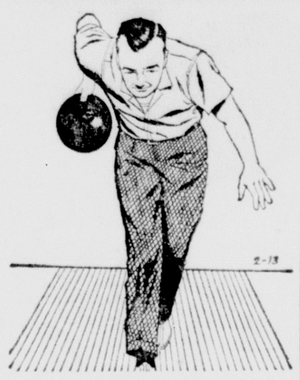
LAKE BERRYESSA is beginning to clear and fishing both for black bass and trout is on the upswing. Trollers for trout have been using quarter ounce Kastmasters and the bank fishermen are doing well on minnow and casting lures.

The bass anglers using Bomber lures, the Bayou Boogie and jigs have been taking fish in the weed beds fishing deep at the Vineyards.

A COOT depradation hunt will be conducted on the Gray Lodge State Wildlife area near Gridley on Feb. 21-22. No more than 350 hunters will be allowed at any one time, and permits will be issued on a first-come, first-served basis. There will be no limit on the number of coots that may be taken.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Does it seem to you that "the pros make it look so easy"? That is the impression many spectators have after watching a tournament session. They talk as though the stars have some secret that makes it simpler for them to blow the pins off the lane. If there is a secret the pros share, however, it is merely smoothness — the ability to deliver the ball with a minimum of effort.

THE SPORTING GENTRY

Gottlieb Still Rolls Strikes

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Paul Gottlieb of San Rafael will be 68 years young on Feb. 22, but that doesn't stop him from bowling better than a lot of guys half his age.

Perhaps the best bowler in Marin County in the 40's, Gottlieb, a bartender at Franchini's Chateau in San Rafael, still carries a 178 average and bowls in two leagues a week.

"I used to bowl in five leagues a week when I was young," Gottlieb said, "and I used to bowl for money in 'pot games' every night. Now I bowl just for fun."

It's a family game for the diminutive Gottlieb. He bowls Thursday nights in the 840 Scratch League at Nave Lanes, near Ignacio, with three of his grandsons, and bowls on Monday nights with a daughter in a mixed league at Country Club Bowl, San Rafael.

AUSTRIA TO MARIN

Born in Austria, he came to the United States with his parents as a child, the family settling in San Francisco. He moved to Marin Count yin 1940, and started bowling that year at the old Marin Bowl in San Rafael.

The first year of bowling, Gottlieb established a 166 average, then upped it to 180 the following year. During his prime, Paul carried a 204 average and once bowled in the San Francisco Brewers League. "That was the best league there ever was," he reflected.

Gottlieb was manager of the old Marin Bowl, located where Stan's Sports now stands, from 1946 to 1953. "I sure used to bowl a lot then," he said. "Zeno Gelatti was my doubles partner and we played pot games all over—here, Vallejo, Santa Rosa.

FRIENDLY GAMES

"In those days we had friendly pot games—$1 a man. "The kids today are all hungry. They want to play for $3, $5, sometimes even $50. That's too much."

Paul's bowling influence can be seen in his whole family. He has three daughters, one son, 12 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. "And they all bowl," he laughs. His wife of 45 years, Dorothy, is about the only one in the family who doesn't bowl. "She's never bowled," Gottlieb said. "She likes to go to Reno and play bingo."

Mrs. Gottlieb has been the cashier at the Rafael theater in San Rafael for 30 years.

VETERAN MIXOLOGIST

In his eighth year as bartender at the Chateau, Gottlieb previously was bartender at San Rafael Joe's for six years and at Pago Pago, also San Rafael, three years. He worked for the U.S. Post Office Department for 20 years in San Francisco before he moved to Marin County.

PAUL GOTTLIEB
Young Old Timer

He owned the Treasure Island Gift Shop in San Rafael from 1940 to 1947.

Comparing the operation of bowling houses today with his days as manager in the '40s, Gottlieb said the biggest problem he faced was keeping pin boys around. (For all you youngsters, there were "boys", some young, some old, who set up pins mannually before the advent of automatic pin-setters.)

SET PINS, TOO

"We'd open up at 10 in the morning and somebody would want to bowl but we couldn't come up with a pin-setter. I even had to set pins some days," he said. "Today the biggest problem for the bowling houses is that there's too many of them," he said pointing out the competitive element of the business.

When he started out in the bowling game, price of a line of bowling was 17 cents. "I watched it go to 22 cents a line, then 27, and now it's 65 cents."

What does Gottlieb think about retirment? "Oh, one of these days I will, and I'll just take it easy. But I'll keep on bowling."

Mets Vs. Yanks

NEW YORK (AP) — When the Yankees and Mets meet in the annual Mayor's Trophy game in Yankee stadium on Monday night, Aug. 17, the game will start at 7 o'clock. The chances are it will be a nine-inning game because the Yankees that night must catch a plane for a game the next day against the Minnesota Twins.

Today is Friday, Feb. 13, the 44th day of 1970 with 321 to follow.

The moon is in its first quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter and Mercury. The evening stars are Saturn, Mars and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1635 the Boston Latin School, oldest public educational institution in America, was founded.

In 1945 Russian troops took Budapest after 49 days of fighting in which more than 50,000 German soldiers were killed, another 133,000 captured.

In 1968 the United States sent 10,500 more troops to South Vietnam.

In 1969 National Guard troops used tear gas in student troubles at the University of Wisconsin, and other student demonstrators disrupted Duke University and the City College of New York.

A thought for the day; Shakespeare wrote, "Love sought is good, but unsought is better."

Indonesia Fights Health Problem

DJAJAPURA, Indonesian New Guinea (AP) — Indonesian West Irian is short of public health workers, but the government is under way with an unusual scheme to try to overcome it.

President Suharto, in instructions to his West Irian administration, has told them to concentrate on "improving the knowledge of the village medicine men" known as "Dukun."

They are traditional healers who usually double as sorcerers.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Relying On The Old Maxims May Cost The Game For You

The average bridge player is lazy, bless his heart. He has been taught a few maxims for defensive play, such as : "Second hand low, third hand high, fourth hand win the trick if you can." These maxims work for most hands, and when they don't work our hero doesn't notice it. Why should he furrow the old brow and scratch the old chin when he can get by on these moth-eaten rules?

Opening lead — ♠ Q

REFUSES TRICK

South refused the first trick but took the spade continuation in the dummy. Then he led the deuce of clubs from the dummy at the third trick.

East, an average bridge player, played the six of clubs. Naturally. If you told him he was making the wrong play, he would wonder which loony bin you had escaped from. But East's play allowed South to make his contract.

West could take the trick or refuse it, but he still had to win the first defensive club trick. And now he could knock out the ace of spades, but he could never regain the lead to run the spades.

MUST BE ENERGETIC

East must be energetic to defeat the contract. When the low club is led from dummy at the third trick, East must step up with the king of clubs.

This play is unlikely to cost anything since East's king of clubs will be worthless unless his partner has the ace or the queen. In this position, East's duty is to win the early defensive tricks in order to set up his partner's suit; and then his partner can win the later defensive tricks in order to run the long suit.

THIRD TRICK

When East wins the third trick with the king of clubs, he returns a spade to declarer's ace. Now West gets in with the ace of clubs in time to defeat the contract with the rest of the spades.

Remember to play "Second hand high" when your partner has led a long suit against notrump if you can help establish the suit at an early stage of the hand.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS

Golden West Financial To Acquire Fifth Firm

The Oakland-based Golden West Financial Corp., which has picked up no less than four savings and loan associations since February of last year, is about to acquire its fifth.

New proposed acquisition is Napa Savings and Loan Association for an undisclosed amount of Golden West common stock. Napa Savings, an 84-year old association, has assets of close to $40 million.

Redwood Empire Savings and Loan and Modesto Savings and Loan were merged into Golden West in December. Federal Home Loan Bank approval is expected this month on the acquisition of Tamalpais Savings and Loan in Corte Madera and Grove-Portola Savings and Loan.

When all five mergers are completed, Golden West Savings and Loan, subsidiary of Golden West Financial, will have 17 Northern California offices and assets of close to $300 million.

FRAZAR AND HANSEN, LTD., 135-year old San Francisco international trading firm, which had financial difficulties last year, has been purchased by American Venture Capital Corp. of Washington, D. C. The buyer acquired controlling interest in Frazar Hansen a few months ago.

UNITED FINANCIAL CORP. OF CALIFORNIA, Los Angeles has entered the computer software field through the formation of a new subsidiary, Decision Dynamics, Inc. This was made possible by United's recent merger of its two saving and loan companies into one. Federal law permits a holding company which owns one savings and loan association to diversify its activities.

LONGS DRUG STORES, INC. has announced 19-per cent increases in sales in both the fourth quarter of its fiscal year and for the fiscal year ended Jan. 31. Sales for the three months were $42.9 million. Sales for the 12 months were $144.3 million. During the past year four new stores were opened and one was closed.

ARDEN-MAYFAIR, INC. has reported net income of $2,198,000 or 56 cents per common share for the 53-week period ending Jan. 3. Sales for the 1969 year amounted to $588 million, compared to $568 in 1968. The company now operates 222 supermarkets.

HEUBLEIN, INC. made a formal proposal this week to acquire Liggett and Myers, Inc. on a share for share exchange of common stock, but was turned down. Merger talks have been going on for the past year.

Wall Street Slowly Sags

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mired in a bog of investor disinterest late this afternoon.

It showed a moderate loss by the averages in lackadaisical trading.

Wall Street analysts said the market was drifting lower in restrained selling and a lack of buying interest because of an absence of business and political developments.

A number of unusually large blocks crossed the ticker tape in late trading, including 207,600 shares of Federated Department Stores at 35½, off 2⅛; 131,600 shares of Masco at 37½, off 2⅛, and 101,000 shares of Russ Togs at 14, off ⅛.

Grumman Shares Hurt As U.S. Cuts Back Orders

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. All information about Gruman is good, but a year ago it sold at 45 and today it is 25. Is there anything you stock?—F.R.

A. Grumman, as well as other aerospace issues, is acutely sensitive to actual or anticipated cutbacks in military spending. In Grumman's case the scrapping of the Navy F-111 program was reflected in a steadily declining share price despite period-to-period increases registered in sales and earnings.

The Navy recently awarded a $110 million contract to Grumman to continue development on the F-14 carrier-based fighter plane which superseded the F-111. The A-6 program, which contributed $360 million to 1968 sales, is being gradually phased out and will contribute a substantially smaller per cent to 1970 sales.

Although commercial customers account for only 10 per cent-12 per cent of sales, the Gulfstream 11 executive jet should upgrade this end of Grumman's business. Development expenses on this craft—designed to sell at $2.5 to $3 million—have been largely written off. Earning contributions of around 50 cents a share could result from this program alone this year. Your continued patience with Grumman should ultimately be rewarded.

Q. I purchased Ivest Fund in 1968 for retirement in eight years. Have all funds done so badly?—M.E.

A. In 1969 Ivest suffered a 6.6 per cent drop in net asset value. The average decline for the 380 open-end mutual funds was -11.8 per cent. Ivest, a growth fund, did far better than the average for all growth funds which dropped 13.8 per cent. By retirement, Ivest should provide you an excellent income supplement.

Q. I plan to live on my savings of $3,700 for the next 10 months. Should I take $2,000 and speculate until I need the money in July or leave it in the bank at 4 per cent?—M.J.

A. Your funds will provide $86 weekly for 43 weeks. By speculating you risk losing part of your capital. Unless you want mighty slim pickings, I would choose the 4 per cent.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Interest Paid Is Deductible If Legitimate Debts Are Involved

Interest paid is deductible if you are legally liable for the debt. You cannot deduct interest you pay for another if you were not legally liable to pay.

Interest on personal things like your home, automobile, etc., is deductible only if you itemize your deductions on Schedule A of your tax return.

Interest on property you rent to others is deductible on Schedule E, partt II — rent and royalty income.

Interest paid in connection with your trade or business is deductible on Schedule C, line 21.

The interest is deductible depending on what you use the loan money for, not on the property which secures the loan. For instance, if your borrow money on your home and use it to improve a piece of rental property you own, you can deduct the interest on the rental schedule.

SELF-EMPLOYED

If you are self-employed and your business borrows money which you use for personal purposes, the interest is not deductible as a business expense on Schedule C, but only as a Schedule A deduction if you itemize.

Points you paid to get a VA or FHA loan are not interest and are not deductible. "Points" paid by the seller are not interest, but an expense of sale.

Points paid by a borrower, mortgagor, as compensation to a lender for use or forebearance of money is considered to be interest. Also, these points must be actually paid in order to be deductible. If they are deducted from the amount of the loan, then you must spread these over the life of the loan.

If you pay $1,000 in points to get a loan and the loan is for ten years, and if the $1,000 is deducted from the amount of the loan, then you can deduct only $100 per year over the ten year life of the loan.

BEST WAY

A better way is to pay these points separately. In other words, give a check to the lending agency in payment of these points in the year in which you make the loan, thus making it a payment in one year and deductible in one year.

Prepayment penalties, the extra amount you have to pay over the principal balance due when you pay off a mortgage or trust deed, is interest and is deductible.

Get IRS Publication 45, Income Tax Deduction for Interest Expense from the IRS.

When you buy property or educational services on the installment plan or use a deferred payment plan of an educational institution for educational services which are provided for a student and the interest is separately stated, you can deduct the interest in the year paid, no matter what the rate. If the extra charges for time buying are only identified as "carrying charges" and the interest cannot be determined, you can only deduct the lesser of 6 per cent of the average monthly unpaid balance of your account or the amount of the carrying charges allocable to the year.

FIGURING AVERAGE

To find your average unpaid balance, add the balance of your account at the end of each month in the year and divide by twelve. 6 per cent of this figure is your interest. To figure the carrying charges allocable to the year, divide the total carrying charges on the contract by the number of payments to be made.

This gives you a carrying charge per payment. Then multiply this by the number of payments you made in the year. This gives you your allocable carrying charges for the year. You can deduct only the smaller of the interest or the carrying charges.

L&M Turns Down A Merger Proposal

NEW YORK (UPI)—Liggett & Myers, Inc., said it had received a merger proposal from Heublein, Inc., of Hartford, Conn., importer and producer of liqueurs and cordials, but that the L. & M. regard such a merger as incompatible with its company goals.

L. & M. also said the Heublein proposal was not attractive financially.

Cybermetals Bought

BETHLEHEM, PA. (UPI)—Bethlehem Steel Corp. has bought Cybermetals Corp., a new firm organized to produce exotic high-performance metal specialties for the aerospace and nuclear equipment fields. Production has not yet started.

Fairfax Again Seeking More Money For Schools

Voters in Fairfax School District will decide next Tuesday whether that district shall be permitted to add $1 per $100 assessed valuation to its general purpose tax rate.

It is just about a year ago that Fairfax voters turned down a 95-cent increase for the school district.

The schools are still operating. Teachers got a salary schedule raise which represented roughly the increase in the cost of living. About the only change visible to most Fairfax residents is the lack of transportation for school children.

The board has promised to restore the transportation cuts if the new proposal passes. But it is thinking also of some things not so visible: school buildings deteriorating from lack of repairs, a school yard that remains a decidedly unattractive expanse of bare earth (and a mudhole in rainy weather) for lack of landscaping, need for another remedial reading teacher, etc.

IN SHORT, the need is greater now than it was a year ago.

Fairfax schools' expenses per pupil are among the lowest in the county. Its tax rate, if $1 were added, would be the highest of any elementary school district in the county—unless the Dixie district also raises its rate, as it is asking to do in an April election.

The reason for Fairfax's high school taxes to finance a relatively inexpensive school program is the same reason that prevails in the Dixie district: too low assessed valuation behind each child.

THE FAIRFAX trustees have not said they will add the whole $1 if it is approved — which could bring the district's total tax rate nearly to the $4 mark—but from the looks of the financial picture, it appears they may need to do so.

We take a rather dim view of school districts that spend lavishly on experimental programs, run up the cost per pupil, then run to the voters for more taxes. But this does not apply to the Fairfax district. It has guarded its money carefully. The trouble is, it just does not have enough to guard.

We hope the tax increase fares better at the polls next Tuesday than it did last year.

People Who Live In Glass Houses...

We are not enthusiastic over the qualifications of Judge G. Harrold Carswell to sit on the highest court in the land. But there is an ironic note to the opposition of George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, to Carswell's appointment.

Meany blasted the selection of Carswell as "a slap in the face to the nation's Negro citizens."

Just a week after Meany made this attack, the Equal Employment Opportunity Council made a report on Negro membership in AFL-CIO unions in the San Francisco Bay Area. It had made a survey covering 170,448 members of unions which refer workers to jobs in San Francisco, Marin, Alameda, San Mateo and Contra Costa counties. It found Negro membership restricted to those unions with lower status and lower pay—few Negro plumbers but many Negro laborers, few Negro bartenders but many Negro dishwashers, etc. It pointed out Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union as a notable exception to this pattern of discrimination.

A "slap in the face to the nation's Negro citizens"?

Republicans Not Unanimous For 'Tax Reform' Program

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) When the issue of tax withholding comes to a vote in the state Senate and Assembly, there is going to be some peculiar alignments on who is and is not in favor of further penalizing the taxpayers of California by seizing their money before it is due.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, who switched from being against withholding to "reluctantly" supporting it this year, does not by any means have unanimous support from his own party.

Nor does he have unanimous support among the Republicans for his entire so-called "tax reform" program, which includes withholding some Repbulicans, who have been around a long time and are particularly astute in tax matters, plan a "no" vote.

AMONG THESE is Sen. Clark Bradley, R-San Jose, who said if he had to vote immediately on the governor's tax plan, he would vote "no". Bradley, incidentally, is chairman of the state Senate Republican caucus, but he made it plain his attitude in no way connected with the thinking of the caucus.

In the first place, Bradley contends the group sponsoring withholding has violated one of the cardinal rules of politics, which is "don't bring up tax increases during an election year." This is an election year, with all assemblymen and 20 senators seeking election to office.

The possibility that many of them will be in trouble on a measure that raises the state income tax 25 per cent is such that virtually no candidate would want to be counted as supporting such an increase.

SO CONCERNED is Senator Bradley over the administration tax reform measure that he plans to introduce measures of his own as an alternative to the Reagan plan.

The senator says they will involve returning to the old exemptions in income taxes, and also cut the state sales tax.

He claims the governor's plan is not one which really does anything for the taxpayer.

When people speak of "tax reform," he says, they actually are speaking of "tax reduction," and there is no tax reduction in the governor's package.

THE CITIZENRY was disappointed with the "relief" voted in 1967, when the result was that home-owners were given a $70 refund and woke up to find their taxes for the ensuing year in almost every case would be increased by much more than the amount of the refund.

"It's getting to be a bottomless pit," Senator Bradley said, "with increases rather than relief."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Fishing Picture Example Of Disturbing Nature

Please refer to the photo by Alfred Arn in the Feb. 9 issue, entitled "Catching a Fish the Handy Way." This photo is proves the Journal is ignorant of the whole basic issue of conservation. That picture is appropriate to 1870 not 1970.

Those fish are undoubtedly spawning, an ancient and wonderous event absolutely necessary to the survival of that species. The boys stopped this; killed the fish apparently for the sheer joy of it since "his family doeen't intend to eat the fish."

These little boys are ignorant, too stupid to fully understand the great processes they help destroy. They cannot be expected to observe the spawning, try to understand it, and walk on, permitting it to continue. They are symbolic, perhaps, of many modern men too stupid to forgo killing.

But if little boys must sometimes act like little boys, it is quite inexcusable of YOU, Mr. Editor, not to realize that your photo did not show the victory of Man over Nature, nor an exciting, happy moment, but a small part of a great tragedy.

W. A. MUSSER
Mill Valley

I trust that your front page picture and caption of Feb. 9 doesn't bring so much eye-opening publicity that every 12-year-old in the block rushes down to San Anselmo Creek for a few spawning steelhead.

I'm all for fishing, but this type of conservation endorsement hardly seems appropriate, especially on the front page.

ANTON G. HOLTER

Another View Of Jewish 'Race'

I feel I should help Mr. (Arthur) Burton in his letter of Feb. 9 wherein he believes a Jewish person who renounces the Jewish religion should not be called a Jew. I would emphatically agree with Mr. Burton if being a Jew only meant that one embraced the Jewish religion. However Mr. Burton overlooks the rather obvious situation that, right or wrong, many people also identify a person as being a Jew or belonging to a certain race regardless of his religious affiliation.

In this light it is easy to see Vincent Hallinan (to use Burton's example) as not being Catholic, but difficult to say he is not Irish.

It is certainly not a "genetic myth" that the Jewish race exists. In common with other races there exist similarities of feature, culture, names, etc., much as is the case with the Irish, etc.

Furthermore I see no reason why one should be ashamed of being of the Jewish race. Certainly all of us in the western world owe a lot to the Jewish people, past and present.

The article about the boy catching the 21-inch trout is crumby because it's like inviting every kid to go down and catch a fish by hand, yet it's illegal to catch trout this time of year. You're always saying things about ecology in your paper. Trout are spawning this time of year and are protected by law. Dig!

JIM STILLIAN
San Anselmo.

I am writing regarding your Feb. 9 front page picture, "Catching Fish the Easy Way."

In the first place the fish was definitely not a rainbow trout but most certainly was a spawning steelhead. In the second place what was shown happening was highly illegal and very unsportsmanlike!

How could you possibly print this sort of story? The last line in the paragraph summed up the entire story as being highly graceless and I quote, "Scott said his family does not intend to eat the fish."

Why did he kill it?

Medical Society Adjusts Complaint

In January the Independent-Journal published a letter from Mr. Kenneth Wilson who expressed concern over the cost of medical care which he had received following a recent injury to his hand. Mr. Wilson also sent a copy of his letter to the Marin Medical Society.

The Marin Medical Society would like to emphasize that physicians welcome a candid discussion of their fees whenever a patient has a question about medical services.

In the event that a frank and open discussion between patient and physician does not result in mutual understanding, the Marin Medical Society stands prepared to act as an intermediary. This is done by bringing the matter before our public services committee, a group of physicians who review the facts of a particular case and decide whether the fee charged a patient is commensurate with the type and amount of medical care rendered.

In this instance Mr. Wilson was contacted by the Marin Medical Society in an effort to determine the basis for his dissatisfaction. Subsequently Mr. Wilson's physician discussed the issue with him, and a reduction in the fee was agreed upon.

This action should not imply that the Marin Medical Society determines what a physician is to charge for his services, nor should it suggest that patients need only to complain about their bills to have them reduced.

Rather it reflects our concern over the cost of medical services today, and represents our continuing effort to be of service to residents of Marin County who either misunderstand the nature and cost of medical services they receive or encounter difficulties in meeting their financial responsibility for such medical care.

Sincerely,
CHARLES D. DAILY, M.D.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

One day a widely-read Broadway columnist ran a blind item alleging that "a long-haired musical genius is shaking in his violin case wondering when the story will break involving him in a torrid romance with a well-known gangster's favorite moll." The next morning the barber shop near Carnegie Hall had to put on four extra barbers 'til the rush subsided.

A kind-hearted lady was touched by the sight of a beggar dragging himself along the ground, and pressed a dollar bill into his hand. "Cheer up." she advised. "Think how much worse it would be if your were blind." "You're certainly right," agreed the beggar. "When I was blind I always was getting counterfeit money!"

THE DRUMMONDS

Democrats Badly Disorganized; Vietnam Policy The Cause Of It

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON—At a recent breakfast talk-fest with Hubert Humphrey, the first question out of the box was: Why are the Democrats in such disarray?

"Oh, that's what you reporters are always writing," Humphrey, never at a loss for a few thousand words, retorted. "Disarray, disarray, disarray—it can't be that bad."

But soon Humphrey confirmed what he tried to disclaim.

THE DEMOCRATS could make a great comeback in the fall election, he said, "if they would heal old wounds, if they would cease internal bickering, if they would start campaigning for each other instead of against each other, if they would . . ." ecetra and so forth.

All of which shows that Democratic disarray is not a reporter's canard, especially when so deft a politician who can't keep from being candid denies it laughingly and confirms it seriously.

THE DEMOCRATS are in disarray at least in part because they face a difficult and delicate policy dilemma for which they have no ready answer, certainly no agreed answer. Consequently the leaders of the party are heading in all directions.

The dilemma:

1—The American people show they decisively support the course President Nixon is taking to get out of the war in Vietnam. The public is not seriously pressing him to do differently from what he is now doing and, if it does, he can move still faster. He has the initiative militarily and politically. The Vietnam issue is defused at least temporarily.

2—But it may not remain defused. The situation could change. A Vietnamization proceeds the South Vietnamese army could falter, the Saigon government could fail, and what is today a political asset to the Nixon administration could become a political liability. It may not happen before the congressional elections. It may not happen at all, but it can't be ruled out.

THE QUESTION which is rending the Democrats today is:

Whether to recognize the President has completely removed Vietnam as a political issue this year.

Or, whether to push the party ahead of Nixon on getting out of Vietnam by demanding precipitate withdrawal and generate public dissatisfaction with the President's course. Then be ready to capitalize on the possibility that Mr. Nixon's Vietnam program will fall apart, hoping the Democrats who have most opposed the President will be most favored at the polls.

AT THIS POINT leading Democrats are seeking to push their party into a position of demanding a faster and deadlined withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam with little consideration to helping the South Vietnamese get ready to take over the fighting.

The first public statement made by Sen. Fred Harris on resigning as chairman of the Democratic National Committee was to brand the Nixon troop withdrawals as a "hoax." He didn't explain why. He may figure that his only good chance of getting the 1972 presidential nomination is to become an all-out critic of the Nixon Vietnam plan so that, if it fails, he would be as strong a contender as Senator McGovern or McCarthy.

Another Democratic advocate of instant withdrawal, Sen. Richard Hughes of Iowa, is raising money to try to elect only those Democrats who share his views.

And Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith of Harvard, former head of the ADA, busily leads a group of Democrats out to defeat other Democrats, like Senators Henry Jackson of Washington and Gale McGee of Wyoming, because they have supported the defense of South Vietnam.

THE DEMOCRATIC Policy Council guideline on a troop withdrawal timetable is deliberately vague and ambiguous, enabling Democrats to take both sides of the issue.

What these Democrats fail to take account of is this:

If Nixon's Vietnam plan fails because he withdraws too fast, will the country reward the Democrats for pushing withdrawal even faster?

Nixon, The Cost-Cutter, Dooms Tea Taster Board

By LOUIS CASSELLS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Courage, citizens! You're going to have to struggle along without a Federal Board of Tea Tasters.

You must also contemplate a national future without the strong security shield hitherto provided by 15,000 paid members of the Coast Guard Select Reserve.

If you have slept well at night knowing that your government has stockpiled 5,000 tons of talc against any extreme national emergency, you will now have to give up that emotional crutch.

You may even have to do without a government-owned railroad in Alaska.

THESE DIMINUTIONS of the government's far-ranging provision for your welfare have been ordered by President Nixon as part of his campaign to cut federal spending on "outmoded or uneconomic programs."

So far, the President has fingered 57 such programs. By eliminating or drastically reducing them, he says, the government can save $2.2 billion a year.

The Tea Tasters Board, which has been in existence for more years than anyone here can recall, will surrender its functions to U.S. Food & Drug Administration operatives who inspect the rest of the nation's food supply. The taxpayers thereby will save $127,000 a year.

THE COAST GUARD Select Reserve will not necessarily be disbanded. Its members may, if they wish, continue patrolling rivers and harbors on weekends. But they will have to do it for love, because the government will no longer pay them $25 million a year in drill pay.

The Office of Emergency Preparedness has been taking a second look at some of the $7 billion worth of commodities that have been hoarded in its national stockpile of strategic materials.

It finds that the inventory includes about 20 times as much talc as this country conceivably would need for industrial purposes in case of a major war.

Also on hand are 5 million pounds of quartz crystals, or roughly 15 times as much as can be justified by the most liberal estimate of strategic requirements.

Altogether, the Office of Emergency Preparedness feels, feels, it can dispose of $750 million worth of stockpile materials this year, and perhaps another $2 billion worth in future years, without the slightest impairment of national security.

THE ALASKA Railroad, which runs from Seward to Fairbanks, is acknowledged to be a needed and valuable facility. But Nixon sees no reason why it should continue to be owned and operated by the federal government. So he wants to offer it for sale at $100 million.

"Government programs, once begun, tend to live on—sometimes long after their original reason for existence," Nixon said in his recent budget message to Congress.

The year is still young, but it's going to be hard to top that for Understatement of 1971.

People Win Over Things At Larkspur City Council

Society's stimulating debate over people vs. things reached the Larkspur City Council last week. And, we are pleased to report, the things lost in a 3-1 vote.

At issue was whether a home for young retarded children should be permitted in a single-family residential district in one of the city's older sections. No, said the community's old guard, quick to the defense of property values and hopeful of resurrecting Larkspur as it once was but surely will never be again. Yes, argued a group interested not in zealous protection of zoning laws but in helping a group of underprivileged persons gain exposure to community life.

Proponents were quick to add that the five women residing in the home could be trained for at least limited employment and that committment to an institution could blunt any motivation, perhaps permanently.

Aside from the fact that the issue ever reached this regrettable posture in the first place, what made the whole thing so depressing was the opponents' refusal to admit openly that what they really feared was, yes, fear itself, and that their concern was based not so much on the preservation of property values as on salvation of their "right" to live without interference from a group of "sick" people.

Yet William Conover, a leading proponent of the home, noted that the question of "why Larkspur?" had been raised at an earlier planning commission hearing on the matter and added: "What I have to say to that is, why the state? Why the world?"

OUT LATER this month will be a public services directory published by the City of Tiburon. Listed are emergency services and post office, library and transportation schedules; recreation, public works, banking, sanitation and refusal disposal services, and a guide to local, county and state governments.

The booklet also contains a city map, zoning tables, and text on variances, use permits and encroachment permits.

All the thing needs now is a list of the best bets at Bay Meadows.

MILL VALLEY'S Margaret Goodyear, who believes in a form of planned parenthood for cats, is asking that petitions being circulated toward creation of a special clinic be returned to her home at 28 Laverne Avenue by March 3.

She expects to submit the Petitions—at this writing said to contain more than 3,000 signatures—to the Marin County Board of Supervisors on March 17.

At the clinic, Mrs. Goodyear proposes, cats would be spayed for little or no fee.

Car's Plate Stolen

Georgia license plate 302 170 was stolen from the rear of a car owned by William A. Lang and parked in his apartment parking lot at 1000 C Street Tuesday between 6:30 and 10:30 p.m., San Rafael Police reported yesterday.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

McInnis Comment On Memorial Qualifies As An 'Unk-Unk'

Fusselman

When County Administrator Alan Bruce recommended that the Veterans' Memorial Auditorium be called "Marin Memorial," Supervisor Bud Baar wanted to know "why 'veterans' should be deleted if the original money was veterans' money?" The other voice of the duo who speak as one, John McInnis, purred, "This is a misconception. It is not veterans money; it is the money of the general taxpayers of Marin.

Last Friday I commented, "The throne has missed the point," and said I would explain how, this week.

WELL, IN THE I-J's Wednesday issue is the pat description of his purring remark. It's an "Unk-Unk", which is interpreted—"Unk-Unks are those things we don't even know we don't know, but which must eventually be resolved into knowns."

Here is the story of the veterans' money. But before I start, I think this telephone conversation should be related. Last Friday before the paper was out, my phone rang and a lady said, "Mr. Fusselman, you don't know me from Adam. I live in San Rafael, but I want to talk with you about something that happened at the supervisors' meeting on Tuesday. Are they ashamed to have the name 'veterans' on that building?

"My husband was in World War I—my oldest son in World War II—another in the Korean thing and now one in Viet Nam.

"I have a friend who has lost the men in her family. Now just what is the matter with those two men?" Then she started to cry quietly. I echo, "Just what is the matter with those two men, Bruce and McInnis?"

JIM KEHOE and I had lunch together one day during the latter part of World War II and agreed that the county should create a veterans' fund to try to show the boys when they came home our deep appreciation for the sacrifices that had been made.

We wanted the money to be there for them to indicate the manner in which it should be used as a veterans' memorial. Each year we put in two cents or more from the tax rate. It was labeled "veterans' memorial fund." The people—the "general taxpayers of Marin" to use McInnis's phrase, approved. It was a commitment of theirs and the board's.

Once there was an attempt to grab it to be used on what is now known as Brasilia. This was beaten down by the "general taxpayers of Marin."

LATER, AFTER a bond issue failed to carry to make the hospital out at the county farm in Lucas Valley safe and to build the needed construction on the juvenile hall out there, I asked Doc Duhamel, the county veterans service officer, to arrange a schedule for me to go to each veteran's post in the county and ask for approval of a temporary loan from the fund to take care of the needs at juvenile hall — something like $300,000. They all said yes. Year by year the money was paid back into the fund, together with interest it would have earned in the bank.

Now, Mr. Man with the gavel, what do you plead? Are you an Unk-Unkster or not? Never mind. You don't need to answer.

Bay To Host Session On Dreaded Disease

By STEVE TOOMAJIAN

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Leprosy, a disease shrouded for centuries in supersition, is so rare in the United States that most people have never known anyone who has it.

But at least 15 million cases exist in the rest of the world, complicated by the lack of preventive drugs and the necessity for repeated treatment to attain a cure.

Modern science is making progress toward the goal not only of eradicating leprosy, however, but the myths that go with it.

WORLD DAY SET

Next Monday, some of the world's leading authorities will get together to compare findings at an observance of World Leprosy Day at the San Francisco U.S. public Health Service Hospital.

In America, where there only about 3,000 cases, many people think leprosy is of unknown origin. It is believed curable only through a miracle, and those who have the disease are pictured as outcasts capable of instigating an epidemic by their mere presence.

Dr. Paul Fasal of the San Francisco hospital is an internationally known authority on the disease.

"This idea that persons with leprosy are covered from head to foot with ugly skin irritations is quite exaggerated," says Dr. Fasal. "There are a few cases like that, but the disease manifests itself usually in isolated areas. Sometimes, it is so inconspicuous that a person can have it for years without realizing it."

Dr. Fasal, 65, treated skin diseases in Malaya, Japan, Samoa and Mexico following medical training at the University of Vienna.

For the past 10 years he has directed a leprosy clinic in San Francisco.

Despite the scarcity of leprosy in the United States, it is here that the crucial research against the disease is being conducted.

RESEARCH GAIN

"It was Dr. Charles Shepard of Atlanta who revolutionized our knowledge of the disease," says Dr. Fasal. "He was able to obtain the multiplication of the lepor bacillus in the foot pads of mice. His achievement has enabled us to experiment with the disease, since we haven't been able to isolate it in a test tube as with other diseases.

"We now know that after three months of treatment, the bacilla are almost killed. This means that a patient can return to his family after three months without fear of contaminating them, and he can still receive regular treatment for his condition."

Such work has hastened the development of drugs to cure leprosy, but the disease persists because no preventive has yet been found. Underdevelopd nations with unhealthy living conditions are especially liable to widespread occurrence of the disease.

The American Leprosy Missions, the Leonard Wood Memorial, the Damien-Dutton Society, UNISEF and the World Health Organization are among the voluntary and government organizations trying to stamp out the disease in Africa, India and other nations.

But the necessity for repeated treatment makes the mere logistics of cure almost overwhelming. And then there's that problem of recognizing a disease which can take so many forms.

TOUCH IS CLUE

"Leprosy affects skin sensitivity," says Dr. Fasal. "Sometimes it manifests itself on the outside of a person's skin. But often the disease will not be manifested in a visual way.

"There might be a spot on a person's back that is insensitive to touch. He may never notice this, until the disease has advanced through time and spread a little farther through his body. It's an elusive disease —a great imitator."

Dr. Fasal and Dr. Shepard hope someday to find a preventive drug and a sure procedure of diagnosis for the disease. In the meantime, they will continue their effort to aid the millions worldwide who are affected by leprosy. Eventually, they may be able to bring the "great imitator" from behind its many masks.

Look Repeats Try To Kill Lawsuit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Look Magazine has again asked Federal Judge Bruce R. Thompson to dismiss Mayor Joseph Alioto's $12.5 million libel suit against the magazine for an article linking him with the Mafia.

Charles W. Kenady, attorney for Look, Wednesday mailed Judge Thompson a second memorandum in support of its motion to dismiss the suit on grounds it was not defamatory and therefore not libelous.

Thompson denied the dismissal motion during a hearing here last month, but gave Kenady 15 days to submit an additional brief and a request for permission to appeal the decision.

The lawyer's 20-page brief resubmitted the legal issue of defamation to the judge and asked for a summary judgment on grounds the article was not written in malice.

California's Lawmakers Get Varied Vote Grades

WASHINGTON (UPI)-California's two U. S. senators represented wide variances in the annual voting-record ratings of the conservative Americans for Constitutional Action.

Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., got a 73 per cent rating on backing legislation of which the ACA approves. Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., got a zero.

The ACA, issuing its annual S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, a 29 per cent rating, and Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, a 56 per cent rating.

The ACA, siuing its annual report card on Wednesday, complained that Republican members of Congress showed "a distinct drop" in their ratings during the first year of the Nixon administration.

The scores were based on 17 roll call votes on such issues as the nuclear proliferation treaty, the antiballistic missile system, funds for the War on Poverty, debt limit increase, federal salary raises and foreign and education subsidies.

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — A sassafras tree here reaches more than 100 feet in height, two to three times the average tree of its kind.

Education Board's Committees To Meet

The three standing committees of the Marin County Board of Education will meet jointly at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the county schools office to discuss the proposed regional occupational education program and a project on staff differentiation.

The committees will meet separately at 9 p.m. The administrative services committee will discuss budget revisions, educational services will consider appointments to the occupational education advisory council, and special services will consider the summer school calendar and the 1970-71 school calendar.

INVENTORY CLEARANCE SALE

THANK YOU SO MUCH!

We have never sold as much furniture as during the past two weeks.

WHY? Our selection of beautiful Danish furniture is the finest in the Bay Area. And our honest sale prices have been fantastic. Our store was packed with customers during the past 2 week-ends, and you actually had to wait your turn before a salesman could take your order. But everybody had fun, and we made a lot of happy customers. We sold fine furniture to hundreds of home-owners in Marin and San Francisco as well as nearly every other community in the greater Bay Area, from San Jose to Santa Rosa. We even sold furniture in our San Rafael store to be shipped to Reno, Chicago, Honolulu and other U.S. cities during these two weeks. If we must say so ourselves, this is a pretty good record.

We have nearly emptied our warehouse in order to restock the store for this coming week-end, and we also just received a new shipment that we will include in this sale at very low clearance prices.
